Attempt to blackmail Rock Island railroad by holdup men was frustrated by special train filled with armed men. Alexander Jazinka, a Polish grocer doing business on Wayne street, Pittsburg, was shot and killed by three men who attempted to rob the store. Emperor William's physicians have issued a reassuring bulletin of his condition after Saturday's operation on his throat. Asserted that he has no cancer. Two German war ships have been sent to Santo Domingo in consequence of a refusal of authorities there to allow a German steamer to land passengers and cargo. Turkey has taken severe measures to suppress Armenian revolutionary movements in Erzerum. One band of Hunchakists from Russia was exterminated and another driven back. Frank G. Tefft of the well known dry goods house of Tefft, Weller & Co., New York, died at Great Barrington, Mass., on the day that he had arranged to make public his engagement to marry Miss Helen M. Whitney. News from Santo Domingo confirms the report of a rupture in the relations between the United States government and that of Santo Domingo. The Dominican gunboat Independencia has been damaged and damaged the town of Macoris. The race between the British third class cruisers Medusa and Medea from Gibraltar to Portsmouth has been won by the Medusa by three minutes. They sailed a race home at full speed for the purpose of testing their boilers and coal consumption. Bessie Knecht, the "sleeping girl," is dead. Miss Knecht was taken to a hospital last February in an unconscious condition. After forty-seven days she partially revived, but soon sank into a comatose condition again and never fully regained consciousness. Monday, Nov. 9. Women formed a bucket brigade and gave aid in fighting fire at Hempstead, N. Y. Senator Hanna once more has announced that he is not a candidate for president. The Rev. W. H. Hubbard of Brooklyn put a stop to a dance planned by members of his choir. Recent torpedo trials have convinced the British admiralty that the offensive power of the torpedos has been underestimated. Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), with his family, and George Gregory Smith have taken possession of the Villa Quarto, three and a half miles from Florence, Italy. Frank P. Sargent, commissioner general of immigration, was stricken with paralysis at his home in Washington. It is believed that Mr. Sargent overworked himself. Colonel W. T. Blackwell of Durham, N. C., has been stricken with paralysis, and no hope for his recovery is held out. Starting as a poor boy, he amassed a fortune in tobacco. The convention of the American Federation of Labor has opened in Faneuil hall, Boston. Nearly all the delegates were present, the arrivals including President Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell. The United States gunboat Newport has been ordered to Santo Domingo, and the president there is preparing to resist an expected attack by revolutionists, who, it was predicted, will win in a few days. Mr. George Alexander, having opposed the wearing of evening dress in London theaters and suggested that ladies should remove their hats, Mrs. Stannard has replied that they cannot do so because ninety-nine women out of every hundred wear wigs. Saturday, Nov. 7. Burr Mattice, justice of the supreme court at Oneonta, N. Y., is dead. An automobile boat made twenty-six miles an hour in a test on the Hudson river at New York. Ambassador von Sternburg will sail for New York Nov. 17 on the Kronprinz Wilhelm. Emperor William's yacht Meteor will come to the United States next spring to enter the ocean race. A German fort at Warmbad, Damaraland, southwest Africa, was taken by natives and the garrison massacred. General Wood, on a visit to the Moros, was received in a friendly spirit by hitherto hostile natives of the Lake Lanao region. Seven were killed and twenty hurt at Mula, Spain, by the collapse of a building in which a scientific society was holding a meeting. Enraged over a name applied to him, Earl Flory, a thirteen-year-old boy of Monongahela, Pa., shot and killed James Murphy, aged twelve years, and severely wounded John Johnson, aged eleven years. Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, daughter of General U. S. Grant, who will spend the winter at St. Louis with her daughter Rosemary, is likely to succeed Mrs. James L. Blair as president of the board of lady managers of the world's fair. Edward W. Tyrell, aged twenty-one, a clerk for the Home Messenger Service, is under arrest on a charge of murder, and Albert Wood, fourteen years of age, a messenger for the same concern, is dead at Detroit, Mich. They foiled with a loaded gun. Friday, Nov. 6. The bimetallic bank of Cripple Creek, Colo., has failed. Lardones in Cavite, P. I., cut the tendons of a prisoner's legs and left him on the roadway. France will send a war ship to take part in the celebration at New Orleans of the transfer of Louisiana. Emperor William was represented at Professor Mommensen's funeral at Charlottenburg by the crown prince. Three passengers were pitched overboard from the deck of the steamer Arcadia by the lurching of the vessel in rough seas. Russia insists upon the execution of the Chinese officer who recently beheaded a noted brigand in the employ of the Russians. Portland, Ore., is without money, and the city council wants a special session of the legislature called to help the city out of its trouble. Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, has called attention to the need of coal depots for the navy in foreign waters. Helmer Duncan, twenty-one years old, is a prisoner in the Long Island City (New York) jail on the charge of burglary and setting fire to the Parsons company's office in an attempt to destroy the books at Flushing, N. Y. Emperor William on his arrival at Egelsbach, Germany, was cordially received at the railroad station by the czar, the Grand Duke of Hesse and Prince Henry of Prussia. Their majesties kissed each other on both cheeks and then drove to Wolfsgarten, where they had lunch together. Frank B. Poor, president of the Citizens' Light and Power company, recently organized as a rival of a company of the same name which was incorporated in New Jersey, has been arrested at Seattle, Wash., on a bench warrant issued from the court of general sessions, New York city, charging him with grand larceny. When President Roosevelt received the news that General Tovar and all the Colombian government troops in Panama had evacuated the isthmus, leaving the provisional government of the new republic of Panama in undisputed control, he immediately held a cabinet conference, the result being the official recognition of the republic of Panama. Thursday, Nov. 5. Grout polled the largest vote in New York. Devery, disgusted, has announced he will retire from politics. N. W. Harris has bought the Michigan Telephone company for $4,100,000 at foreclosure sale. Police Commissioner Greene of New York says he will resign Jan. 1 without waiting for McClellan to oust him. The New York board of aldermen stands: Tammany, 56; fusion, 23. The board of estimate—Tammany, 15; fusion, 1. A year-old baby was killed by an automobile at West End avenue and Sixty-ninth street, New York. The driver barely escaped the mob. One person was killed outright and fifty-one others injured, two of them perhaps fatally, in the collision of two cable cars in a fog at Kansas City, Mo. The Serbian government is negotiating with a firm in America for the purchase of several thousand of the Mauser rifles captured from the Spanish in Cuba. A serious combat has taken place on the Brazilian frontier between the Uruguayan police and Brazilians. The Brazilians opened fire and killed four and wounded several of the Uruguayan party. The president is much pleased with the result of the elections despite disappointment over New York city and Maryland. He has sent congratulations to Senator Hanna and leaders in other states. Six men were killed and ten were injured by a series of explosions at the government arsenal on Iona island, in the Hudson river, opposite Peekskill, N. Y. The explosions occurred in sheds used for the storage of dynamite, powder and shells. The dramatic murder of Sagatol Sagouni, president of the Armenian revolutionary society in London, has been followed by the assassination of two more delegates to the Armenian convention there. The suicide of the assassin gives good reason to believe that he also was the slayer of Sagouni.

