

DEATH OF T. B. REED

Remains of Ex-Speaker Taken to Portland, Me. NO CEREMONIES IN WASHINGTON.

Dead Statesman's End Was Peaceful—Was Unconscious For Several Hours—Sketch of a Famous Career.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The house during the day paid a remarkable tribute to the memory of ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed. His death has created a profound impression, and there had been expressed a universal desire among the members that the house show a signal mark of respect to his memory.

THOMAS B. REED.

a master of logic, wit, satire, the most famous of the world's parliamentarians, the great and representative citizen of the American republic has gone into history.

The remains of Hon. Thomas B. Reed, formerly speaker of the house of representatives, who died early Sunday morning, were forwarded to Portland, Me., his former home, a few hours later.

Mr. Reed reached Washington a week ago Sunday, having come to attend to some matters in the United States supreme court. He was at the capitol last Monday visiting with friends and former associates in congress and witnessed the convening of the second session of the Fifty-seventh session.

Mr. Reed reached Washington a week ago Sunday, having come to attend to some matters in the United States supreme court. He was at the capitol last Monday visiting with friends and former associates in congress and witnessed the convening of the second session of the Fifty-seventh session.

The following day his physician compelled him to remain in bed while a diagnosis was made of his condition. Mr. Reed was strongly averse to staying in bed, but a rise in temperature made it imperative that he remain quiet.

Thomas Brackett Reed was sixty-three years old. He was born in Portland, Me., Oct. 18, 1839. His life may be briefly told in this chronological way: Graduated from Bowdoin college in 1860; joined the United States navy as acting paymaster in 1864; member of the lower house of the Maine legislature in 1868 and 1869; member of the Maine senate in 1870; attorney general of the state of Maine from 1870 to 1872; solicitor of the city of Portland, Me., from 1874 to 1877; representative in congress from Maine from 1877 to 1900, being first elected speaker in 1888; practiced law in New York up to the time of his death.

The early life of Reed was passed in most humble surroundings, for his father was as poor as the proverbial Job's turkey and worked for years as a watchman in Brown's sugar house. Being one of seven children, young Reed had to make his own path in the world. His birthplace is still standing in Portland, and just around the corner is the house in which Henry W. Long fellow first saw the light of day.

REED'S FUNERAL.

Remains of the Dead Statesman Laid at Rest at Portland.

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 9.—In the Unitarian church today occurred the funeral of Hon. Thomas B. Reed, an honored son of Maine, for twenty-two years one of her chosen representatives at Washington and for six years speaker of the national house of representatives.

This forenoon his old neighbors, who include every man, woman and child in the city of Portland, were permitted to gaze for the last time upon the face which to them was ever full of life and jollity, and in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the main body of the church, there assembled a distinguished gathering of statesmen from Washington, business men from New York, governors from other New England states and nearly every prominent citizen of the Pine Tree State to honor his memory. A few passages from the Bible were read, a brief but fervent prayer offered, a short eulogy delivered by the pastor, Rev. John Carroll Perkins, and then the body was quietly removed to the tomb at Evergreen cemetery. Such was the funeral of Speaker Reed—brief, unostentatious and in strict accordance with his own wishes.

The body of Mr. Reed arrived here from Washington in a special train shortly after noon yesterday, after a twenty hour journey from the nation's capital. It was accompanied by the widow, the daughter, Miss Catherine Reed; Colonel Augustus G. Payne of New York, C. D. Barrows and his sister, Miss Barrows; Congressman Amos L. Allen, Mr. Reed's immediate successor in the First district; Asher C. Hinds, his private secretary, and State Senator Mitchell of York county.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Great Britain and Germany have presented ultimatums to Venezuela, which will be followed up by the seizure of the customs unless a satisfactory settlement is forthcoming within a brief period. The ultimatums have a time limit, but the exact date cannot be ascertained here. The foreign office states with regard to the time limit:

"It is a reasonable time in which Venezuela can satisfy the injured governments. Both notes are practically identical, although the amounts of the claims differ. The notes merely reiterate the continued disregard by the Venezuelan government of all our representations, specify our claims and demand immediate action on the part of President Castro's government in connection therewith."

