Harder Values Alta-Idaho Very High.

Charles M. Harder of Catawissa, who has for a number of years made a special study of mineralogy, has been traveling through several of the western states with the view of becoming better acquainted with the mines in which our eastern people are interested.

He is now at Pardee, Idaho, looking over the property and the mines of the Alta-Idaho Gold and Copper Mining Company, which is owned by Pennsylvania people. In a telegram just received he states that he "found Alta-Idaho a system of gigantic mineral veins, that the company has exceptional advantages, and that the stock of this company is selling too low in comparison with intrinsic value of the property owned by the company."

Fondness for Stage. Led to Poverty.

Rather comely of face, but diminutive in form, a girl, to all appearances not over 18 years of age and giving her name as Mame Winster, appeared in town Monday evening. She had been lured from her home in Hazleton, so she said, last fall by the glitter of the footlights, and she wanted to obtain work to get money to go home. Just how she reached Bloomsburg she did not state, but in all probability she worked, her appearance seemed to indicate as much, at least.

Her story was the same old theme, in a minor key. A talent for singing rag time, popular in amateur theatricals, an ambition to shine before the footlights, a good, comfortable home forsaken, designing theatrical managers, disappointment, distress and despair.

It appears that since she left home her lot has been a hard one. She has tried company after company but failure followed failure, until she decided to find employment in some other line, and go back to her old home. She left Bloomsburg Tuesday morning.

Normal Organization.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Normal School held last Saturday evening the following organization was effected: President, A. Z. Schoch; Vice President, J. C. Brown; Secretary, J. M. Clark; Treasurer, H. J. Clark. In the absence of Mr. Schoch from town the standing committees have not yet been appointed.

Ent Post 250 G. A. B.

The members of this Post will meet at their hall at 10 a. m. next Sunday to attend divine services at the M. E. church at 10:30 a. m.

All old soldiers and sailors and Sons of Veterans are requested to meet with Ent Post at that time.

By order of committee.

William Mericle, an employee of the Bloomsburg Car Co., while at work yesterday morning ran a nail through his foot, which rendered him unable to continue his various duties.

Dr. G. H. Hemingway was one of the judges in the Junior Oratorical contest at Lafayette College, Easton, Monday night. His son Reginald accompanied him.

About one hundred and twenty of the Middle class of the Normal went to the vicinity of Buckhorn Monday morning in quest of botanical specimens. The party was in charge of Prof. D. S. Hartline, and the trip was made in hacks.

A High-Bred Horse.

Mr. T. E. Hyde has established a horse breeding farm at Edgemon, Grovania station. Among his recent purchases is Sildare, No. 27612, probably a horse of the best-strain ever brought to this section.

In his breeding he has three crosses of Mambrino King and two of Chimes, and the Chimes, Mambrino King Nick is now recognized as the greatest cross in the history of breeding. Chimes has to his credit three fastest trotters ever sired by one horse. Mambrino King has three faster trotters than have ever been sired by any other stallion than Chimes. Each have eight in the 2.10 list and no stallion has ever produced eight performers whose average time equals the average of the performers of either Chimes or Mambrino King.

Moreover Mambrino King was said to be "the handsomest horse in the world," and the greatest show horse of his time. Sildare is in color and markings like his grandsire, Mambrino King, and in head and neck is nearly like him. Sildare is a very dark chestnut, coming 4 years old in June, and will make a horse of about 16 hands and weighing about 1150 to 1200. He is handsome, stylish and splendidly gaited. With our prosperous business conditions over the entire country more and more men are enabled to indulge their fancy for a fine horse, and an extra fine one commands almost a king's ransom. Thomas W. Lawson, who paid Mr. C. J. Hamlin $50,000 for Dare Devil (the sire of Sildare), said in a recent article that he would pay $3000 apiece for all the perfect road horses he could get. He also says he expects Dare Devil to be the greatest sire of his time in producing the highest type of perfect road horses.

Gerald Gross is the pool champion of the Wheelmen. He defends the title against all comers, and this week he has disposed of no less than a dozen aspirants with ridiculous ease. It is a rare occurrence for an opponent to get more than 70 balls in a 100 point game.

BASE BALL.

In the second game with Normal on Thursday afternoon Williamsport again took the school boys into camp. The visitors scored in only one inning but it proved enough to win the game. McCabe was on the slab for Normal and barring the third inning in which he was touched up for five hits he pitched good ball. Hasset was the twirler for Williamsport and his work was all to the good. He had the nicest delivery of any pitcher seen here in many a day. He had the locals hitting at all sorts of things and the accumulation of six safe ones was the best they could do. The work of Hummel stood out as the brightest thing in the game. The score follows:

Normal 0-1-1-1-0-0-2-0-0-5
Williamsport 0-0-8-0-0-0-0-0-8

Normal 3, FREELAND TIGERS 1.
The game on Saturday with the Freeland Tigers was the best of the season and was won by Normal through Shaffer's masterly pitching. He had good speed and a repertoire of benders that puzzled the coal barons. Normal's play showed a marked improvement over previous games. The score by innings:

YESTERDAY'S GAME.

It wasn't Umpire Sherwood's fault that Normal didn't win yesterday's game with the Cuban Giants. He gave a weird exhibition but the colored fellows took the roasting good naturedly and kept the crowd laughing by their funny remarks. The locals took the lead in the first inning and held it till the ninth when the Cubans by a batting streak won out.

Marcy tried to cover the left garden territory but made a lamentable failure. Manager Sutliff should look over the material on the second team and mend this hole in the outfield.

The crowd yesterday was the largest of the season. The same teams play again today.

Normal 5-0-0-3-0-0-0-0-8
Cuban Giants 1-0-2-0-0-0-3-0-3-9

New Laws.

