DEATH IN AN INSTANT.

Myron Meyers, a young man, not out of his teens, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Meyers, of Lime Ridge, was killed almost instantly at the paint shops of the American Car and Foundry Company in Berwick Friday morning. Engaged in painting the trucks of a car, humming a popular air, without a moment's notice the switch engine moved down upon him. His body was caught beneath the wheels, and terribly mangled. His suffering was brief. He had no more than been removed from beneath the car, when death came. He was aged seventeen years and had been working for the Company only, a short time. The remains were removed to the home of his grief stricken parents. The funeral occurred Sunday.

Ordinance Repealed.

Berwick within ten days. This action is taken on the ground that the company did not accept the ordinance within ten days from its passage and that therefore it became null and void.

The company claims that they still had twenty days in which to accept, but it is not likely that they would have accepted as they claim the requirements of the ordinance were unreasonable, and would cost more than any trolley line could afford to spend.

The Selinsgrove reporter misrepresented things when he sent the score of a second game of base ball to the Philadelphia papers on Mon-day. Normal played but one game there on Saturday, and won it. Book of Vacation Stories-

Exceedingly bright and refreshing is a series of little stories entitled "The Experiences of Pa." appearing in a recent publication, issued by the Lackawanna Railroad. Pa is a dear old gentleman srom "Down East," who is taking his first vacation in forty years in visiting, with his wife, some of the early scenes of their courting days.

Perhaps one of the most interesting of Pa's experiences on this second trip is his thrilling ride in the cab of the each. great locomotive, which he graphically describes in his own inimitable way. Equally thrilling and no less interesting was an exciting ride which he took in wild haste, up hill and down dale, in an automobile, at Richfield Springs, watched by the loving but muchfrightened Ma.

Boat races of any description usually promise an element of pleasurable excitement not to be resisted, but the race up beautiful Lake Hopatcong between the trim electric launches and Pa's fearfully and wonderfully constructed craft, was a spectacle thrilling as it was unique.

The crowning chapter to the little romance of this interesting pair was the curious compact entered into between them while at Delaware Water Gap, the scene of their betrothal and marriage so many years before, that they should turn back the pages of forty years and become once again a pair of happy young lovers.

This charming little series of stories is embodied in an attractive book mer resort territory of the Lackawanna the trolley ordinance and notified the Lake Resorts" It may be had by company that they must remove their sending 5 cents, in stamps, to cover rails and poles from the streets of postage, to T.
