

IS NOW A DUCHESS.

Roxburgh-Goelet Marriage Celebrated in New York.

WITH ABSENCE OF ALL OSTENTATION

The Noble Bridegroom is Descended From One of the Old English Families, and the Event Has Caused Widespread Interest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—With all the simplicity and absence of ostentation that it is possible to associate with an international marriage of such importance the wedding of Miss May Goelet, the only daughter of Mrs. Ogden Goelet, and Henry John Innes-Ker, duke of Roxburgh, was solemnized today at St. Thomas' church in this city.

DUKE OF ROXBURGH.

Bishop Doane of Albany and the Rev. Ernest M. Stines of St. Thomas' officiated.

Not since the marriages of Consuelo Vanderbilt to the Duke of Marlborough and of Anna Gould to the Count de Castellane has the union of an American woman to a nobleman been the cause of such widespread interest, and had it not been for the death of Sir Michael Herbert, British ambassador to the United States, who was the bride's uncle through marriage, it is possible that the wedding would have been one of the grandest from a spectacular point of view that has ever been seen in New York. Indeed it is said that elaborate preparations had already been begun for a brilliant function when the death of Sir Michael was announced from Davos-Platz, Switzerland.

The wedding dress was a Worth creation of white satin, veiled with point valenciennes lace and trimmed with wreaths of orange blossoms. The bride wore a tulle veil, and her only jewel was a diamond and emerald pendant, a gift from the groom. She was attended by eight bridesmaids, dressed all alike in gowns of pink mousseline de soie. The dresses were of the Louis Seize period and looked quaint and effective. Each of the bride's attendants carried a muff. The bridesmaids were Lady Isabel Innes-Ker, Miss Beatrice Mills, Miss Martha Johnston, Miss Alice Babcock, Miss Marian Haven, Miss Terese Iselin, Miss Pauline Whittier and Miss Nina Thayer of Boston.

The Hon. Reginald Ward, son of the late Earl of Dudley, was the best man and the ushers the Hon. Hugo Baring, Harold Brassey, Robert Wharton Goelet, cousin of the bride; Rogers Winthrop, Henry Bull and William Woodward.

The wedding presents received were rich of design and costly. Mrs. Goelet's gift was a pearl and diamond tiara with two large diamond bow-knots which were bought at the sale of the French crown jewels. Besides the ornaments which the bride wore to the altar the Duke of Roxburgh also gave her a diamond tiara.

The bride's bouquet, in addition to white orchids, lilies of the valley and fresh orange blossoms, had in the center a sprig of white Scotch heather "just for luck."

The duke and his bride will go to Newport to spend a few days in the unusual quiet in which the great watering place falls at this season, but the real honeymoon will be passed on the duke's estate in Scotland at Floors castle.

BOCAS DEL TORO CAPTURED.

Panama Flag Was Hoisted Without a Shot Being Fired.

COLON, Nov. 11.—The steam launch sent to Bocas del Toro to capture that place in the name of the new republic of Panama has returned here, and the officers report that the place was captured and the flag hoisted without a shot being fired. No difficulties whatsoever were encountered.

The majority of the officials of Bocas del Toro are natives of Panama, and they expressed themselves as rejoiced at the course affairs had taken on the isthmus. The people of the town were jubilant at the news, and only a few persons were found to be dissatisfied with the situation. These latter were brought to Colon, but not as prisoners.

The provisional government of Panama has received a telegram from President Marroquin of the republic of Colombia giving assurances that the Panama canal bill would most certainly pass congress and that General Reyes was on his way to the isthmus to make proposals looking to peace and the saving of the national honor.

The provisional government has sent a letter to General Reyes, which will reach him on his arrival at Savannah, advising that it is useless for him to come to Panama, as his mission is a hopeless one.

The United States cruiser Atlanta has arrived here from her cruise along the coast.

KAISER HAS OPERATION.

Polypus Growth on Larynx of the Emperor Was Removed.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Emperor William has just undergone an operation for the removal of a polypus from his larynx. It was not a serious one, and the surgeons expect that his majesty will be out of doors in a few days.

The operation was performed by Professor Moritz Schmidt and was entirely successful. The only inconvenience suffered by his majesty is that he has been enjoined not to speak until the wound caused by the operation has been healed. The bulletins announcing the result of the operation caused much astonishment, even among court officials, who had no suspicion that his majesty was suffering from any affection of the throat.

PEARY AND THE POLE.

Royal Geographical Society Hears Arctic Explorer's Future Plans.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Commander Peary, U. S. N., lectured before the Royal Geographical society in the presence of Ambassador Choate, Secretary White and many other distinguished persons. After reviewing his previous attempts to reach the north pole Peary said his future plans were based on the belief that the Smith sound route was the only practicable one. He wished to win the pole for America because it was the last great geographical prize the world had to offer, and it was peculiarly an object of American pride and patriotism.

Fatal Crash of Train and Trolley.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 11.—James Thomas, a watchman, and Mary Bore, an Italian girl, have been killed at Ackermanville. They were passengers on a Northampton Traction company trolley car that was run down and wrecked by a Bangor and Portland railroad freight train. The father, mother and sister of the dead girl, Engineer Chapman and brakeman Kern of the freight train were seriously injured. The engine was thrown from the track and landed in a ditch six feet below the roadbed. How the trolley car came to be run on the railroad in front of the train crossing has not been explained.

