LITTLE-ROGERS.

The most brilliant social event of the winter, and the first to occur at the beginning of the Lenten season, in Muncy, was the marriage of Miss Mabel Rebecca Rogers, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rogers, of this place, to Mr. Harry Joseph Little, son of Hon. Robert R. Little, of Bloomsburg.

The wedding took place at high noon to-day (Wednesday) in the Baptist Church, before a large audience, invited guests, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, the Rev. D. L. Woods. The church was tastefully trimmed in green and white, which added to the brilliancy of the affair. At the appointed time, to the strains of a beautiful wedding march, played by Miss Caroline Lyon, the wedding party entered in the following order:

Ushers, Ralph Datesman, of West Milton; Rogers Edwards, William Marsh and Sifer Walls, of Lewisburg; bridesmaids, Misses Julia Ebert, Julia Beeber, of Williamsport; Margaret Stine, of Lewisburg, and Luna Bailey, of Wellsboro; maid of honor, Miss Lou Welliver, of Danville, followed by the flower girls Margaret Rogers, cousin of the bride, and Katharine Little, sister of the groom. The party marched up one aisle, while in the other the groom, attended by his best man, Mr. Clarence Rogers, brother of the bride, came up to the altar and met the bride, who was given to the groom by her father. The minister then in a few solemn words, as used in the ceremony of the Baptist Church, united the young and happy couple as man and wife. Miss Lyon rendered strains of music during the whole ceremony. It was a pretty wedding.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chene over white silk (en train) and wore a veil. The maid of honor and bridesmaids looked charming in white organdy, and carried bouquets of flowers. The groom, attendant and ushers, were dressed in the conventional black.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, South Main street, to which the wedding party, relatives and friends, were invited.

The happy couple received a large number of pretty, costly and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Little left this afternoon on a wedding trip, and will spend their honeymoon in the eastern cities. They will make their present home in Mexico, where Mr. Little has mining interests.—Muncy Democrat.

Death of John J. Wagonseller.

John J. Wagonseller died of Bright's disease at his home on East Main street, this town, Friday evening after an illness of several months. He was taken with the malady in the early part of November and though the nature of the attack was in a malignant form, his wife, immediate relatives and friends were hopeful for recovery. The disease in fact did yield to medical treatment and to such an extent that he was permitted to resume his position on the road as traveling salesman. He was again compelled to take his bed about two weeks ago and for four days he lingered between life and death, the end apparently, being imminent at any moment. Much to the gratification of those about him he rallied, but alas, only temporarily and as the midnight hour approached he sank to the sleep that knows no waking and his spirit took its flight to the unknown.

Mr. Wagonseller, since early life, has been a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church. He leaves a wife, three sisters and one brother. Two of his sisters, Mrs. Gearhart and Mrs. L. T. Sharpless, reside here.

Funeral services were conducted at his late home Sunday afternoon by Rev. W. M. Frysinger. The remains were taken to his former home in Selingsgrove on Monday for burial.

A Well Known Catawissa Resident Dead.

Adam Fetterolf died at his home in Catawissa early Wednesday morning, after a two-months' illness, aged eighty-three years. Mr. Fetterolf was a man of thrift and energy, and universally respected. The following children survive: Mrs. John Breisch, of Beaver Valley, Mrs. W. M. Heddens, of Danville, Mrs. Ezra Brown, of Nebraska, and Daniel, Michael and Jacob Fetterolf, of Catawissa.

The Bloomsburg Wheelmen will go to Scranton Saturday night to play basket ball.

During the two and one-half years of its existence this bank has acquired the patronage of a very large number of the best citizens of this town and county. We most thoroughly appreciate the confidence, goodwill and hearty support of the people, and promise our best efforts to merit the continuous and additional patronage of the public.

Tuesday's Result In Bloomsburg.

John R. Townsend Elected President of Council—Charles K. Taylor School Director.

Tuesday's election was not attended with any very great interest, save for the office of School Director. All three candidates for this position did considerable hustling, and it was a matter of conjecture, among even our expert political prognosticators, as to which two would land the victory. There was very little trading done, and a count of the ballot revealed the fact that two straight votes was the rule. The fight, it was thought existed between Kleim and Taylor, but instead it was between Brown and Kleim, as Taylor polled forty-two more votes than Brown. The size of Taylor's vote is a big surprise to even his friends.

For President of Council J. R. Townsend had a walk over. He carried every ward and has a majority over W. O. Holmes of 258. The vote of the town in full follows:

Hymeneal.

A notable event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Craig in Lairdsville, February 13, 1902, when their daughter, Jennie Craig, was united in marriage to Mr. Wellington Pursell, of Bloomsburg. Miss Margaret Keller, of Bloomsburg, was bridesmaid and Mr. Chas. Craig brother of the bride was groomsmen.

At the hour of twelve Miss Martz, of Hughesville, began the wedding march. Following the notes of the organ the bridal party entered the parlor and took their respective positions under a beautiful floral arch where Rev. H. C. Munro, of White Hall, pronounced them husband and wife. After the usual congratulations the large company was invited to the dining room to participate in a splendid dinner.

There were guests present from Lairdsville, Moreland, Hughesville, Washingtonville, Danville, Buckhorn and Bloomsburg.

The presents received by the bride were many and valuable and well chosen for utility. The bride is one of Lairdsville's most estimable young ladies. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

Mrs. George P. Ringler and Harry J. Achenbach carried off the honors of the Wheelmen's euchre Thursday night.

CAMP FIRE LARGELY ATTENDED.

The camp-fire held under the auspices of Ent Post 250 G. A. R. drew a tremendous crowd of people to the Court House Friday evening. There wasn't room to stand up, much less a place to sit down, and many people, unable to gain admittance turned around and went home. Capt. Jackson Post No. 159 of Berwick, together with the excellent Band of that place, and many visitors were present as was also Goodrich Post No. 172 of Danville and Lieutenant Hoagland Post of Catawissa. The presence of these out of town Posts pleased the local veterans and contributed in making the event the great success that it was.

Mayor Ikeler was on the program for an address of welcome, but was unable to be present, and Jas. C. Brown was persuaded to take his place. After a selection by the Berwick Band, Rev. G. H. Hemingway offered prayer, Harry S. Barton led a patriotic selection, and speeches were made by Rev. W. R. Whitney, Hon. R. R. Little. The audience joined in singing "Marching Through Georgia" after which able addresses on the goal of the order were delivered by State Department Commander Levi G. McCauley and Department Adjutant General John Holgate.

At the conclusion of the program the veterans, their wives and numerous friends adjourned to G. A. R. Hall, and partook of bean soup, sandwiches, coffee and other refreshments.

Public Sales.

Now is the time to fix a date for spring sales. Our sale posters are up-to-date and as cheap as can be found in the county. A free notice is given in the paper until day of sale in all cases when posters are printed at this office.
