NEW YORK, May 6 .- Archbishop Corrigan died at 11:20 o'clock last

The death of the archbishop came as a great surprise and shock to those in the archiepiscopal residence. It was more so to the general public, for the last bulletin of the day was that so certain were the physicians that an im-

The Most Rev. Michael Augustine Corrigan, D. D., was born at Newark, N. J., in 1840. His parents came from Leinster, Ireland. After having been graduated from the schools of his native place he was sent to St. Mary's college in Emmitsburg, Md.

After leaving St. Mary's In 1859, having made a brilliant record as a student, he went to Europe to take holy orders. In Rome he was one of the thirteen students who registered in the American college there when it was opened. He devoted two years to the preliminary studies of the college and then began the study of theology.

Although ordained a priest by Cardinal Patrizi in the Lateran basilica in 1863, he remained in the American college another year and won the degree of doctor of divinity. Dr. Corrigan then sailed for home and reported on his arrival to Bishop Bayley in Newark. who at once assigned him to the professorship of dogmatic theology and saered Scripture as well as to the directorship of Seton Hall college. Later the Rev. Father Corrigan became vice president of the college and when only twenty-eight years old became president of that institution.

When Bishop Bayley visited Rome in 1870. Dr. Corrigan became the administrator and vicar general of Newark. He was consecrated bishop by Cardinal McCloskey on May 4, 1873, and remained in charge of the diocese of Newark for seven years.

Owing to his successful administration of his diocese Dr. Corrigan was selected to be coadjutor of Cardinal McCloskey. On Oct. 1, 1880, he was raised to the archiepiscopal see of Petra and made coadjutor, with the right of succession. When Cardinal McCloskey died, Archbishop Corrigan succeeded to the see of New York

Fatal Railway Collision.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 5. Two were killed and forty-five injured, two probably fatally, in a bad head on collision between an emigrant train and a fast freight near Rockwood, on the Connellsville division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The two trains dashed toward each other on a straight stretch of track, and this fact alone averted what would have been the worst wreck in the history of the

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent,

Washington, May 4, 1902.

As all of the appropriation bills with the exception of the general deficiency bill which will not be reported until the last of the session have been reported, it is possible to make an approximate estimate of the total appropriations of the session and to a certain extent of this Congress. The general appropriation bills so far reported, some of them already laws, aggregate $658,851,208. This is without taking into account the$17,000,000 appropriated on Tuesday for public buildings and numerous other special appropriations. As it is estimated that the general deficiency bill will approximate several millions it is considered safe to predict that this will go down Congress," for it is safe to assume that the appropriations of the short session year. Should the Nicaraguan Canal bill become a law that would add In this connection, too, it is worth remembering that, by the repeal of the of the government have been curtailed by a sum estimated at $70,000,000. The greatest incentive to lavish expenditure at this session of Congress has been the apprehension on the part of the protectionists that a surplus in duction and their object has been to expend the surplus, irrespective of necessity in order to obviate any revision of the tariff schedules. Later they will advance, against the agitation for tariff revision, the argument that the revenues are no more than is needed for the expenses of the government and the unthinking element of the voters, without reflecting that as now framed the tariff laws are calculated to produce a maximum of protection and a minimum of income, will accept the specious reasoning of the republican leaders.

The methods employed to secure the passage of the Omnibus public building bill last week serve as an excellent example of the manner in which the dominant party effects its ends. This bill contained many appropriations for worthy objects and some long needed public buildings but it also contained provisions for others which were little short of "looting the Treasury." In order to secure the passage of the unworthy bills the repablicans consolidated all bills for public building into one measure. Op position to one would mean opposition to all. They went even farther and included in the bill a provision for some public improvement in almost every state in the Umon so that any Representative who voted against it would be voting against the wishes of his constituents. A special rule was adopted which made it impossible to amend by striking out any of the notoriously unworthy provisions and limited the debate to three hours, manifestly too short a time in which to consider a bill with objects so numerous and diverse. I cite this case merely as a sample of republican methods in the House.

Senators Carmack, Teller and Simmons have made speeches in the Senate analyzing republican policy in the Philippines and have, at times, almost provoked the republican side into replying but the famed republican discipline has prevailed and no speeches have been made on that side of the chamber. Senator Lodge has attempted to fix the hour for the vote and it is his desire to occupy the entire time from the conclusion of the last democratic speech until the vote, so that the democrats will have no time to reply. That the Senator will be able to accomplish this end is denied by Children's Fertilizer.

That's a good name for Scott's Emulsion. Children are like young plants. Some will grow in ordinary soil. Others need fertilizers.

The nature of some children prevents them from thriving on ordinary food Such children grow right if treated right.

All they need is a little fertilizer-a little extra richness. Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment.

Fertilizers make things grow. That's just what Scott's Emulsion does. It makes children grow in flesh, grow in strength, grow rich blood, grow in mind, grow happy. That's what we in the case of Cuban reciprocity on the floor of the Senate, but Senator Henry O. Havemeyer. It was with great reward. decided reluctance that the President of the Sugar Trust was summoned by in history as a billion and a half dollar the republicans as they are apprehensive of the nature of that gentleman's evidence. It will be rememwill at least equal those made this bered that when testifying before the Industrial Commission Mr. Havemeyer made the famous statement, "The $180,000,000 more to the aggregate. tariff is the mother of trusts," and the republican senators are very nervous for fear the sugar magnate may, anwar revenue taxes, the annual receipts nounce some further embarassing truths on this occasion.

Now that the final passing of the anti-oleomargarine bill has been accomplished the republicans in Congress, who were responsible for its the Treasury would lead to tariff re- enactment, are beginning to wonder if they have done wisely. The passage of the bill was immediately followed by the rise in the price of butter and that, taken in connection with the rise in the price of beef, is leading the consumers to ask most embarrassing questions. It is well keown that many of the Congressmen who voted for the anti-oleomargarine bill did so against l their best judgment and only because they feared the condemnation of the |8 farmer's vote, but the consumers are even more numerous than the farmers
