A Well Earned Victory.

The Normal team is deserving of much praise for the beautiful game they put up against Franklin and Marshall College Saturday afternoon. this season, was clean fielding and general team work so much in evidence. Had the fellow who originated this, the greatest of all outdoor sports been present Saturday afternoon, it is doubtful if he would have looked further for his ideal. The brilliant work was not confined to any one, two or three innings, but was kept up throughout the entire contest. When we say that Normal is entitled to great credir, we don't mean it for a disparaging remark, far from it. The work of the visitore was all that could be desired, but their hits were not quite so opportune as were those of Normal, and herein lies the story of nessed the Philadelphia Giants-Normal ball quite so opportune as were those of INFLAMMATION.

Eyestrain not only causes headache and tired eyes but it often causes inflammation. The lids become sore and irritated. The eye-balls look red and angry. If the morning the lids stick together and the eyes smart ard burn. Sometimes the irritation takes the form of styes. Quite often it is impossible to read a half hour with-out becoming drowsy. All of these symptoms can be relieved with glasses, unless they are allowed to go too far. You cannot afford to put it off a moment. They are Nature's warnings and Nature will not be tampered with.
