A TEACHERS' COURSE.

The New Century Correspondence Schools of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. have established a new course of which Ex-County Superintendent John K. Miller is the manager.

The object of the Teachers' Course is to prepare teachers for the examinations by County Superintendents for Provisional, Professional, and Permanent Certificates.

The officers of these schools are men who stand high in their callings, and the Board of Directors include Ex-Atty. Gen. H. W. Palmer, Judge A. M. Freas, Ex-Senator W. J. Scott, and others equally well known.

The circular goes on to say: "If you wish to teach, let us help you prepare for the examination. If you are already teaching, do not be satisfied with a provisional certificate, but try for a professional, and if you have a professional, a permanent should be your ambition."

Any information concerning the Teachers' Course can be obtained by addressing John K. Miller, Bloomsburg, Pa.

DEATH INSTEAD OF ALTAR.

With her wedding trossseau all in readiness for her coming marriage, says the Sunbury Item, and her lover all attention and a devoted cavalier Miss Lydia F. Smith of Nescopeck, aged 29, was stricken with apoplexy a week ago and after hovering between life and death gave up the struggle and her soul passed into eternity Friday night.

The deceased was a very prominent young woman and was to have been married to A. F. Simley of Hazleton, who is employed by the Atlantic Refining Co. The wedding was set for two weeks from Friday and the unfortunate young lady had her trossseau all prepared and was looking forward to the happy event with the pleasurable anxiety of a bride to be.

This is a particularly sad death as the couple had a newly furnished home and every prospect for a bright and happy future.

DO YOU HAVE COMPANY?

It is somewhat remarkable that, with the numerous social entertainments that are given in Bloomsburg, there are some things necessary in the giving of parties, that are not to be found in any shop in the town.

You can get these here cheaper than you can send for them. Samples are displayed in our show window at U. States Express Office, or can be seen in our office.

After Many Years.

Bernard Maran, an old time resident of Danville, has reappeared after an absence of 32 years. Maran left in 1871 and had been regarded as dead by his family until he wrote a letter to his son several weeks ago.

Resolved, That we extend our sympathy to the bereaved family who lose a loving husband and father.

Resolved, That the meeting rooms of the Fire Company and the vacant chair be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the bereaved family, that they be entered upon the minutes of the Company; and that they be sent to the daily and weekly papers of Bloomsburg for publication.

Danville Wins Again.

We must take off our hats to the Danville boys. They have twice in succession vanquished our tennis experts, and have a dear claim to the 1903 championship of the two towns.

Dr. Peck was unable to play on Monday, and E. F. Carpenter was substituted. The scores were as follows: In the first contest between Jennings and Watson and Dentler and Rishton, the former named team won by the score of 6-1 and 9-7.
