CENTENNIAL INTEREST GROWS.

H. V. White Esq., responded by referring to the fact that it is said that the stopping of the work of the industries, would cost the town from ten to twelve thousand dollars, but even if this were the case it will be a benefit to the industries and to every business in town, either directly or indirectly. If there is to be any criticism of the program let it be done now, or to the committee at any time. Don't go out on the street or in public places and find fault, but go to the committee and say what you have to say, and make your objections squarely to them. When the finance committee calls upon you, don't put them off, but be prepared to do your share at once.

The chair called on Rev. J. D. Smith who said he had been thinking of an extemporaneous speech for several days. He amused the audience by his humor and was frequently applauded, as were all the speakers, and closed with an earnest appeal for the success of the celebration, and paid a high tribute to Bloomsburg, and urged that a lasting monument be left to mark the first hundred years of our beautiful town.

J. C. Brown arrived late from a school meeting, and being called upon said that he was pleased with the attendance, and with the spirit with which the movement was being received. He could see now nothing but success, although some felt some misgivings at first because there seemed to be a lack of enthusiasm, but that fear had passed.

Dr. Welsh announced that an official envelope was being prepared, and every business man would be asked to use them.

After music by the band the meeting adjourned.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS.

Too Much for the Bankers and they go Under to the Tune of 28 to 18.

The "typos" and an aggregation of young men, known as the Bankers had a gala time on Normal Athletic Field Saturday afternoon. It was a wild, dazzling attempt at the great game of base ball, and maybe it wasn't a dandy. For one hour and forty-five minutes eighteen men jumped about, and furnished enough fun to stock a half dozen farce comedies. The teams lined up as follows:

- PRINTERS. Geisinger s s, Strohm c, Stookey c. f., Hagenbuch 3 b, Moore 1 b, Jones l. f., Kocher 2 b, Evans r. f., Tasker p. BANKERS. Achenbach 2 h, Ritchie c, Holmes s s, Edgar 3 b, Low c. f., Carpenter 1 b, Miller r. f., Hehl l. f., Broad p.

That's the way they started out. The wind up was a deirious dream, and entirely beyond the writer's ability to describe. The audience was not a large one, but we believe that every person who attended received their money's worth, in fun, beside having the satisfaction of knowing that their contribution will be devoted to the fund which will be used to properly celebrate Bloomsburg's one hundredth anniversary.

The Bankers started in as if they meant to wipe up the earth with their opponents, and scored five big runs. On a large and gorgeous error Achenbach managed to get to first. Ritchie saw something coming toward him which resembled a balloon and struck at it, when he recovered consciousness he discovered that he had made a base hit and Achenbach had scored. There was a bunch of frank errors, and Ritchie scored. This should have ended the scoring but Strohm positively refused to have anything to do with the third strike, and as a result every base was occupied by a banker. Here Strohm thought he saw a chance to catch a man and threw the ball. He intended to throw it to second base, but instead it went in the direction of the clouds, and before it returned two Bankers had scampered home. The other six innings were very similar to the first, only the Bankers were not quite so much in evidence. Before closing we wish to state that Hehl and Low, who were counted on to do the heavy "stick" work for the Bankers, both on two different occasions, smashed three large holes in the air, but did not touch the ball.

When the smoke of battle cleared away the Printers had 28 runs and the Bankers 18. As stated above the game was to raise money for the Centennial fund, and on Monday $21 was turned over for that purpose.

Cuyamaca Ranch and Mining Company,

OWNERS OF The Famous "Stonewall" Gold Mine

AND Cuyamaca Ranch, Containing 20,400 Acres.

Mineral Bearing, Agricultral and Timber Land. Situated in South West portion of San Diego County, California.

Company's Bankers in California, } San Francisco, San Francisco National Bank. Los Angeles, Broadway Bank and Trust Co.

Principal Eastern Office, Continental Trust Building, Baltimore, Md.

