THE FARM JOURNAL.
 To those who are on the five year list:
 The publishers of Farm Journal inform us that every paper contains a label showing the time when the five years expire for those who are receiving that paper from THE COLUMBIAN as a premium. Each person must keep track of the time, and when it is up, send a postal card to the Farm Journal telling them to stop it, unless they want to continue it at their own expense. We shall give the matter no further attention.

 Berwick will be practically deserted on Saturday. The citizens will unite in a monster picnic on that day to Harvey's Lake. All business places will be closed, and there will be absolutely nothing doing. Those who remain at home will have a chance to see how the town was before the boom struck it.
 William Salmon, a pattern maker at the malleable iron works, Berwick, was found dead in bed at his boarding house in that town Thursday afternoon last. He was 25 years of age and resided in Danville. He was a descendant of the family that gave its name to Fort Wheeler, at the paper mill near Light street.
 Word has reached relatives at Jerseytown of the death of Matthew Kinlen at Kansas City, Mo. The telegram which was sent by Frank a brother of the dead man, to Thos. of Jerseytown, another brother, states that he was killed by a car. The deceased was a son of the late James Kinlen, was about forty years old and leaves a wife and an adopted child.
 Travel to the suburban towns over the street railway was unusually large on Sunday, particularly so on the Catawissa end. Scarcely a car left Market Square without every seat occupied and on several trips standing room was the best you could get. Catawissa appeared to be the mecca and the Rupert Club house had its full quota of visitors. Where is the man who once said that the novelty of the motor cars would wear off?

 High water during the past two weeks has greatly delayed the work on the river bridge at Millville. Contractor Reimard says dam after dam has been washed out for him, and it is absolutely impossible to make any progress with the work. The stream at Mainville too, he says is equally as troublesome, and if its present wild behavior continues it is simply out of the question to make even an approximate idea of when the contract will be completed. He estimates that the loss to him last week alone, amounted to $1600.

 One of the most delightful picnics of the season was that of St. Columba's Church held at Oak Grove on Tuesday. The weather was fine and the attendance large. The day's program was carried out without a hitch, and the good time was extended into the evening. Schwarz Orchestra was present and rendered good music. One of the interesting features of the day was the chancing off a ten dollar gold piece and an umbrella. No. 192k. won the former, and D. J. Lynch held the lucky number and drew the umbrella.
 Wesley Fortner, a well known Nescopeck resident, aged seventy-three years, died Tuesday evening. One day last week while walking in front of the Hotel Morton in Berwick, he fainted and fell to the pavement. He however, recovered from the attack, and to all appearances was in his usual health, until Sunday, when he was afflicted in a similar manner, while walking in Pine Grove Cemetery. He was taken home, but never regained consciousness. Mr. Fortner, several years ago resided in Bloomsburg. He is survived by a wife and four children, Mrs. Myron Geddis, of Northumberland, Lou and Verda, at home, and John, of this town.
