Wants to go to St. Louis
John F. Watts has accepted an agency for the Saturday Evening Post, and is endeavoring to get a sufficient number of subscribers to entitle him to a trip to St. Louis next year. The Post offers a free trip to the World's Fair to the boy who secures the largest number of subscribers for three months. The subscription price for that time is only sixty-five cents, and as the paper is one of the oldest in the country, as well as one of the best of its kind, subscribers will get the full worth of their money, as well as help John along in a laudable cause.

The M. E. Church at Stillwater will hold a festival in the McHenry Grove at that place on Saturday evening, August 15th. Should the weather be stormy on the above date the festival will be held Aug. 22nd. A pleasant time is anticipated, and all are cordially invited.

An event that promises to be prolific of much pleasure is programmed for to-morrow evening when Ent Post, No. 250 G. A. R. will entertain guests from nearby towns. Extraordinary preparations are being made for the occasion, and a delightful time is assured. The ladies of the G. A. R. will serve refreshments.

A quartette of Catawissa boys, Fred Millard, Ira Carl, Harry Longenburger and Reuben Shuck, were arrested by William Heinsbach, for trespassing and stealing apples. They were given a hearing before Squire Mensch of Rupert, yesterday and held under $100 bail for their appearance at September Court.

George B. Appleman and P. B. Appleman, of Rohrsburg, and Jos. Fleckenstine, of Orangeville, represented this county in a quait pitching contest against a trio from Muncy, at Jerseytown on Friday. In the doubles honors were pretty evenly divided, but in the singles George Appleman won in a walk. The same parties have arranged a match to take place at Unityville about the middle of September.

The air was blue around the corner of Main and Iron street Sunday afternoon. The persistent pursuit of dog catcher Witts after a dog without a muzzle, angered the owner of the animal to such a degree that he gave expression to considerable bad language, and a collision seemed imminent. The interposition of some wiser heads, however prevented a scrap, but the parting was marked by some dramatic gestures and vile words.

If you want wall paper or window curtains go to Mercer's Drug and Book store.

During James Cadow's absence Saturday evening his home located on Catharine street was broken into and robbed of $5.00. His family is away on a visit, and he had come up town. When he returned he found his desk open and the money gone. An entrance was effected by breaking some of the slats on the rear shutters and raising the window. The lock on the desk had been broken, but nothing else had been disturbed. The robbers left no clew behind them.

John Mensch died at his home in Catawissa yesterday afternoon, aged thirty-five years. He had been ill for several weeks. He was employed as car inspector by the P. & R. Railroad Company, and was active in secret societies, being a member of the K. G. E. and Sons of Veterans. The deceased was a son of Thomas Mensch, and is survived by a wife and two children. The funeral will take place on Saturday at two o'clock.

The eighty-fourth birthday of James Posten was celebrated at the home of his son John W. Posten, with whom he has been living, on Tuesday. The occasion was a happy one. The following children and grandchildren were present: Mr. and Mrs. George Posten and daughter Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Deiterick daughter Laura and sons James and Clarence, and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Faulkner and daughter, all of Pittston.

The Pawnee Bill Wild West Show was well attended on Saturday. The performance differed but little from that given by him here several years ago. There were a number of good features prominent, among which was the Japanese troupe, but a good deal of the program was quite monotonous. The last stand or the Fall of Luzon which had been so extensively advertised as the greatest of all military spectacles, was very tame, and was all over before the majority of the audience had caught on to what was being enacted.

Bicycles. New ones for $25.00 and they are worth looking at, at Mercer's Drug and Book Store.

DROVE OVER THE EMBANKMENT.

There was considerable excitement in Catawissa about nine o'clock last evening, caused by an accident which befell a party of six young ladies and a young gentleman. The young ladies were Misses Anna and Dora Smith, Anna Kramer, Dorothy Fetterman, Emma Barnard and Joe Lyons of Ashland and Miss Martha Jones of Bloomsburg.

They were on their way to Numedia where they were going to spend the night and continue on to Ashland this morning. They had reached a point near the entrance to the bridge across Catawissa creek. The darkness was so intense that the driver could not see the road, and before he knew it the horses pulled to the side and in an instant, carriage, horses and occupants, with the exception of Miss Jones, who jumped, went down over the embankment. The screams of the ladies attracted a number of men to the scene, who took care of the horses, while the ladies extricated themselves, and hurried to the Catawissa Hotel where they spent the night.

Strange to relate none of the party was injured to any extent. Even the horses escaped, but the carriage was a complete wreck. It is needless to say the experience was one which the young ladies don't care to repeat.

Speaks Well for the School.
Bloomsburg will be numerously represented in the various colleges next year. A much larger number of students than usual will go direct from the Normal class rooms to college this fall, while there will be the usual delegation of those who have engaged in teaching after leaving the Normal to gain the funds necessary for their college expenses. Among the colleges which will enroll Bloomsburg trained students may be mentioned Cornell, Princeton, Lafayette, Haverford, Dickinson, Syracuse, State, Woman's College of Baltimore, Brown University, the U. of Michigan, U. of Pa. and a number of medical and dental colleges.
Base ball fever appears to be contagious. Catawissa and Rupert have caught it now, and each burg claims to have the strongest team. The series, as we understand it is even, each having won a game. The deciding event was being played the other evening, when Rupert protested a decision of the umpire and left the field. The score at the time was 2 to 0 in favor of Rupert. Now Rupert has challenged them a game on neutral grounds for a purse of $20. Catawissa has accepted and the game will be played at Danville in the near future. All kinds of side bets are being posted. The interest has even reached Bloomsburg, and several of the boys will go down with a roll of the long green to back the Catawissa outfit.