In this issue are printed several laws passed by the recent legislature. They relate to poisoning and maiming dogs and other animals; to catching eels; to catching frogs and terrapin; and to shooting Flobert rifles, air guns, etc. on the street and alleys of cities and boroughs. Other new laws will be printed as fast as we can get them.

We are indebted to Congressman Dickerman for a copy of the "Bulletin of the Department of Labor," containing the report of the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission.

treated the crowd which included himself, his brother William Honabach and Levan. He appeared to have plenty of money. He displayed a twenty dollar bill and some other money where everybody could see it. He took the money from his pay envelope and after settling for the drinks put it back in his pocket. Levan, he said left a few minutes before McAndrews upon the statement that he had worked all night and was going home to sleep. On cross-examination he said he would not be positive about the exact time the men had left his hotel, but that it was to the best of his knowledge.

The testimony of William Honabach was a corroboration of that of his brother. McAndrews, he said took two or three drinks and a cigar. He was apparently under the influence of liquor.

Daniel Roach, a saloon keeper, testified that he had sold McAndrews three drinks. He wanted more but he refused to give it to him. He saw Levan and McAndrews come out of the Honabach Hotel. Levan preceded McAndrews by a few minutes but the two went in different directions.

Dr. Gwinner was recalled to the witness stand and asked by Fred Ikeler, counsel for Levan, whether or not he had found anything beside the club with which the blows might have been struck, to which he replied that he had not.

Monroe Rape was the next witness called. He found McAndrews along the road between ten and eleven o'clock on the morning of March 30th. The exact point was about fifty yards from the summit of the hill between Montana and Centralia. In the road near the body he found a cap, a five cent piece and a club. McAndrews was lying face downward with his feet toward Centralia. There was some blood in the middle of the road. He and Kostenbauder who was with him, went to Centralia and notified 'Squire Black.

John Knittle, of Montana, testified that on the morning McAndrews was found he and Frank Fetzer and John Startzel were shooting mark along the railroad. He saw Levan come from the direction where McAndrews was found. This to the best of his knowledge was about eleven o'clock. Mrs. Minear met them after they started toward Centralia and told them that a man had been found along the road. On cross examination he did not know from what direction Levan had come. When they met Levan had asked to see his gun and that was all he could remember.

Frank Fetzer testified that he had only seen Levan when the latter called to him from the railroad.

John Startzel testified that he first saw Levan coming up the railroad track from the direction of Centralia.

Thomas Quigley of Centralia took the witness stand next. He stated that on Thursday after the finding of McAndrews he went to the scene and found a piece of wagon brake which he identified. The one end of it was covered with blood and hair. When cross examined he said that Turrance Burke had picked up the iron and had given it to him. It was a foot long.

Duy read the testimony of Levan given at the coroner's inquest in which he said that on the morning McAndrews was found he had been in Honabach's place. He admitted having taken several drinks with McAndrews and that he left before McAndrews and went to Charles Kushops blacksmith shop. He had never seen McAndrews before that day. He did not see any money other than that which was thrown on the bar in payment for drinks. Monroe Rape was the first to tell him of the finding of McAndrews, which was about fifteen minutes after he had left the hotel. From the blacksmith shop he went to Ringtown where he had some business.

The last witness was J. C. McKelvy, a detective, in the employ of the Linden Detective Agency of Philadelphia. He testified that he was familiar with the spot where McAndrews was found. By the road it was not quite a half mile from the hotel. He had walked it in eight minutes. By the railroad it was over a half mile and through the brush. He said a person could easily reach it by way of the blacksmith shop and the railroad. He walked it in fourteen minutes. Mr. Ikeler cross examined the witness. He said that he had been employed by District Attorney Duy and had been working on the case for five weeks. He met Levan the second day after he arrived at Aristes in Honabach's saloon. To the question, "Has Levan ever made any statement concerning the murder?" he answered, "he has never made any statement to me." "Has he ever made any statement to you concerning his whereabouts that morning?" "No sir."

This closed the testimony and Fred Ikeler, counsel for Levan moved for discharge on the ground that the commonwealth had failed to make out a case against the prisoner.

Grant Herring for the commonwealth said that they had connected Levan with the crime in a manner sufficient to warrant the Justice in holding him. The Justice concurred and the prisoner was re-committed to the custody of the Sheriff to await trial at the September term of court.

Grange and Farm.

THE COLUMBIAN is making a feature of Grange and farm matters, and on the seventh page will be found weekly a column conducted by J. W. Darrow, press correspondent New York State Grange; a column of Grange News by J. T. Ailman, press correspondent and secretary of the Pennsylvania State Grange, and a column of articles pertaining to the farm. We shall be glad at all times to publish communications as articles from the Grangers or the county, and any other matters of interest to the Grangers.

A. M. E. Church Rally.

The A. M. E. Church rally last Sunday was a success. The Pastor, trustees and members with faithfulness and push raised $218.50. Of this amount $50.00 was given in memory of Rev. W. G. Ferguson and Rev. J. P. Tustin, by Mrs. E. B. Tustin, and $4.00 by Edward B. Tustin Jr., $4.00 by Joseph P. Tustin. The balance of the money was raised by the Pastor and trustees, Glasco Cameron, Anthony Alexander and the faithful members from their many friends. Mr. E. M. Kester had placed his claim of $31.33 in the hands of his attorney. The trustees paid the same off, and the church being $70.00 in the pastor's debt he asked for $45.00 to help him pay his debts, in order that he could keep his word, and we felt it our duty as he has worked so hard for us, and as the pastor and trustees have an agreement with Mr. E. B. Tustin the balance of the money has been placed in the First National Bank until he returns home, and then Creasy & Wells and others that the church owe will be paid. The entire church joins in with the pastor and officers in thanking all for their great and generous help.
