KILLED AT BERWICK.

Thomas Adenger Struck on the Head by Crane—Dies in a Few Minutes.

Loss of Blood Caused Death.

Thomas Adenger, an employee of the American Car & Foundry Company at Berwick met an almost instant death on Tuesday. He was employed as a shipper in the blacksmith department of the works, and at about two o'clock in the afternoon had occasion to pass a large push crane. The machine is used to raise and move the heavy goods in the shops, and was in operation at the time. He was directly under it when without any warning it fell striking him on the breast, and crushing him to the ground. He was quickly carried into the office, and a doctor summoned. An examination revealed the fact that an artery had been severed. The doctor was entirely unable to stop the flow of blood, and it was only a few minutes until death followed.

Thomas Adenger was a resident of Northumberland, and had only been employed at Berwick a short time. He was thirty eight years of age and is survived by a wife and three children.

The accident is one of particular sadness. Away from home and having to close his eyes in death, unable to say a last goodbye to his loved ones.

FAST RIDING THIS.

Thos. F. Forest's Automobile Breaks Record From Phila. to Atlantic City.

There is a new record for automobile riding between Philadelphia and Atlantic City. It was established on Monday by Thos. F. Forrest's machine. Mr. Forrest has had the machine in Bloomsburg for more than a month, in fact it only last Thursday left here. When Chauffeur Wolcott departed from Bloomsburg there were with him Sam H. Harman, John M. Clark and Geo. Low, but it appears that he and Low were the only ones in the machine when the run was made, as can be seen from the following telegram which appeared in Tuesday's North American.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 20.—All records for the fastest automobile between Philadelphia and this city were broken today, when Geo. L. Low, and H. D. Wolcott, of Bloomsburg, Pa., made the trip in Mr. Low's powerful machine in two hours and ten minutes.

This time is considered remarkable, in view of the fact that the roads near this city are in bad condition and some time was lost by a number of small accidents having taken place. Charles M. Schwab held the record for this run.

Death of Mrs. Eli Jones.

The long illness of Mrs. Eli Jones ended in death at her home on Third street Saturday morning. The deceased was a daughter of the late Andrew Ohl, of Madison township, this county and was born August 13, 1826. At the age of thirty-nine years, she was married to Eli Jones. He died two years ago. The survivors are two children and four step children. The former are Mrs. Fetterolf of Lykens, Pa. and Miss Lulu at home and the latter Thomas Jones, of Danville, John I. and Henry E. Jones, of Berwick and Mrs. Mary O'Neil of town.

Mrs. Jones was a member of the Reformed church and for nearly fifty years has been a regular attendant at its services. The funeral took place on Tuesday.

Trolley Fever Strong.

The trolley fever struck the Roaring Creek valley with renewed vigor on Tuesday when the superintendent of the Lehigh Traction Company passed through that section making further plans for the construction of the road to Centralia. He was engaged in fully looking over the route and in looking up the percentage of grade to the mile. He frankly said that the road could be made a paying proposition and that their company was in a position to build it.

Fell in the Street.

Seized with a sudden illness, Monday morning, Frank Jones fell to the pavement in front of the post office. He was carried into J. W. Moyer's store. Dr. Bruner was called and after restoring consciousness, assisted in removing the sick man to his home.

It Was a Case of Wade or Walk.

"Hold on there" cried a fellow from the opposite side of the canal channel as the last car from Catawissa stopped at the Rupert club house, Sunday night. He was in quite a predicament. Only two hours before he had left the car at that point to escort his fondest hopes up to her home between the hills. Now the darkness was so intense he couldn't find his way. He had waited fifteen minutes, thinking that the light from the car would help him out of his dilemma. The car came but the illumination was fitful and ineffectual and still he couldn't see where he was going. He finally by braving the mud which was nearly ankle deep, succeeded in reaching the edge of the water, where he found to his additional discomfort, that the foot board, over which he and his girl had crossed only a short time before, was gone. The water, under the influence of a drenching precipitation, which had just abated had risen and carried it away. "Hurry on," shouted conductor Wanich, "we can't wait here all night." There was nothing left for him to do but wade, and into the water he jumped with a vengeance. He reached the car all right but maybe he wasn't a sorry looking sight. As he pulled himself up into the car he said, "I've often heard fellows say that they'd wade through blood up to their knees for a girl, but water is the limit for me" and everybody laughed.

Had anybody not acquainted with the circumstances been passing at the time and heard the water splashing they would very likely have concluded that the sea lion had changed its course and gotten over into the canal.

To Dispel the Heat.

