WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent. Washington, January 5, 1903.

A serious menace to the Monroe Doctrine has appeared on the horizon of American affairs, as a result of the casuistic diplomacy of Secretary of State Hay. Senor Concha, former Colombian Minister to the United States has returned to his country and is there promoting a campaign against the ratification of the canal treaty which his successor, Dr. Herrara, is endeavoring to negotiate claims that she is now receiving an annual income of $500,000 from the zone of land which the United States demands as a sine qua non to the completion of the canal. An examination of some of the crop statistics of the year throws an interesting light on the claims of republican prosperity. According to the government statistics, the farmers of the United States have taken from the soil crops having a value of $2,557,-895,416 during the past year. These are the largest crops ever garnered in is the only positive cure known to the the United States. Many waters that are formerlly cool, clear, and of constant and steady flow and consequently inhabited by trout in abundance are now turbid, warm, of intermittent flow and filled with green slime in sumlurking places of the mud sucker and the carp.

Another even more disastrous result of the clearing away of our forests and the constant rush of waters toward the sea has been in many regions, almost the complete annihilation of such very desirable game fishes as the black bass and pickerel. As these fishes pass the winter in partial hibernation or in a state of quietude at the bottom of deep pools. Here they remain until the reviving heat of the sun's rays in the spring time commences to make itself manifest by warming the ground and water. As has been pointed out by President Jas. R.