MARY'S CLEVER IDEAS.

How She Transformed a Lot of Fancy Handkerchiefs Into Pretty Christmas Gifts.

One day Mary bought at a bargain-sale a lot of pretty fancy kerchiefs. Some were a trifle damaged, and were sold for about one-fourth the regular price. Being a very clever girl, she soon transformed them into a number of pretty gifts for her Christmas-box, for it is her habit to begin to plan for Christmas quite awhile beforehand. One pretty scalloped-border kerchief had a hole about the size of a dollar in the middle. The illustration will show you how she cut it up. The piece with incurved edge, that runs along one full side of the kerchief, and the two other corner-pieces were put together to form a dainty turnover collar. This was done by placing the cut side of the small piece under the scallops on one end of the long piece, the scallops buttonholed down to the under piece, and the raw edge of linen cut away. This gave an odd double-corner effect that was very pretty. The two curved strips were narrowly hemmed, crossed in the middle, and tied loosely, and when the collar was set into bands of muslin the little bow made a fitting finish for the front. A hemmed-edge, fancy embroidered kerchief was made into two collars for two small sisters, it being nearly large enough to go around their necks as it was. A ruffle of inch-wide lace finished the edges. After cutting the collars from the two opposite sides, there remained a strip about five inches wide through the center. The handkerchief was scorched down the middle fold, but was otherwise good. So this strip was divided in two, each hemmed, and made into tiny bows for the closing of the collar. Two embroidery-edged ones had the scalloped edges a little defective, so of them she made a sofa-pillow cover. Two squares of prettily colored cloth were chosen, each being about four inches larger than the kerchiefs, and one kerchief laid in the center of each. Then with a contrasting shade of silk thread the scallops were fastened to the foundation with button-hole stitch. A cord finished the edge of the pretty cover. One that was perfect she used to fashion an odd hat-pin cushion. She procured a round pickle-bottle about six inches tall, and filled it with slipped felt and woolen bits. Then she cut a 13-inch circle of pale blue silk, gathered it along the edge, and, slipping it over the bottle, drew the strings tightly around the neck of the bottle. A little round cap of blue was drawn smoothly over the top, and sewn firmly to the gathers at the neck. This gave a sort of full-skirt appearance to the bottom of the cover. The kerchief was laid over the top of the bottle, with the center exactly in the middle of the opening, then with a bit of No. 2 pale blue ribbon it was tied about the neck of the bottle, and finished with a fluffy bow. As this was a deeply embroidered pattern in a very "holey" design, the effect was very dainty. It can be kept dainty, as the kerchief cover is easily removed and washed. Another "whole" kerchief helped beautifully a little basket. This was an embroidered silk one, of the style now used for nothing save fancy work. She chose one of the little Japanese "jinko," or ball-baskets, and measured the distance from the mouth, clear around the basket, and back again to the other side of the mouth. Then she added two inches to that measure, and drew a circle on the kerchief that was the same as this in diameter. She gathered along this line, using the over-and-over stitch, and doing it on the right side of the handkerchief. The handkerchief being white, with pink embroidery, she lined the basket with a bit of pink silk, bringing the linings well over to the outside of the basket. She then set the little basket into the bag made of the kerchief, and drawing the string until the bag opening just fitted that of the basket, she caught it fast with invisible stitches. A string of small pink beads was sewed on as you would apply a cord finish. This was for use on the dresser, to hold collar-buttons.—May Myrtle French, in Farm and Fireside. New Hair-Dressing Idea. Hair dressed well forward and on the top of the head is once more becoming the order of the day and of the evening, too, for that matter. It should be drawn up rather close to the head at the back, taking care, however, that it is not too tight just behind the ears, for this detail, slight as it may seem, often constitutes the difference between a becoming and a dowdy coiffure. The front should be puffed well forward, but not too low down over the forehead, as this is rather apt to give a scowling aspect to the most genial of countenances. The width of the head should be accentuated as little as possible, except in those cases where the face is already very long and requires a broader effect to be imparted by the hair.—Chicago Examiner. When Making Buttonholes. Always run the buttonhole twist all around the hole about one-sixteenth of an inch from the edge before beginning the actual buttonholing? This strengthens and prevents it from tearing out, besides serving as a guide to the depth of the stitches.

