

THE COLUMBIAN.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1903.

THE STATE AT A GLANCE.

The War Department has announced its apportionment of the $2,000,000 appropriated by the Dick bill for the better equipment of the National Guard of the different States. Pennsylvania gets $67,973.

The Scranton Republican figures out that the people of Scranton drink 18,500 quarts of milk a day, costing $1,100, and 43,680 quarts of beer a day, costing $4,368.

A notable nuptial event took place in Trinity Episcopal church, Williamsport, Thursday, when William O. Hickok, of Harrisburg, and Miss Avis Cochran, daughter of Senator J. Henry Cochran, were married. The preparations for the wedding were on a very elaborate scale.

George W. Coolbaugh, editor and proprietor of the Telegram, a real estate journal of Wilkes-Barre, dropped dead late Monday afternoon in the office of the county controller. The deceased was fifty years of age. Death was due to apoplexy.

Williamsport is to have a new industry called the Hopkins Hulled Cereal company. In addition to hulling and preparing corn and cereals for the trade, tomatoes, pumpkins and other vegetables will be canned and Saratoga chips will be made.

The Girard estate is constructing a wall around the reservoir and timber preserves on North Mahonoy Mountain. The wall will be two miles long, five feet high and be made of stone laid dry. This plan, it is believed will preserve the young timber from forest fires and cattle depredations and the timber preserved will insure a better water supply for the collieries.

The report of coal being found on the Smith farm at Selinsgrove are proving to be correct. A vein of eight feet has been reached and the coal burns well. An expert who has looked over the property says that he is confident first class coal could be found by going deeper. The veins will be proved thoroughly and a breaker near Selinsgrove is among the possibilities.

The big meat packing houses set out to corner the egg market and loaded up with eggs last spring at about an average cost to them of fourteen cents. Interest and storage charges ran the price up to about seventeen cents, and they are now unloading at ten cents. The old hen is a hard proposition to corner. Everybody keeps her. The cold storage egg belongs in the same class with renovated butter. Old eggs are harder to pass off as fresh ones than old maids as young girls.

Acts passed by the last Legislature relating to the education of the children in Pennsylvania have all been compiled and pamphlet has made its appearance in the departments. There are twenty acts which affect the education laws of the State and are of vital interest to the trustees and teachers of schools.

Representative Snyder's bill regulating the salary of school teachers, and making the minimum salary paid to any teacher by any district receiving State aid $35 per month, is on the eighth page of the pamphlet, and while it is one of the shortest acts passed it is nevertheless the most important to the teachers and the State in general. Upon the failure of any district to pay its teachers the sum of $35 a month, the appropriation from the State shall be withdrawn for the length of time the act is violated.

The bill met with a strong opposition in both branches of the Legislature, but it finally passed, and was signed by the Governor on April 9, less than ten days after it left the halls of the Legislature. The other nineteen bills all bear directly upon the schools of the State.

Dr. S. S. Pond, Professor of chemistry in the Pennsylvania State College, made several assays of ore from the mines of the Alta Idaho Gold and Copper Mining Company, of Pardee, Idaho. This ore was dug out of these mines by Charles M. Harder, of Catawissa, during his visit to that place a short time ago. The result of the assays of the ore which he brought home with him is as follows: Copper 57.87 per cent, 25.02 per cent, 5.52 per cent, 5.9 per cent. The assays show values in silver as high as $18.00 a ton, and some gold values. Other assays have been made of ore from these mines which show gold values of $43.00 and $54.00 per ton.

The Democratic State Convention will be held at Harrisburg on Sept. 29th.

DECISION OF COURT.

In Case of W. C. Richart vs William Krum.

Application Dismissed.

The preliminary injunction which was granted by the court upon petition of the plaintiff in the case of W. C. Richart vs William Krum was dissolved by Judge Little on Monday. The case is one of more than ordinary interest, and for that reason, though we presented all the facts in the case when it was before the court at the May term when the preliminary injunction was granted, we herewith again give a history of the case.

It appears that at the time of the construction of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad through Montour township, about fifty years ago, Joseph Mauser, now dead, was the owner of two tracts of land adjoining said railroad. One tract contained fifty acres and the other sixty five acres. On the fifty acre tract there was a lime kiln, and in order to provide Mr. Mauser with shipping facilities for the product of the kiln, the railroad company constructed a switch or siding. Mr. Mauser then opened a lane or driveway from the public road in to the railroad. Upon the death of Mr. Mauser, his son, David Mauser, became the owner of the fifty acre tract and Isaiah Hagenbuch purchased the other tract.

