People sometimes dread to enter a bank, simply because they are not familiar with the customs of business.

This feeling quickly wears away with those who deal at this bank, at least we try to have it so: we want every customer to feel easy and at home.

D. G. HACKETT, Superintendent.

The writer overheard a foolish remark yesterday. A fellow asserted that he would be content to be an invalid if he had all the money he wanted. He places a low estimate on the greatest of all blessings—health. Health is certainly more valuable than money, because it is by health that money is procured. Thousands and millions are of small avail to alleviate the protracted tortures of gout, to repair the broken organs of sense, or resuscitate the powers of digestion. Poverty is indeed an evil from which we naturally fly, but let us not run from one enemy to another, nor take shelter in the arms of sickness.

TALK NO. 25. IT WOULDN'T PAY. Sometimes people say to me that they know I will tell them they need glasses whether they do or not. Putting aside all question of right and wrong, such a method of doing business would never pay me. I am permanently established in Bloomsburg. I am not here to-day and away to-morrow. The building up of an established practice is of more importance to me than the few extra sales I might make by dishonest practices. I have on my record the names of a number of people whose eyes I have tested and not sold them glasses. These people never paid me a cent for the information. They accepted my invitation to have their eyes examined and I was more than pleased to do it for them. I wish every person in this County would do the same thing. I want everyone to feel free to consult me about their eyes. I will make a careful examination and tell you just what you ought to do. If you don't need glasses I will tell you. Geo. W. Hess, OPTICIAN AND JEWELER, BLOOMSBURG, PENN'A.

If your Eyes trouble you in any way--consult me about them. I can help you if glasses are needed.