It Must Come.

As inevitable as the changing seasons of the year is the change which comes to every woman. And just as one anticipates the changes of other seasons it is wise to anticipate this change of season and prepare for it. In this way the discomforts and disasters suffered by many women at the period of change can be avoided or overcome. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine for every season of woman's life, will entirely meet the needs of women at this period of change. It cures the physical ills and relieves the mental anxiety and depression usually associated with this critical period. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep. $500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED. Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women is so well attested, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Profluvium, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure. J. S. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Coffee Co., Tenn., writes: "I have been using your medicine for the last sixteen or eighteen years in my poor-house. I am superintendent of the Coffee County Poor-house and Asylum combined. Your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are the best medicines for the diseases for which they are recommended, that I ever used. They saved my wife's life at the time of 'change of life.' I have been recommending your medicine to many afflicted women and have also guaranteed that if it did not cure I would pay back the money spent for it. I have told our druggist that if the people came back and said 'Doctor Pierce's medicine did not give satisfaction to give them back their money and to charge it to me.' I have not once been called upon to refund. I have never found anything to equal the 'Favorite Prescription' for diseases of women." Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The State Factory Inspector's Department is taking steps for the eradication of child labor about the State, and the deputies have been working toward that end in almost every county. The children are compelled to show their certificates and even in such cases the youngsters' fathers have to prove that they are of legal age for working in factories.

Free medical advice. Men and women suffering from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., by letter, absolutely without fee or charge. For more than thirty years as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce has devoted himself to the treatment and cure of chronic forms of disease. Assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, each man a specialist, his success has been phenomenal, ninety-eight persons in every hundred treated being absolutely and altogether cured. Women have especially availed themselves of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, thereby avoiding the unpleasant questionings, the obnoxious examinations, and odious local treatments considered necessary by some practitioners. Over half a million women have been treated by Dr. Pierce and his staff for diseases peculiar to women, with unvarying success. Write without fear as without fee. Every letter is treated as strictly private and socially confidential, and all answers are sent in plain envelopes, bearing no printing upon them. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The fellow who never swears may still give a cursory glance. AN ENGLISH AUTHOR WROTE: "No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves,—November!" Many Americans would add no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula, completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's Greatest Medicine for America's Greatest Disease.—Catarrh.

Many a self-made man is made over again after he marries. EXPOSURE to sudden climatic change produces cold in the head and catarrh is apt to follow. Provided with Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh. Price 50 cents at Druggists or Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York, will mail it. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses and cures. Cream Balm quickly cures the cold. Half the things you hear are not true and the rest are not the way you hear them.

Two Autumn Gowns From Paris

THE cut and hints here given are from the Chic Parisien. The gown at the left is of black cloth trimmed with blue velvet and black silk galloon. The skirt is made with a hip-yoke forming a sharp point in front extending almost to the bottom of the skirt, which is encircled with the trimming. To this yoke the skirt is plaited, the plaits opening out below the hips. The bolero, with lengthened shoulders, is elaborately trimmed with the velvet and galloon and opens over a blouse front of white silk. The sleeves are plaited at the top and finished in a triple effect at the bottom, the edges bordered with galloon or passementerie and augmented with passementerie motifs. The outside of the sleeves is loose and the inside is drawn in to form a cuff finished with a turnover of the velvet and galloon. The girdle is of black satin or velvet coat is of white cloth or silk, and is turned back to form revers. The blouse is of white silk with collar of the embroidery, in which is run an odd little cravat of black velvet. The full sleeves, plaited at the top, have little scalloped sleeve caps of the material, and are finished with cuffs trimmed with the cord embroidery. At the wrists are frills of lace. The skirt is gathered at the top and encircled below with scalloped bands of the cloth and applique motifs of the embroidered cloth. The girdle is of brown satin.