From the time of the construction of the switch and opening of the roadway, dating back in 1855, everybody looked upon the lane as a public highway, and used it as such when going to and from the switch. In the early part of the present year Isaiah Hagenbuch leased the lane to W. C. Richart and he shortly thereafter, secured a temporary injunction restraining William Krum, who persisted in using the lane after having been notified to desist. In dissolving the injunction the court says:

"Clark Richart, the complainant, did not acquire by the lease of Isaiah Hagenbuch made April 1, 1903, the sole and exclusive use of the private road or lane therein described. The preliminary injunction heretofore granted should be dissolved. Now June 15, 1903, after hearing and upon consideration, it is ordered and decreed that the preliminary injunction heretofore granted be and the same is hereby dissolved."

FROM COURT HOUSE CORRIDORS.

Its too much trouble to come all the way to Bloomsburg for a marriage license, or at least that's what a Numedia man thinks. He has written to Prothonotary Terwilliger requesting him to send him a license by mail. The request, of course, was refused, licenses are not granted in that manner.

The following licenses have been issued.

John R. White of Centralia and Miss Laura M. Campbell of Reading.

Patrick Shields of Conyngham township and Miss Anna Heacle of Centralia.

Raymond G. Pensyl and Miss Alice Smith both of Bloomsburg.

When the congregation of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church get their new pipe organ, it will stand back of the pulpit in a recess which is to be built for the purpose. They have had a number of excellent offers from reliable organ builders, but have not yet decided where to place the organ.

THE URBAL SOCIETY.

At a meeting of the Bloomsburg Choral Society held in the Parish House last Thursday evening about twenty members were present. The following officers were elected:

President, Dr. J. P. Welsh; Vice President, Geo. E. Elwell; Secretary, E. H. Ent; Treasurer, W. B. Sutliff; Librarian, Dr. P. F. Peck.

All the committees were re-appointed and are as follows: Membership, Miss Comba chairman, Miss Cope and R. F. Colley; Program, Mrs. J. K. Miller chairman, Miss Pontius, Mrs. R. F. Colley, Mrs. W. B. Sutliff and Mrs. F. G. Yorks; Associate Members, O. H. Yetter, he to have power to appoint other members. The Executive Committee is composed of the chairmen of these committees and the officers of the society.

It was decided to give two concerts during the coming year, and it is likely that Dr. Mason of Wilkes-Barre will be engaged as conductor. There will be no active work until September, and it is hoped that many new members will be obtained by that time. Associate members are those who are not active, but who are willing to pay two dollars a year, for which they will receive tickets to all concerts, and may attend rehearsals if they so desire. A large number of associate members is desired.

The next meeting will be held at the call of the President, when due notice will be given through the newspapers.

Give us a call and be convinced that we are the best. Gem Steam Laundry.

A standing press for binding books and making tablets has just been added to the equipment of this office.

The third floor of the Wirt building is being made ready for the Central Penna. Telephone Co. The entire floor will be used for an exchange.

Cigars. The Sweet Jaras are the finest in Bloomsburg for a 5c smoke, try them, at Mercer's Drug and Book Store.

The woman who committed suicide in Gettysburg last Friday is supposed to be the same one who visited Bloomsburg a few weeks ago, and represented herself as a trained nurse, and begged money from clergymen. She was evidently insane. She first made an attempt to end her life by taking laudanum, but under a doctor's care she recovered. The next morning she cut her throat with a knife. She effectually concealed her identity.

Residents of town will, from Monday night next, on, know in the evening what kind of weather to expect the following day. The big whistle on the Richard Manufacturing plant will be used for that purpose, and at 6:15 every evening the weather probabilities will be sounded. Following is the code of signals:

- BLAST INDICATES
- 1 Long.....Fair Weather
- 2 Long.....Rain or Snow
- 3 Long.....Local Rains
- 4 Long.....Showers followed by Fair
- 1 Short.....Lower Temperature
- 2 Short.....Higher Temperature

Bloomsburg and other people interested in the town, to donate each a particular book which would be of real value to the Library. As a result of this scheme the Library received to be spent for books $850 in cash and checks, and about 1500 vols., most of which are valuable books. Owing to the generosity of the recipients of the book-reception circulars, the Library will open with about 4000 vols.

