Membership of Dawes Commission, Reduced by the House, Restored to Four-A Vote Tomorrow on the Oleomargarine Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 2.-Senator Stewart, chairman of the senate committee on Indian affairs, yesterday reported the Indian appropriation bill to the senate. As reported it carries a total appropriation of $9,415,339, a net Increase of $973,834 over the total as the bill passed the house. The increases are generally comparatively small. The largest item of increase is $130,000 on account of the Delaware Indians. Authority is given to use the trust funds of various tribes of Indians to the aggregate extent of $1,031,191 for the settlement of obligations and for other purposes.

The membership of the Dawes commission is restored to four in number. the house having reduced it to three, and an amendment is inserted making final the decisions of the commission as to all matters of appraisement and allotment of lands and also in all matters pertaining to the right of citizenship in any of the Five Civilized tribes. It is made unlawful for any person to lay out a tract of land in the Choctaw, Chickasaw, Creek or Cherokee Nation in Indian Territory except with the permission of the secretary of the interior prior to the delivery of a deed to him, the offense being made punishable by imprisonment. Authority is given the secretary of the interior to pay Cherokee Nation warrants amounting to $610,000.

There is incorporated in the bill authority to open to settlement the Uintan reservation in Utah, with the consent of a majority of the adult male Indians residing on the reservation. Eighty acres of irrigable land is to be first allotted to each Indian head of a family and forty acres to every other Indian. This authority is coupled with the condition that persons entering any of said land under the homestead law shall pay therefor at the rate of $1.25

An agreement was reached by the senate to vote on the pending oleomargarine bill before adjournment tomor-

Debate on the measure was continued throughout the day's session.

The house made rapid progress with the sundry civil appropriation bill, completing ninety-three of the 139 pages of the bill. Efforts to amend the bill were successfully resisted as a rule by Mr. Cannon, the chairman of the appropriations committee, who was personally in charge of the measure. The proceedings were without inci-

Reciprocity Bill Reported. WASHINGTON, April 1. - Chairman Payne has presented to the house the report of the ways and means committee on the Cuban reciprocity bill, which the committee by a vote of 12 to 5 ordered reported. The bill provides for a 20 per cent reciprocity treaty with Cuba, with only a slight amendment proposed by Representative Grosvenor requiring the enactment of the United States contract labor law as well as of our immigration law.

WASHINGTON, April 2.-Returns to the bureau of navigation show that during the first nine months of the current fiscal year, ended March 31, 1902, there were built in the United States and officially numbered 949 vessels of 245,068 gross tons. For the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year the figures were 753 vessels of 246,973 gross tons. These figures do not include canalboats and unrigged barges. The advanced construction of vessels launched or soon to be launched indicates that the total construction for the year will somewhat exceed that of the fiscal year 1901. Contracts for new work are, however, less than a year

Patrick Married In Jail. NEW YORK, March 31.-Albert T. Patrick, convicted last week of murder in the dirst degree for plotting the death of Millionare William Marsh Rice and now awaiting the death sentence, and Mrs. Addle M. Francis became husband and wife in the matron's room of the Tombs yesterday afternoon. A pen stroke did it despite all measures taken to prevent. The arrangements were so perfectly made, so secretly planned and so eleverly executed that not until the marriage was irrevocably complete were Patrick's guards in the Tombs prison cognizant of the fact.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, March 28, 1902. William Jennings Bryan, Lewis Nixon, leader of Tammany Hall, and Henry Watterson have all been in conference with the democrats in Congress during the past two weeks and as a result there is evident on all sides an almost buoyant confidence such as the democrats have not known for years. Just what Colonel Bryan said to his friends is not known, but a democratic senator who had a long conference with him, afterwards told me that he believed that the next democratic candidate for the Presidency would come from the East. "The largely increased production of gold in the United States," said my infor mant, "has served to accomplish to a large extent, what the democrats would have accomplished by free silver. It has reduced the gold dollar to something like its normal value. That being the case, there is no great demand for free silver and, as such legislation might have a disquieting effect on the financial interests of the country, it is not likely that the next democratic platform will contain any coinage plank. I regard Mr. Gorman as a very likely candidate but there is time for numerous "dark horses" to put in their appearance. It is too early to make predictions. One thing is certain, however, and that is that the democrats will have a majority in the next House."

While Mr. Nixon was in Washington the Southern democrats told him that they favored the candidacy of Mr. Gorman but, realizing the importance of New York, they were prepared to accept a candidate from that state provided all the New York democrats could unite on one man who would fill all the requirements, as a man of ability and probity, for the democratic standard bearer. The treasurership of the National Committee was offered to Mr. Nixon and he will probably accept. Mr. Ben Cable will probably be selected as Chairman of the executive committee, which will make its headquarters at Chicago and will manage the Western campaign and, as a member of Charles Woodward, whose execution Congress is desired as chairman of the National Committee, Mr. James talked of for that position.

> Mr. Watterson has made some brilliant addresses to the democrats, begging them to let bygones be bygones and unite for the coming struggle. Mr. Watterson believes that "anti-imperialism" should be the battle-cry but he uses the term in its broadest sense. The fact that this Congress has failed to do anything to curtail the power of the trusts, even along the lines recommended in the President's message, and that the most flagrant abuses of the tariff will remain uncorrected at the end of the session are regarded as certain to insure repudiation on the part of the people. Some of the best campaign material has come from the republicans toemselves, particularly as the result of the friction which the President's policy of reciprocity with Cuba has engendered.

A bill which is entirely in line with the republican policy has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Elkins and is now being considered by the Committee on Interstate Commerce with fair chances of being favorably reported. Ostensibly the bill has for its purpose the extension of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, but actually it gives to the railroads of the country the right to pool their rates and profits. This bill is in entire accord with the wishes of the great railroad magnates and will, if passed, render innocuous the provisions of the Sher-

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMUL-SION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking the bill is said to have been conceded measure will undoubtedly occupy its by Senators Frye and Hanna in return for support of the ship subsidy bill. The passage of both bills in es the Senate, will be provided for by a threat to hold up, or at least materially strip of its "pork," the River and Harbor bill, commonly known as bill, which will appropriate $20,000,ooo for public buildings which will be passed by the House in the near future. The Senators appreciate that the Representatives will have little ground on which to appeal to their constituents for reelection it neither of these bills passes and they believe that self interest will make the members support the subsidy and railroad

As soon as the bill for the protection of the President was passed by the Senate that body turned its attention to the anti-oleomargarine bill which is still the order of business and which will continue to be for the rest of the week, at least. Senator Money of Mississippi made a speech on the bill on Tuesday in which he characterized it as the most vicious type of class legislation and argued that if the oleomargarine industry is to be ruthlessly destroyed at the insti gation of its enemies no other industry is safe from similar attacks.

After passing the River and Harbor bill last Friday the House of Representatives devoted itself to the calendar until Tuesday when it took up the case of Rhea and Moss of Kentucky and by a majority of 10 votes unseated the former in favor of the latter. Mr. Rhea made a brilliant speech in favor of his contention and it was freely predicted that "his swan song would secure his election" in the next campaign by a majority which would be unquestionable.

Yesterday the House took up the
