Before The Court-

Court convened on Monday at ten o'clock with all the judges present. The most important business of the session was an injunction case, the parties being W. C. Richart of Bloomsburg and William Krum of Momour township. The facts as brought out are that Richart leased from Isaiah Hagenbuch, a lane along the eastern side of his farm in Montour township and leading from the public road to a switch on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. The defendant Krum, who for some time past has been burn-ing lime on the David Mauser no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health to ship the lime away. Richart by reason of his lease claimed the exclusive use of the lane and notified Krum to cease hauling. Krum retused to obey the order, hence the proceedings. The case occupied the entire Monday session. The argument took place on Tuesday, Grant Herring for the plaintiff and B. F. Zarr for the defendant. Other counsel in the case were T. J. Vanderslice for the plaintiff and W. H. Rhawn for the defendant. The de-cision of the court will be annonneed later.

Old Newspapers Sold.

Our readers will re-call reading ar article in this paper some time ago in reference to a smooth-tongued guy buying up a lot of old newspapers from several newsdealers at Bioomsburg, and with whom he failed to make a settlement before leaving the town. He claimed to represent the Miller Paper Company, of this city, and that they had a pulp mill near Shamokin. His method was to have the paper shipped to a certain point, and then dispose of the shipping receipts, not forgetting, however to add to the original weight. As the shippers were unable to produce the original shipping receipts the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company refused to allow the owners to re-claim the property. Later the same was adverised at public sale, and took place Saturday morning at ten o'clock, the purchaser being W. L. Chester, of Shamokin, his bid being 48 cents per hundred pounds, and the total weight 4.248 pounds. The sale realized $20.39. Auctioneer Fred Waltz conducted the sale.—Sunbury Daily.