Since January 12 the Library Department has received through private and club donations, concerts, rummage sales, rubber sales, etc., over $720. This fact has made it possible for the Department to pay all bills for Library supplies, rent, printing, salaries, etc., which have been presented and to turn the Library over to the Board of Directors with practically no indebtedness and with a small surplus in the treasury.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

The library has been classified and catalogued according to the most generally approved methods of library science. The Dewey Decimal Classification has been used. This scheme was devised by Melvil Dewey of the New York State Library and is used in almost all of the up-to-date libraries of America.

A card catalog has been made, arranged in three alphabetical lists: Author, title and subject. If the borrower wishes to know what books the library contains, of a particular author—say F. Marion Crawford, he will go to the author list, run over the cards which are alphabetically arranged until he comes to Crawford, where he will find all the books arranged alphabetically according to the title (the articles "the" "a" and "an" are always omitted and the entry made under the word following the article.)

Another borrower may come in knowing the name of the book he is interested in, but not the author. He should consult the title list where he will find the author, and thus be able to secure the book number of the volume wanted. Another borrower may wish to know what lives of Lincoln are on the shelves, or what books the Library contains on chemistry, U. S. History, etc., he will consult the subject list, also an alphabetical one, and in a moment ascertain just what the Library has to offer along the line of his needs. Instead of arranging the cards in three separate lists, very often they are filed in one straight alphabet, running author, title and subject entries together. For people not accustomed to using a card catalog, the filing of author, title and subject cards separately rather simplifies learning to use the catalog intelligently.

In order to enable borrowers most quickly to learn where the different classes of books are to be found, labels will be placed on the different shelves containing the words: Fiction, History, Travel, Biography, New Books, Science, Juvenile Books, etc., as the case may be, thus enabling all interested to get a general idea of the number and quality of the books in each class.

Borrowers will be allowed to go to the shelves to pick their own books or the librarians will hunt up any books to be loaned which will be carried to the Librarian's desk where they will be charged to the borrower. The rules of the Library in regard to books will be found in every vol., on the book pocket, where the borrower's card is placed.

Names of donors will be found in the front of each book, on the book plate.

Owing to the fact that some of the books ordered are out of print, not all of the book-reception list has been received at the library. New selections will be made in place of those not procurable, and when the exact amount of the discount is ascertained it will be spent or reference books.

The Library will be open for the circulation of books June 19th, the day after the formal opening.

All those who have registered prior to June 18th can draw books at once, and all others, as fast as the formality of registering is gone through.

Ribs Fractured in Runaway.

There was an exciting runaway at Oak Grove at noon on Tuesday, and as a result of it Millard Ent, son of Chas. B. Ent, had two ribs fractured, and Reese M. Dawson was painfully bruised. Ex-Sheriff Hoffman and William Long were also in the wagon, but they escaped without injury. Hoffman was thrown out, but landed on his feet. Long jumped from the wagon when the horse started to run. The accident occurred toward the lower end of the grove, they having taken a short cut home, and was caused by the animal taking flight at the noise made by a cultivator falling against the front wheel of the wagon. The horse ran to the Hoffman barn, along the Espy road.

Dr. John was summoned, and rendered medical assistance.

Festival.

The Rescue Hose Co. will hold a festival June 19-20th, at their hose house on East Fifth St. On Friday evening the 19 there will be speakers, and the mortgage on their building which they have recently paid will be burned. Come all and help us out.

The Lord's Supper.

On Saturday, at 7:30 p. m. the quarterly conference will be held in the classroom of the church. Come and hear Rev. Swengel next Sunday.

Ferris Wheel Sold for Junk.

The Ferris Wheel, which was one of the wonders of the Columbian Exposition, and which cost $392,000, was sold at auction at Chicago last week to a junk dealer for $1800. The sale included engines, buildings, boilers and all.

The old Presbyterian church property has at last fallen in hands that will no longer permit it to be a discredit to the town. Yesterday two men spent the day in cutting the grass and undergrowth, and cleaning up the entire lot, and it now presents a better appearance than it has had for years. We hope the time is not far distant when Mr. Yorks, the recent purchaser, will put up a residence there.
