WILL ENFORCE THE LAW.

Fish Commissioners Looking up Offenders.

W. E. Houseworth, an appointee of Wm. E. Meehan, president of the state board of fish Commissioners, is in this locality for the purpose of prosecuting all offenders against the fish laws. Seine fishing is prohibited at all times. Fishing with fyke nets, on which is a tag bearing the name and address of the owner, is permitted except during the months of June, July, August and September. Any one found setting nets during these months will be fined twenty-five dollars for each offense and all nets forfeited. Gigging is strictly prohibited, fine $25.00. Lay-out lines may be used when dead or cut bait only is used and hooks lay on bottom of the river, and a tag with the name and address of the owner is attached.

All bass caught in any way under seven inches or salmon under nine inches must be returned to the water at once. Fishing in creeks with set lines is prohibited. A vigorous effort will be made to apprehend and punish all offenders against the law.

Highway Commissioner.

Governor Pennypacker on Thursday appointed Joseph W. Hunter, of Jenkintown, state commissioner of highways.

This office was created by the last Legislature to take charge of the appropriation of $6,000,000 for the improvement of the public roads. Mr. Hunter is an expert road builder and will immediately organize the department of highways.

By the enactment of the new road law the state has made it possible for any township to have good roads, and with the principal cost on the state. Whenever the people of a township are willing to pay $1 for good roads, the county will be required to pay an equal amount and the state will add $4 for every $2 provided by the county, and in addition furnish the help of the state's highways commissioner in making the roads.

U. S. CENSUS OFFICE.

Merriam's Successor Has Long Been Regarded as an Expert in Statistics-Was Highly Esteemed by President McKinley.

The president on June 8 notified Mr. William R. Merriam of his acceptance of Mr. Merriam's resignation as director of the census, to take effect on that day. Mr. S. N. D. North, former chief of the division of manufactures of the census bureau, was tendered the position a number of weeks ago, and accepted. It was expected at first that Mr. Merriam would retire from office May 15, but Mr. North requested him to remain a little longer, as he could not arrange his private affairs so as to take charge of the office before June 8. Accordingly, that day was fixed as the date for the transfer of authority. Mr. Merriam has been elected vice president of the International mercantile agency, and expects to devote himself to business entirely in the future. He will probably make his headquarters in New York.

Mr. Merriam has been the director of the census since the organization of the bureau in 1899, and his record in the office attracted universal attention on account of the manner in which he prepared for and took the census and published the results. An act of congress gave him a very short time in which to complete the work, and in spite of all sorts of obstacles thrown in his way, including strikes among the printers, he was able to push the work through and lay the completed work before congress before the expiration of the time limit. This is considered a remarkable performance, and drew special attention to the bureau.

Simon Newton Dexter North was born at Clinton, N. Y., November 29,

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, June 29, 1903. President Roosevelt has announced in a semi-official way, that he intends to stand by the Postmaster General in spite of the popular demand for Payne's resignation, a demand voiced by the best newspapers in the country, regardless of party affiliation. More-over, the President appears to be afraid to demand the resignation of Rand, confidential clerk to the Postmaster General, although his unfitness for a place of trust has been clearly demonstrated, especially in the republican press. To every close observer it is obvious that the first wish of Postmaster General Payne is to minimize the scandal and convert the investigation into a perfunctory inquiry such as he had in mind when he first found that some sort of investigation was inevitable. The determination of the President is, however, regarded with considerable satisfaction by the democrats who say that the people will be satisfied with an investigation conducted along the Payne policy and that they will appreciate that only a democratic administration will be willing to lay bare the ulcers which have long festered under republican administration.

Having failed in his efforts to save Perry Heath from being smirched as a consequence of his official acts, the Postmaster General, and to a large extent the republican press, is now trying to make him the scapegoat for all the corruption which the Tulloch charges and the Bristow reply revealed. In this connection a bit of inside history is interesting. Perry Heath was charged with the fulfillment of seven thousand (7000) pledges made by Senator Hanna during the campaigns which elected Hanna senator and McKinley president. It was for the purpose of fulfilling these pledges, taking care of Hanna's 7,000 debts, that Heath was made First Assistant Fostmaster General. He did his work well and without any qualms of conscience but now that the facts have became public Mr. Heath is charged with the whole responsibility while Mr. Hanna goes free from public censure. It is only justice to Payne, moreover, to say that he went into the Postoffice Department pledged to take care of Hanna's friends, those who had cooperated with Heath and especially Machen who had, by his manipulation of the rural free delivery service, saved many western republican congressmen from defeat. This is the secret of Payne's attempt, clumsy and misguided but none the less sincere, to take care of Machen and his crowd.

The existence of a miniature scandal in the Department of Agriculture was revealed this week by a suit filed in the Court of Claims by the New York Market Gardeners Association which seeks to recover $18,000 for supplying seed for free distribution to the department. It appears that the above company was found to have furnished short weight packages, cheaper seeds than the contract provided for and cheaper and thinner paper than the specifications called for. Notwithstanding these facts the contract was awarded to this concern a second Beach Haven time, the assumption being that the contractor had "influence" with Secretary Wilson or with Assistant Secre- Avondule. out the country as one of the best autary Brigham. This year the c tor was guilty of even greater tions of his contract than on p occasion and this, notwithstand fact that Secretary Wilson has a personal friend, a man nan Bowie Holland in the company' rooms at good pay to superv packing of the seeds. The Onion and the Law.

The Appellate Court of Indiana, says the Chicago Record-Herald, has decided that cooking onions is bad for the neighborhood, thus affirming a decision by the lower Court. The family of James Shroyer, of New Castle, lived over the store of Campbell Brothers, who do a general millinery business also. The Shroyer family is fond of cooked onions, and the odor pervaded the store below and proved very offensive to the merchants and their customers. Campbell Brothers brought suit for an injunction, and an order was issued by the Circut Court, forbidding the cooking of the onions, and from this Shroyer appealed. The question was then carried to the Appellate Court.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

in the Albany Express in the latter part of 1886, and became its managing editor.

Mr. North was the Washington correspondent of both his papers during part of the time he was connected with them. He made the acquaintance of many public men through his service in this city and became known throughthorities in the United States on the tariff and the tariff schedules. He remained with the Albany Express for three years, when, 1889, he was elected secretary of the Wool Manufacturers' association, of Boston, Mass., which position he has held ever since.

In 1880 Mr. North was selected to prepare the newspaper statistics for the tenth census, and in 1885 completed the preparations for the taking of the New York state census. In 1890 he was selected to make a special report on wool manufactures for the eleventh census, and in 1894 was secretary of the republican branch of the senate committee on finance. While engaged in his duties at the capitol as a correspondent Mr. North attracted the attention of the late President McKinley, who was then on the committee of ways and means of the house of representatives. Mr. McKinley had charge of the preparation of the tariff bill passed during his last term in congress, and which was known as the McKinley bill, and Mr. North was charged with the making of the tariff schedules. Later he performed the same service for Representative Dingley. This work secured for him a position on the industrial commission, to which he was appointed by President McKinley in 1898. A year later, at the earnest solicitation of the president. Mr. North resigned from the industrial commission to become chief statisti-cian in charge of the division of manu-factures of the twelfth census. The way as work of Mr. North in this division has attracted attention throughout the world, and his thorough knowledge of the statistics, not only of his special division, but of all the divisions of the census, made him a valuable aid to Director Merriam.

In February Mr. North found that he could not continue as secretary of the National Wool Manufacturers' association if he desired to keep up the work of Mr. Merriam, and left the office February 28.