Miss Roosevelt Now Rides Astride.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Miss Alice Roosevelt has discarded the side saddle and conventional riding habit and now rides in divided skirts. The announcement has caused a flutter among conservative Washingtonians, but the president's daughter and Mrs. Rider, who has been teaching her how to sit on a horse in what she regards as the more rational method, now pass through the park mounted astride without causing any more comment than the presence of the president's daughter ordinarily provokes.

Bad Fire at Toronto Gas Works.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 11.—An obstinate fire is raging in the coal and coke house of the Consumers' Gas company here. Seven or eight thousand tons of gas coal are burning fiercely and with terrific heat, being fanned by a stiff wind from the southwest. The fire is confined to the building in which it originated, but there is no likelihood of its being extinguished for some days. The value of the coal is estimated at $44,000, the building at $40,000 and machinery at $25,000.

OUR CUBAN TRADE

The President's Message to Congress on Reciprocity.

ISLAND'S POSITION IS UNIQUE.

It Was Provided by the Treaty That When Freedom Was Declared She Should Stand in Close Trade Relation With This Country.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President Roosevelt's message to congress, convened in extra session, was sent to the house today:

To the Senate and House of Representatives: I have convened the congress that it may consider the legislation necessary to carry into effect the commercial treaty with Cuba which was ratified by the senate at its last session and subsequently by the Cuban government. I deem such legislation demanded not only by our interest, but by our honor. We cannot with propriety abandon the course upon which we have so wisely embarked. When the acceptance of the last amendment was required from Cuba by the action of the congress of the United States, this government thereby definitely committed itself to the policy of treating Cuba as occupying a unique position as regards this island. It was provided that when the island became a free and independent republic she should stand in such close relations with us as in certain respects to come within our system of international policy, and it necessarily followed that she must also to a certain degree become included within the lines of our economic policy. Situated as Cuba is it would not be possible for this country to permit the strategic abuse of the island by any foreign military power.

It is for this reason that certain limitations have been imposed upon her financial policy and that naval stations have been conceded by her to the United States. The negotiations as to the details of these naval stations are on the eve of completion. They are both military and economic. The granting to us by Cuba of the naval stations above alluded to is of the utmost importance from a military standpoint and is proof of the good faith with which Cuba is treating us. Cuba has made great progress since her independence was established. She has advanced steadily in every way. She already stands high among her sister republics of the new world. She is rapidly closing her obligations to us, and she is entitled to like treatment by us.

The treaty submitted to you for approval to the United States economic advantages as great as those given to Cuba. Not an American interest is sacrificed by the treaty. The Cuban market is secured to our producers. It is a market which lies at our doors, which is already large, which is capable of great expansion and which is especially important to the development of our export trade. It would be indeed shortsighted for us to refuse to take advantage of such an opportunity and to force Cuba into making arrangements with other countries to our disadvantage.

This reciprocity treaty stands by itself. It is demanded on considerations of broad national policy as well as by our economic interest. It will do harm to no industry. It will benefit many industries. It is in the interest of our people as a whole, both because of its importance from the broad standpoint of international policy and because economically it intimately concerns us to develop and secure the rich Cuban market. It is a guarantee of the good faith of our nation toward her young sister republic to the south, whose welfare we ever have been bound to cherish. We gave her liberty. We are knit to her by the memories of the blood and the courage of our soldiers who fought for her in war, by the memories of the wisdom and integrity of our administrators who served her in peace and who started her on her way to the difficult path of self government. We must help her onward and upward, and in helping her we shall help ourselves.

The foregoing considerations caused the negotiation of the treaty with Cuba and its ratification by the senate. It now with equal force support the legislation by the congress which by the terms of the treaty is necessary to render it operative. A failure to enact such legislation would come perilously near a repudiation of the pledged faith of the nation.

I transmit herewith the treaty as amended by the senate and ratified by the Cuban government.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

White House, Nov. 10, 1903.

CONGRESS OPENS.

Extra Session to Consider Cuban Trade Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The house of representatives was called to order today by Alexander McDowell, the clerk. The opening of congress always attracts a much larger crowd to the capitol than the galleries will accommodate, so admission was by card, two being supplied to each member. There were the usual flower displays to lend picturesqueness to the scene. The proclamation of the president convening congress in extraordinary session having been read, prayers were offered by the chaplain, and the roll was called by states.

Mr. Cannon had been selected as the unanimous choice of his party for speaker and was formally elected.

"Elijah Hill" at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—"Peace be with you!" "De-light-ed!" John Alexander Dowie has called on President Roosevelt at the White House, and the two talked together for half an hour. He came out of the president's office apparently much satisfied with the call and with a declaration of Roosevelt support for the presidential nomination on his lips.

M. Philippe Banau Varilla was received by Secretary Hay this morning at the state department and duly recognized as the minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary of the new republic of Panama to the United States.

The state department has been informed by an agent of the Panama Canal company that the provisional government of Panama has designated a commission of three members, one of whom is Federico Boyd, a member of the junta, who will leave Panama today for Washington to begin immediately the negotiation of a new canal treaty. The commission, it is stated, is clothed with full powers to conclude that instrument.