Chief among the benefits that the all day current furnished by the American Electric Light Company has made possible are electric fans. The following people have had them placed in their homes and business places and are now enjoying the comfort of the cooling breezes; E. M. Savidge in his confectionery store, John Gross in his restaurant; I. A. Snyder in the Exchange Hotel; A. H. Neyhard in the Exchange Bakery; Frank Bomboy in his meat market; J. H. Hess, in his restaurant; Ed. Rowe in his barber shop, Edward Gigger in his residence; Clascoc Cameron in his barber shop; H. S. Pohe in his rooms in the Exchange Hotel, Geo. Ringer in his drug store; Mrs. Fairman in her restaurant; J. L. Sharpless in his grocery store; The Wheelmen, in the Club house; H. A. McKillip, in his rooms, Exchange Hotel; White Milling Company, W. S. Rishton, in his drug store; C. W. McKelvy, residence; John Harman, residence; J. M. Kline, Central Hotel; W. R. Kocher, residence; Farmers National Bank; P. B. Heddens, Hotel; Dr. G. H. Welliver, rooms in Exchange Hotel; Chas. Rabb, dental parlor; F. P. Pursel, store; First National Bank; Derr Bros., restaurant; Drake and Sumner, rooms in Exchange Hotel.

Dr. Benjamin Lee, president of the state board of health, predicts another epidemic of smallpox in Pennsylvania, especially the eastern section, if the disease is not stamped out this summer in Philadelphia. Attention has again been directed by the state board to the necessity of vaccination, as a preventive.

LAYING PLANS FOR FAIR.

The executive committee of the Agricultural Society held a meeting Saturday afternoon. There were but two absentees. The proposed poultry house was considered. It is to be 22 by 80 feet in size and a story and a half high. The contract for its construction will be awarded at next Saturday's meeting.

There will be a change in the premium list of the poultry department this fall. Under the old system it was possible for exhibitors to enter a half dozen or more colors of the same variety, and get a premium on each one. This fall all colors are to compete with not less than six of each strand and variety. The first prize will be 75 cents and the second prize 40 cents.

The matter of selecting bands, and the appointing of judges was discussed, but no action was taken. They will be acted upon at the meeting to be held August 15th. The fair is still nearly three months distant. This early activity on the part of the managers indicates that nothing is to be left undone that will in anyway aid in making this fall's exhibition the banner one of the society's history.

Centralia Teachers Elected.

The Centralia school board elected Prof. J. W. Robinson, of Danville, superintendent of schools to succeed Smith Murphy, who resigned to accept a similar position at Lehigh. The salary was fixed at $80 per month. There were a number of applicants for the place and there was much interest in the result of the election.

Miss Ella Gorman was elected assistant principal.

The vacancy caused by the retirement from the corps of Bernard J. Curran, who taught the Grammar school for a number of years, was filled by the promotion of Miss Harriet Cook.

The other teachers were then promoted in line, and are now placed as follows:

Sub Grammar, Miss Sarah Heist. Secondary, Misses Margaret Reilly and Margaret Kinney.

Primary, Misses Kate Flynn and Kate Quigley.

Miss Quigley is a new member of the corps.

Suit for Damages.

Hemlock township is involved in a law suit. The party aggrieved is Jacob Kremer, who claims damages from the township to the amount of $700 for injuries sustained by two of his horses. The animals were injured at different times, one as the result of an alleged defective creek bridge and the other by reason of a chuck hole in the road. The one horse he claims has been rendered practically worthless and the other is of but very little service to him. A proposition to settle the case was made by him he says, but the township rejected it. Now he wants his money, and to secure it he has employed counsel in the person of William C. Johnston and Geo. M. Tustin, and the suit has been entered.

Swooned from Fright of Lightning.

Mrs. Mary Mitchell of Catawissa, who is visiting her son, George Snyder, at this place collapsed from fright of a blinding flash of lightning which struck the Episcopal church on Tuesday. She with Mrs. Snyder, who resides but a few yards from the church were on the porch at the time the flash occurred where she dropped in a fainting spell. Being afflicted with heart trouble she remained unconscious for several hours and is at present unable to leave her bed owing to severe condition of her heart.—Laporte Republican.

Typhoid at Ashland.

Ashland is threatened with an epidemic of typhoid fever. According to a statement of Dr. Marshall of that town, within the last four days eighteen cases of illness have developed, all of a typhoid nature and several of them real fever. The cause is said to be bad water. The water supply is said to be contaminated by drainage from Frackville where there have been several cases of typhoid. The board of health has advised the boiling of all drinking water.

Wild Beasts May Have Devoured Him.

Portions of leg and arm found at place where murderer was last seen—Paris Gunned by Wild Beasts—Man Arrested at Danville Freed.

George Williams, while walking on Bald Hill, near F. L. Pike County, Pa., on Monday found the arm and hand of a human being, attached to which were shreds of flesh and ligaments holding the joints. A portion of the bones looked as though they had been gnawed by wild beasts. No one is missing in that section and searching parties are scouring the woods for more traces of the body.

