The P. O. S. of A. made a very acceptable contribution to the Centennial fund on Saturday when they turned over $54.79, this amount being one-half of the net proceeds of their excursion and picnic to Nay Aug Park.

The local tennis club met defeat at Berwick on Saturday. Will Dentler of town put up a very close game, and won in singles over his opponent who, by the way is considered one of the very best players in this section.

The Reliance Fire company of Berwick will come to Bloomsburg in two special cars on the electric railway, Friday. The cars have been chartered and only members of the company will be permitted to ride on them.

Charles Witchezouiz, of Centralia, wanted for assault and battery with intent to kill, was arrested by Constable Quigley, on Tuesday and brought to Bloomsburg and placed in jail. He will also have to answer for desertion and non support of his wife and child.

Pickpockets are liable to be here this week. People should carry their purses in safe places. Hip pockets are easiest picked in a crowd, and an inside vest pocket is the safest. It is not wise to carry large sums of money on such occasions, only enough for expenses.

The Aid Society of the Evangelical church, of Bloomsburg, will have a Meal and Lunch Stand, also Cakes, Ice Cream, Baked Beans, Bananas, etc., on Market Square, near the First National Bank, where they will gladly serve the public during the time of the Centennial.

Isaiah Hagenbuch has returned home from a two week's trip to Rioarriba county, New Mexico, where he was looking after his mining interests. His grandson Robert Hagenbuch who has been there for a few months came home with him. Robert says he liked the west for awhile, but he grew tired of it and wanted to come home.

Weather prophets and people who make a practice of closely observing the habits of animals, say there is every indication that the coming winter will be a long and severe one. The winter, it is predicted, will begin a month earlier than usual and will continue longer than for many years past.

The best evidence that the Democratic party is the enemy of the trusts is that the trusts are bitterly opposed to Democratic politics. But on the other hand the best evidence that the Republican party is the friend of the trusts is that every time it needs a campaign fund the trusts are ready to shell out.

Don't go away and leave your doors unlocked during the centennial. An event of this kind brings together all classes of people and it will be well for everybody to exercise a little precaution. The tremendous crowds that will be here will make apprehension impossible after the thefts have been committed.

J. Henry Cochran, of Williamsport, H. E. Davis, of Sunbury, and William A. Marr, of Ashland, have been appointed by Hon. Robert E. Wright, of Allentown, who presided at the Democratic State Convention at Erie on June 25, as three members of the committee to officially notify candidates Pattison, Guthrie and Nolan of their nomination.

One of the chief attractions of the Centennial is the Historical Museum in the old Presbyterian church on Market street. There are hundreds of very interesting articles to be seen, all nicely arranged. A booth that we deem especially worthy of a visit is that of the Library Committee of the Civic Club. Here may be had souvenirs of various kinds, such as base balls, calendars, pocket books, all appropriately lettered and a very unique idea in the shape of paper knives made from the wood of Bloomsburg's oldest house.

The articles are sold at a small price and the proceeds given to the library fund. The booth is in charge of Miss Martina Robinson.

Notes From the Pennsylvania Experiment Station.

The Pennsylvania Experiment Station has recently received for examination a sample of cocoa hulls offered for sale as cattle food. This is the first appearance of this material in the Pennsylvania cattle-food markets that has come to the Station's attention. The husk makes up 12 to 20 per cent. of the entire bean, of which the United States imports over forty million pounds annually. These hulls are used to a considerable extent in preparing coatings of cheap confectionery, and for making a cheap drink. Their use as a cattle food has been little studied. The sample received had a chocolate brown color and the cocoa odor and flavor. It contained about 13.5 per cent. of protein, 3.5 per cent. of fat, 15.5 per cent. of fibre, and 51 per cent. of nitrogen-free extract. The protein sometimes exceeds this amount. Weigmann found it to be composed, to the extent of 75 to 80 per cent. of true albuminoids, though caffeine and theobromin, the alkaloids of the bean, are also present. The fat is quite digestible; Maercker found the protein digestible to the extent of 33 to fifty per cent., much less than in ordinary grains; the nitrogen-free extract is probably far less valuable than that of our starchy seeds. Albert fed cocoa hull to steers, in quantities increasing from one to twenty pounds, and found they soon were fond of it and that its feeding value was intermediate between that of a meadow hay and a wheat bran. It promises to be a desirable addition to our list of commercial feeding stuffs, though not of sufficiently high grade to warrant its purchase at a price. WM. FREAR.

The annual reports and quarterly bulletins of this station will be sent, free of charge, on application, and inquiries on agricultural subjects answered so far as possible.

TALK NO. 31.

THE REASON People ask me very often why it is that more glasses are worn now than formerly. There are several reasons. We are using our eyes much more than our forefathers did. We are doing office work on books, shop work in a bad light, type-writing, sewing and reading. While there used to be but one newspaper a week we now try to read four or five a day. The eyes are worked from early morning until late at night. Nature simply won't stand it and we have to wear glasses. Another reason is because we understand the eye better. We know how to relieve discomfort and suffering which a few years ago had to be endured. Thousands of people had sick headaches all their lives and knew no permanent remedy. Now more than six out of ten are cured with lenses. When we consider how slight a defect will throw the eyes out of adjustment it is a wonder that glasses are not worn even more than they are.

CHANGED CONDITIONS REQUIRE NEW METHODS.

The Hour Glass of our Great Grand-fathers did very well in those days, but times have changed. The successful men of today reckon time as money, a missed train or broken engagement means something lost.
