A GOOD MINSTREL SHOW.

Some Novel Acts Were Presented at the Normal Monday Evening.—Fun Pleading and Pervasive.

Nothing but words of praise are to be heard from those who attended the Normal Athletic Association's benefit minstrels in the Auditorium Monday evening. The program from the opening to the close was an excellent one, and has rarely been equalled, certainly never surpassed by amateurs in town. The affair was gotten up and presented in the delightful manner that is an unerring characteristic of the institution.

The first part of the program was good and embraced many pleasing features, among them being a bass solo "I've Waited Long for You," by Mr. Ruloff, a comic song "And They Gave Me a Medal for That" by Mr. Colley, a comic song "The Erring Boy's Past" by Mr. Cuff, a popular song "Under the Bamboo Tree" by Mr. Gross, and a coon song "Dark Brown Lou" by Mr. Marcy. The interrogations by the end men Colley, Marcy, Gross and Cuff were all timely and every one caught the audience. Dr. Aldinger acted as interlocutor, and did admirably.

In amateur minstrels the opening part is usually the strongest but it wasn't the case Monday night. The olio consisted of seven numbers and every one of them was fine.

Mr. Cuff executed a neat dance, and was tumultuously applauded. He is probably the best amateur dancer ever seen in Bloomsburg.

Mr. Marcy scored a hit in his monologue and frequently had to wait until the applause subsided. His make up too, that of a farmer, was very characteristic.

"Jockeying" participated in by eight couples, and led by Tommy Hayes, was the leading feature of the evening. It was a genuine novelty, and everybody was pleased with it. Attired, the ladies in derby hats, black coats and white skirts, and the gentlemen in jockey suits they made a striking appearance, and gave a spectacular display of the graces of motion. Prof. Jos. Dennis heightened the beauty of the scene with colored lights.

Alfred Armstrong delighted the audience with an exhibition of illuminated club swinging. Club swinging is not new by any means, but rarely indeed do we see a person so skilled and graceful as this young man.

"African Wanderings" by Messrs. Rooke and Ruloff, provoked laughter and applause, and they were compelled to respond to an encore.

"Psyche" by Normal girls, was another winning number, and the audience wanted more of it after it had been repeated.

The closing number of the program was "Home Sweet Home" by Mr. Colley, and a chorus. He enacted the part of a tramp. His unique ability and clever make up, added atmosphere to the song. As he sang the last line, a large American flag, suspended from the top was dropped down, which with the chorus of fifty people made a most magnificent stage setting, and a happy ending. A repetition was demanded, and Mr. Colley sang another verse with Dr. Aldinger as the topic, ending with "and any old game you put him at, is Home, Sweet Home to him."

D. J. Tasker sang two illustrated songs, "I will wed you in the Golden Summer time," and "Jennie Lee" in his usual good style, and was warmly applauded. Harry Achenbach worked the slides. Throughout the evening, the ever popular Normal School Orchestra rendered a fine musical program.

The accompanists for the oloists were Miss Edith Miller, Miss Delia Geisinger, Mrs. Frank Colley and Mrs. Prof. Sutliff.

The services in the M. E. Church next Sunday will be of extraordinary interest. Rev. F. D. Game-well, D. D., who planned the fortifications at Peking, China, during the recent Boxer rebellion will occupy the pulpit at both the morning and evening services. He will also talk to the Sunday School. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present at the services.

Squire Jacoby's office in the Wirt building was the scene of a wedding on Monday. The contracting parties were residents of Shenandoah, Samuel Rosen and Miss Mary Bender. The Squire in his characteristic sedateness pronounced the words and the couple departed in good spirits.

AN ORDINANCE NEEDED.

There is not much encouragement in this town for people who try to keep their premises in an attractive shape. On Market street where the gutter is thrown out some distance from the pavement, the residents have taken pains to sod this plot, and the street is thereby greatly beautified. But the conduct of many people who seem to be utterly regardless of the rights of others, is a source of great annoyance to many of the property owners. It is strange how many people there are whose time is so valuable that they can't spare enough of it to go around a corner on the pavement, but must cut the corner and go across the sod, thus killing the grass and making a bare spot where the lot owner has tried for years to get a good sod. It does no good to put up a sign "keep off the grass," for the lawless ones either will not see it, or if they do, they tear the sign down. It does no good to put up a railing to keep trespassers off the sod, for the rail only makes a convenient roost for the Saturday and Sunday night loafers who infest the street corners. On three corners of Market street railings of this kind have been pulled up and broken by the loafers.

Now, is it possible that the property owners have no rights in this matter? For years individuals have been trying to get the police to break up this corner loafing habit, especially on Sunday nights, but it has amounted to nothing. A policeman comes toward the crowd, and it disperses. The policeman disappears, and the gang is back again in less than five minutes.

What is needed is an ordinance prohibiting walking on lawns on either side of the pavement; prohibiting loafing on street corners, especially on Saturday and Sunday nights, and making a heavy penalty for these, and also for sitting on, or in any way interfering with any guard rail that has been placed for the purpose of protecting the sod. The enforcement of such an ordinance a few times, by making arrests and imposing the fines, would give protection against the intolerable abuses that now exist.

HARTMAN'S OPENING.

The opening of the new addition to R. E. Hartman's store will take place on Friday, November 28th. An orchestra will be in attendance and will furnish music from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 o'clock p. m. A general invitation is extended to all to visit the store and see the improvements.

Mr. Magee Injured.

On Sunday morning last as James Magee was alighting from the bus, at his home on First street, the horses started and threw him down, severely wrenching his knee, and otherwise bruising him. He was returning from a business trip, and had a bundle in one hand and a grip in the other. He is confined to his bed, with his leg in a plaster cast. Aside from the painful nature of the accident, it is a hardship for a man of so active and energetic a disposition as Mr. Magee to be housed for a couple of weeks at this busy time of the year, when the great industries that he has established here, with indomitable pluck and in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles, need his presence and supervision. He will be out, no doubt, as soon as his physician will permit him to venture on crutches.

An Interesting Case for Physicians.

Ernest Rupert, the 16 years old son of Barney Rupert, of Beech Creek, whose heart is on the right side instead of his left, is an interesting study for the physicians. Dr. S. J. McGhee made the discovery while examining the young man for a life insurance policy. The heart, lungs and liver are believed to be very close together. Notwithstanding this peculiarity of the young man's internal organs he enjoys good health and works every day at the Pennsylvania fire brick works. Very few cases of this kind have been reported.

You always find that the fellows who are continually finding fault with the prosperity of the country are too lazy to hunt a job.

An Elegant Overcoat

Every good dresser appreciates an elegant Overcoat. The Overcoat is always in evidence at this season of the year. You admire some Overcoats while you never have a second glance for others. The coats you do admire have a certain snap about them—they are swell, Swagger, smart. It's just such coats that we want to show you. They're here—some long, some medium length—all are elegant and artistic. Prices are not too high for elegance. Come, see at any rate.