Reasons Why shares in the Cuyamaca Ranch and Mining Company may be expected to yield a greater profit than any other equally substantial investment now offered. The Company owns thousands of acres of mineral ground on the great Mother Lode of California, which has produced more gold in the past fifty-three years, since the discovery of gold in California, than any other gold bearing formation in the world has ever yielded. This great gold belt runs through the property of this Company for about twelve miles from North to South. It is doubtful if any other Company in the world owns gold bearing territory of equal extent and importance; that it is very rich seems to be proved by the fact that the only mine opened on this estate, the famous Stonewall, has yielded from the surface to a depth of six hundred (600) feet, probably over Two Millions of Dollars ($2,000,000), more than Nine Hundred Thousand ($900,000) Dollars of which was taken out during a period of three years and four months. This record has been verified by the books of the Bank, in San Francisco, to which the bullion was shipped, and by the United States Mint in San Francisco. We give below the detail of this very remarkable record, which, competent authorities state, might have been greatly exceeded by different management:

E. PACKHAM, JR., Esq. Treasurer Cuyamaca Ranch and Mining Co. 618 Continental Trust Building, Baltimore, Md.

Dear Sir:—Replying to your inquiry as to the output of bullion from Stonewall Mine, the books of the bank show that there was received the following amounts during the months and years stated, prior to the death of the late owner:

Table with columns for months (January-December) and years (1888, 1889, 1890, 1891) showing gold output in dollars.

Total for 3 years and 4 months $909,442 31

(Signed) JAMES K. WILSON Trustees for THE SATHER BANKING CO. (Now San Francisco National Bank.)

Mr. Wilson writes, under date of March 3rd, as follows: "Have spent several days with the people of the United States Mint here proving our figures, to which you wished me to affix my name.

"These figures are not only absolutely correct as verified by the United States Mint returns at San Francisco, but we can increase these figures previous to January, 1888, if you desire us to do so. In my researches at the Mint, between 1880 and 1885, I have already found $188,958.00; $20,466 output January, 1880, from a little ten stamp mill; February of that year $21,492.00; then in 1885 running but a little time only, $75,000.00 more was taken out. I have invited here the Statistician of the United States Mint, Mr. Yale, to look up further history. It seems that this Mr. Yale, as a young man, worked as an assayer at the mine away back in early days. From the croppings at that time he took away about one hundred pounds of very rich ore showing free gold largely (so he says), which he brought here to melt up and make a present to his wife.

"He has that ore now and I presume if the parties who are promoting the sale of this property wished it, it could be obtained at its value. It seems to me it would be a great thing to have it, because what I am saying to you is entirely reliable and authentic.

"You may think I have delayed, but you do not know the amount of effort I have put into this since the receipt of the draft which you wished me to sign, and herewith enclosed. I could not, nor would I, affix my signature until I knew these figures were exactly correct."

This mine has not been worked since the death of the late owner, as the insolvency of his estate caused prolonged litigation, from which the estate has been extricated and an absolutely perfect title vested in this Company, who will now proceed to work this mine, which is perfectly equipped with a 20-stamp mill in perfect working order, and all the necessary machinery for pumping, hoisting, etc., and will also begin immediately, and prosecute as rapidly as possible the exploration of all the gold mining portion of the estate, and to develop its other industries.

The value of the Company's ground, for gold mining, is also proven by the large number of mines, opened in the same formation, in the well-known mining districts of Banner and Julian to the North, and by the development of equally productive mines to the South of the Company's boundaries.

Accurate accounts of the details of the operations of the Stonewall mine and mill are not obtainable, but the record in the Bank shows that Six Hundred and Fifty seven Thousand, Sixty Dollars and Thirty six Cents ($657,060.36) of value in bullion was produced from January, 1888, to July, 1890, during which time only an old 10-stamp mill was in use. The full capacity of such a mill would be thirty (30) tons for each twenty-four (24) hours, and if worked continuously, during the time named, the amount of ore handled should have been about twenty-seven thousand (27,000) tons, thus showing an average value per ton for the ore of about Twenty-four Dollars (24). This is extraordinary, and perhaps unequalled, on a strictly free milling proposition. Nothing whatever was done with the tailings, under the old management.

Col. S. H. Lucas, our General Manager, states strongly his belief that he can so open up the Stonewall mine as to block out, during the next eighteen months, sufficient reserves of ore to enable him to work continuously a 40-stamp mill which would have a capacity of one hundred and twenty (120) tons per day, which, at the same average, as is shown in the past, would mean the production of Twenty-eight Hundred and Eighty Dollars ($2880) per day in gold. As the operation of a stamp mill is practically continuous, barring accident, it is safe to figure on three hundred and fifty (350) working days in the year; this would show a product of One Million and Eight Thousand Dollars ($1,008,000), equal to 17 per cent. per annum on the entire capital stock of the Company, from a single mine, out of the dozens that may be discovered on the property of this Company, to say nothing of its other great resources.

The complete Official Prospectus of this Company, handsomely illustrated, giving the Directors and containing full reports on all resources of the Company, and detailing its plans for development, is now in press, and will be furnished, on application, to those contemplating investment.
