TARLIEST USES OF TOBACCO.

Introduced in Europe by a Franciscan Frinr in 1494 in the Form of Suuff.

Tobacco was first used in Europe as a kind of rude antiseptic and preventer of infection, and in the West Indies, northern America and Africa the inhaling of the dried and powdered tobacco leaf was practiced long before the herb was known in Europe, according to a writer in the Detroit News-Tribune. The same is probably true of smoking. The use of tobacco was introduced into Europe by a Francescan friar named Ramon Pane, who accompanied Columbus on his second voyage to the West Indies in 1994. He was sent ashore at Cuba in charge of an exploring expedition, and reported on his return that he had found the satives snuffing this powdered herb, which they did through a short, hollow cane. He introduced the practice into Europe, but it was not until 1560 that the plant was cultivated in Europe.

Jean Nicot, who had been British ambassador at Lisbon, began tobacso growing in France in that year, and through this circumstance the cherb got its name nicotine. Snuff was first used as a relief from catarrh and stoppages of the nasal passages, and the first personage to make the use of it popular was the famous Catherine de Medici, and her son, Charles IV., also used it as a relief from chronic headache. The great Catherine's patronage caused snuff to be called "Herbe a la Reine." It became enormously popular as a preventive in England after the great plague of 1660.

FARMERS IN CANADA.

Great Rush to the Northwestern Territory of the Dominion in Last Two Years.

The extent to which emigration from the United States to the northwest part of Canada has developed within the last lustrum is one of the most remarkable facts in the recent history of the dominion, says the London News. It is almost suggestive of gold "rush." Lord Burgheiere stated in the house of commons recently that last year the number of settlers from the states was 50,000; this year it was calculated at 200,000. This would indeed be startling if it were true. It would suggest an "outlander" problem of vast proportions for Canada. But the facts, though striking, are not so startling as Lord Burghelere indicated. The emigration began in 1897 with a modest total of 712. This handful of pioneers was followed the next year by 9,119, and since then there has been a steady increase, until the figures for the present year, so far as it has gone. stand at 24,100. We have heard much of the "American invansion" of England, but it has been the invasion of money and methods. The American invasion of Canada is a more serious affair. It is the invasion of men who will become voters and taxpayers, and who will permeate the country with American sentiment and American preferences. Perhaps the most significant feature of the matter is that there should be this great stream of immigration from the states. We have we need to revise our impressions now that it is becoming the land of the emigrant also.

Atter Another Railroad-

A meeting was held Wednesday afternoon in the director's room at the First National Bank --attended by our leading business men for the purpose of securing the extension of Susquehanna, Berwick & Bloomsburg railroad from Berwick to this place. Resolutions were adopted pledging the support of the business and shipping interests to the new road provided it will run a line to town. Petitions will be prepared for circulation and presentation to the officials for action. This road is said to have the Pennsylvania back of it and if exline an eastern as well as a western connection. Owing to the elevation a crossing at Berwick would be very expensive and a point farther up the river must be selected if a connection with the North & West Branch is made. NEW ZEALAND AN IDEAL LAND

It Is a Country from Which Pauper ism Has Been Almost Entirely Eradleated.

"The best country I have seen in all my jogging about the world is New Zealand," said Mr. Arthur Malone, of London, visiting Washing-ton, reports the Post. "It is true that the government is almost purely paternal, but it is such a benevolent paternalism, and the people seem to thrive under it so well that there is little room for hostile criti' eism. It is a country where pauperism has been practically abolished and where every man who is desir ous of a home can secure one. The government will not permit a mo; nopoly of land, and those who has big tracts were forced to surrender them so that the poor could ge farms. I do not mean to say that New Zealand is a paradise, or that its people are so far elevated abov the rest of mankind that they are without the usual shortcomings humanity, but altogether I consider that they have as nearly a perfect system of government as could devised, and that nowhere on eart is the status of the individual be ter. If your American coal fields were in New Zealand a strike woul be an impossibility, for they woul be operated by the state, pro bono publico."