Many believe the arm and hand belonged to Edward Tronikle, alias Myers, the murderer of Mrs. George Payne, of Trowbridge, Tioga County, Pa., on February 23, who was located in Brill's Swamp, near Honesdale, Pa., in March last, and who, it was asserted, was shot by a young man named Hartman, of Honesdale.

Rowlands is about fifteen miles from the swamp where Tronikle was last seen, and it is believed he fled down the Honesdale branch of the Erie Railroad to Rolands, where he died somewhere in the woods near where the arm and hand were found, from gunshot wounds, received at the hands of young Hartman.

The man who acted suspiciously in Rush township, Northumberland county, and was arrested at Danville under the impression that he was Myers, the Tioga county murderer, has been released. It developed that he was a respected citizen of Duryea, Luzerna county. His mind had been affected and he had wandered away from home. He was returned to Duryea on Monday.

Largest Depot in the World.

The Pennsylvania terminal to be erected in Manhattan will be the biggest railroad station in the world, with accommodations for handling 200,000 passengers a day, or about 70,000,000 or 80,000,000 a year. From 60 to 90 trains will enter and leave it hourly. The tunnels will be lightened and trains moved through them by electricity. The use of electricity for lighting and purposes of locomotive will keep the air in the tunnels clear and pure and will reduce the danger of accidents to a minimum by making the obscuring of signals practically impossible. Freight trains will not be sent through the tunnels, for the reason that the freight can be more easily and cheaply handled by a system of floats from Greenville, in New Jersey, to Bay Ridge. Freight intended for Manhattan will, of course, be handled by floats that will dock along the North and East river fronts.

Huntington Valley Camp.

The cottages at the Huntington Valley campground are already filling up preparatory to the opening of the meeting on Tuesday evening, August 25. The several departments will be in able hands this year. Rev. G. M. Klepper, of Altoona, will lead the singing. Dr. R. H. Gilbert will instruct the children with his illustrated sermons; Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Logan, of Beach Haven, will have charge of the Epworth League meetings. A fine program is being prepared by Mr. E. S. Stackhouse for Epworth League day—August 26th. Rev. J. R. Dunkerly will have in charge Old Folk's day on August 31st. The supply of ministers from the Central Pennsylvania and Wyoming conferences will be large. Rev. Dr. John Krantz, of New York, will also be present and assist in the services. Cottages may be secured and reservations at the boarding hall arranged by addressing the secretary, R. M. Tubbs, Shickshinny, Pa.

Excursion and Picnic Saturday.

The Order of United American Mechanics' excursion and picnic Saturday, July 25, to Edgewood Park, Shamokin. The friends of the order and public in general are invited to participate with them in the excursion to the beautiful park. Meals will be served on the grounds if you do not wish to take lunch baskets along. Fare for the round trip from Bloomsburg, $1.25—half fare, 65 c. Special round trip tickets from Benton and parts north on the B. & S., $2.00—half fare, $1.00. Stillwater and Zahners, $1.85—half fare 95 c. Forks and Orangeville, $1.75—half fare 90c. Light Street, $1.50—half fare, 75c.

Entertained Her Friends.

In honor of Misses McCormick of Williamsport, Miss Anna Creasy and Joseph Skeer of Bloomsburg, Miss Blanche Millard entertained twenty friends at her home in Centralia on Saturday evening. Centralia, Ashland and Mount Carmel were represented. The affair was one of the most delightful social events of the year in our neighboring town. Hopkin Parry was Mount Carmel's representative.—Mt. The Skeletons Found.

Twenty-six years ago when the Centralia colliery was operated by Bryson & Gorrell, the firm maintained two fine double teams for the use of the colliery officials, one gray, the other black. One morning the hostler came to look at the horses and opening the door of the box stall where the gray team was kept he looked into a yawning beech. During the night a gangway in the mammoth vein, directly under the stable, collapsed and the grays were drawn down into the cavity. Rescue was impossible, even if the animals had not been killed. The stable was moved and the incident closed. On Saturday a new opening reached the face of the old gangway, which had been closed for so many years. There the miners found the skeleton remains of the horses which had perished almost a generation ago. The bones were in a fair state of preservation and the moulding remains of the feed box from the stall found near the skeletons. The find excited a good deal of comment among the older residents of Centralia, many of the old miners having been on Bryson & Gorrell's pay roll when the cave-in occurred.

Hot Days and Outagion.

The hot summer days will be productive of some forms of contagious diseases if care is not taken in the disposal of garbage and the preservation of sanitary conditions about the yards and in the houses. Drains should be flushed, chlorides and other disinfectants should be freely used, while soap, water and fresh air must be permitted to play their part in the prevention of disease.

When a disease case comes that requires the enforcement of the quarantine, the utmost care should be taken in the methods of fumigation.
