

AROUND THE CITY BY SMELL.

Advers Peculiar to Certain Sections Would Guide One Acquainted with New York.

"If you were to set me down in New York blindfolded I could give a pretty close guess as to my whereabouts by the smell of that particular locality," said a salesman in The Swamp, relates the New York Times.

LONG TROLLEY RIDES.

Trip of a New York Man from His City to Chicago Almost Altogether by the Electric Lines.

A glimpse of trolley car travel of the future is given in the recent experience of a New Yorker. He journeyed from New York to Chicago by trolley routes wherever it was available, and that means nearly the whole distance.

DUCK HUNTERS TANTALIZED.

Spot in Massachusetts Where the Fowl Swarm, Yet May Not Be Molested by Gunners.

Spot Pond, in the Middlesex Fells district, which lies between the towns of Melrose, Malden, Stoneham, Medford and Winchester, has become the Mecca of thousands of wild ducks, most of them of the black variety.

A COLOMBIAN EXACTION.

One Item of Extortion Which Alone Surpasses Anything in "Gall" the World Over.

A significant story of the conditions prevailing in the part of South America where revolutions are periodical is told by Peter MacQueen, the Boston traveler, whose wanderings are as wide as the hemisphere, says the New York Tribune.

THE CHANGED GRIZZLY.

Formerly Dreaded Animals Are No Longer as Fierce and Combative as They Once Were.

There are numerous reliable statements of grizzly bears having attacked man, but nowadays, says the "Grizzly Bear Lore," in Outing, the grizzly does not seek out his human victims, as there are credible statements that his forefathers used to do.

Japan's Big Wooden Statue.

The largest wooden statue in the world is to be seen in Tokio, Japan. It is 54 feet high and the head will hold 20 people.

SOME BIRD MIGRATIONS.

Instances of Prairie Chickens and Wild Turkeys Leaving Home for Strange Lands.

Game birds sometimes make extensive migrations, even though of a species not commonly migratory, states the New York Sun.

MOST VALUABLE GROUND.

City Lots in New York That Are Priced Higher Than Any Other in the World.

The highest priced land in the world is that bounded by Wall and Broad streets and Broadway, in lower New York city, says Success.

THE COWBOY TAUGHT HER.

Dashing Women Riders in the West Who Are at Home on the Bucking Bronchos.

It is from the cowboy that the western equestrienne has learned her most valuable lesson in riding. The cross-saddle and divided skirt have given her equal privileges, and she has not failed to take advantage of them.

A WORD WANTED.

One That Will Express the Ever-Increasing Class of Words Named After Individuals.

A writer in the Spectator is hunting for a word and asks the readers of the Spectator to assist him. The word desired is one that will express the ever-increasing class of words that are named after some individual, e. g., "hoycott," "macadamize," "dolly," "mackintosh," "gamp," "peeler," "Robert," "Bobby," "Whitehead" (for a torpedo), etc.

A Wireless Piano.

A citizen of Bloomington, Ill., has invented a wireless piano. He first constructed a five-octave comb-reed of steel, placed it upon a bridge and soundboard and by degrees discovered a way to make a very fine harp note. He has been working for 15 years on his invention.

West Branch Can Be Made Navigable.

If Congress Will See Its Way Clear to Give the Necessary Aid.

A recent decision of the United States supreme court, not yet published in the reports contains this paragraph: "Those rivers must be regarded as public navigable rivers in law which are navigable in fact, and they are navigable in fact when they are used, or are susceptible of being used, in their ordinary condition, as highways for commerce, over which trade and travel are or may be conducted in the customary modes of trade and travel on water."

Why Country Editors Get Rich.

The man who penned this current piece of history knows what he is talking about. The Monroa Index, says, truthfully: "After a great deal of study and worry we have at last figured out why many country editors get rich. Here is a secret of their success. A child is born in the neighborhood; the attending physician gets $10, and the editor gives the loud-lunged youngster and the happy parents a send-off and gets $0. It is christened and the minister gets $5 and the editor gets $50. It grows up and marries; the editor publishes another long-winded flowery article and tells a dozen lies about the 'beautiful and accomplished bride.' The minister gets $10 and a piece of cake, and the editor gets $500. In the course of time it dies and the doctor gets from $5 to $100, the minister gets another five, the undertaker gets from $50 to $100, the editor publishes notice of the death and an obituary two columns long, lodge and society resolutions, a lot of poetry and a free card of thanks, and gets $0,000. No wonder so many country editors get rich."