Both the British and the German legations have been closed.

RIVER CHANGES COURSE.

Bed of Missouri Moves Three Miles in a Day.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Dec. 8.—The Missouri river has played a huge joke on this city. On Thursday night it flowed at the doors of the town. The next night it suddenly changed its channel, and it is now three miles away.

The greater part of the big Burlington railroad bridge now spans dry land. The waterworks are left high and dry. The pumping station is without connection, and a water famine prevails. All the river craft were left on the sand or in small pools of water.

The Iowa territory thus suddenly tossed over into Nebraska is not all sand, for there are many productive farms in the tract. The change of channel means a change of state citizenship to more than a score of farmers.

TO TAX IMMIGRANTS.

Senate Adopts Amendment Fixing Three Dollar Rate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate yesterday adopted all the committee amendments to the immigration bill with the exception of one prescribing an educational test, and then laid aside the bill to pass a number of unobjectionable pension bills. The amendment fixing a three dollar head tax on each immigrant coming into the United States furnished the principal topic of debate.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 10.—The whole available force of the state agricultural department is now concentrated upon the effort to keep the foot and mouth disease out of this state. Then his abdomen swelled to a frightful degree, and the boys who were inflicting the torture dropped the pump and fled.

Fire Threatened Shamrock III.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Shamrock III, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America's cup, had a narrow escape from being burned last night in a fire which did great damage to Denny's shipbuilding yards at Dumbarton. Only strenuous efforts saved the challenger, now well advanced in her construction, from destruction.

INTENSE COLD WAVE

Suffering In Many Places Because of Scarcity of Fuel.

NEW YORK'S POOR IN GREAT NEED.

Unprecedented and Sudden Fall in Temperature Throughout New York and New England Finds the People Without Coal.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—New York and New England are emerging from an experience of the coldest weather of many years. In this city yesterday was the coldest Dec. 9 in twenty-six years, the thermometer registering, as it did in that year, 8 degrees above zero. The severity of the cold was intensified by the fact that the people were not prepared for it, the cold wave having descended upon the country suddenly and without warning. Then, too, the scarcity of coal caused much suffering among the poorer classes, and even those able to afford the luxury of a ton of anthracite had to use it sparingly for fear that the cold snap would last and they would be unable to get a fresh supply. Every effort is being put forth to alleviate the suffering, charitable organizations having taken steps to supply the poor and the board of aldermen having voted $100,000 to help along the good cause. During the day the rivers were covered with a heavy mist, showing the great difference between the temperature of the air and the water.

The cold in the city was mild compared with that prevailing in the northern sections of the state and in New England. At Albany the mercury fell to 10 degrees below zero, and in the nearby districts it went down to 18 degrees. The river is frozen over at Albany, putting an end to navigation. Ballston reported 32 degrees below, the lowest registration since 1861, and Saratoga felt the grasp of weather 30 degrees below. In the Adirondack region and along the Champlain valley the thermometer registered between 17 and 26 degrees below.

The situation at Schenectady was made more serious by the scarcity of coal, many families having to face 22 degrees below zero weather without coal to heat their homes. Navigation on the upper Hudson has closed, steamers which had not reached winter quarters having to be towed out of the ice.

The cold wave struck New England at the same time it arrived in New York. Throughout Maine and Connecticut the thermometer registered from 8 to 20 degrees below, a fall in some places of 40 degrees in twelve hours. Norfolk, Conn., reported a temperature of 23 degrees below zero, the coldest in years.

Miners Tell Bitter Tales.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 10.—Tales of evictions from houses owned by G. B. Markle & Co., the narration of the death of a wife as a result of an enforced removal from her home and the story of a mother whose husband was killed in the Markle mines, of how she and her two boys struggled years to pay the Markles the back rent and coal bill she owed them, were the principal features of yesterday's sessions of the coal strike commission. The testimony as presented by some of the witnesses whose lives are given up to the coal mining industry was at times pathetic and surprising to the commissioners, who listened to it with undivided attention.

HAVANA, Dec. 10.—Emilio Nunez, civil governor of Havana, has suspended the mayor of Havana, Senor O'Farrill, pending investigation by the court of a charge of usurpation of power which has been brought against him.
