The death of Clinton DeWitt occurred at the home of his son-in-law which he had long been suffering. Mr. Dewitt was among the best known residents of Columbia County. He was a life long and stalwart Democrat, and always took a deep and active interest in the work of the party. He for many years was s successful farmer, and resided $1.00 east of Zaner's station on the B. & $2.00 S. Railroad. He later lived at Benton, but for more than a year past, up to just recently he made his home with Mr. Nelson Marr $1.00 near Stillwater. Mr. DeWitt was sixty-seven years of age. He was twice married. His second wife died about two years ago. A fami-ly of eight survives. They are, Mrs. Clarence Yost, of Van Camp, Mrs. Amanda Robison, of Danville, Mrs. Creola Wenner, of Bender-

MATCH WOULD BE IDEAL.

Rumor Has It That German Crown Prince May Wed Princess of Cumberland.

Again is the gossip revived in Ber-In that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has smoothed away the obstacles that have stood between the crown prince of Germany and Princess Alexandra of Cumberland, and that the Hanoverian girl has good prospects of becoming empress of Germany come day. The fact is that whereas the crown prince is now of marriageable age, the crop of princesses suited to him in years, health, religion and politics is extremely limited. Two or three English princesses are available and suitable, and rumor has re-Clarence Yost, at Van Camp, Sat- peatedly engaged him to one or the urday morning. The immediate other of them, and Emperor William cause of his death was dropsy, with is understood to be rather in favor of such a match. But the emperor remembers the unpopularity of his mother in Germany, and the rooted objection of the German public to have an English empress. So it is that the name of Princess Alexandria comes up again.

If the crown prince of Germany marries Princess Alexandra of Cumberon his own farm, a short distance | land it will be a romantic match, for there has been a bitter feud between the Hohenzollerns and the Guelphs of Hanover for the last 35 years. In the war of 1866 the king of Hanover, the grandfather of Princess Alexandra, was led by his warm friendship for Emperor Francis Joseph to take the losing side, with the result that when Prussia had crushed Austria he was dethroned and his dominions added to the Prussian crown. There is still a Guelph party in Hanover and every year on the duke of Cumberland's birthday a deputation comes to Gmunden to bring him the greeting of his "loyal subjects in Hanover." The Guelphian movement in Hanover, however, is suppressed with an iron hand by the most approved German police methods. Since the crash, the royal family has lived in Austria, at Penzing, near Vienna, and at Gmunden in upper Austria. The head of the family uses his English title, Cumberland, but keeps up all the state and ceremony of a king at his residences.

Princess Alexandra is a tall, pleasant looking girl, but not particularly that burglars broke in the house. beautiful. She is an enthusiastic The woman claiming to be Hite's yachtswoman and sails her own boat Gmunden lake. She has been much at the Austrian court where the Cumberlands take the precedence of every one and are treated as a reigning family. She is a Protestant and therefore religiously eligible to be the German crown prince's bride.

Probable Murder.

Mrs. Krebs states that her daughterin-law has known Hite for about a year and that he has several times before threatened to shoot her, but for what she does not know. The husband refuses to talk of the affair.

The movements of Hite after the shooting are shrouded in mystery. The elder Mrs. Krebs and the daughter-in-law state that they do not know when or how he left the house after the shooting. Neighbors say that soon after the shots were fired they saw a man step from the rear porch at the Krebs house and go down the yard disappearing in the darkness. About eight o'clock Monday morning Hite was located at Fairmount Hotel in this city, with his wife. Hite refuses to talk but a story in circulation is to the effect that when Officer Whalen went to the hotel for Hite the woman asked what was wrong, and when told, stated "why it wasn't him, I did the shooting myself." The officers kept Hite under surveillance at the hotel until eleven o'clock when Krebs and Squire Fertig came to Sunbury and arranged to take him to Northumberland. Squire Fertig committed Hite to the county jail for a hearing this evening at seven o'clock.

Mrs. Krebs is aged 32 years and has been married nine years, but has no children. Her husband is aged 35 years and is employed on the Eastern division. He was informed of the shooting by telegraph last night and arrived in Northumberland on the same train on which his wife was brought to the hospital.

Hite is aged 50 years and comes from New York State. Mrs. Krebs Sr., is 59 years old but is a remarkably preserved woman for her age and bears up well under the strain of the tragedy. Mrs. Krebs' condition at noon to-day was very grave and when told so by the doctors, said she desired to make a statement. Justice J. P. Carpenter was sent for and in the presence of witnesses took her statement of the affair which covers five sheets of fools cap paper. The gist of the statement is that Hite did the shooting and that jealousy was the motive. It has developed that Hite saw Mrs. Krebs on the street at Northumberland last Friday night but that she spurned him and in order to escape him went to her home on Duke street to which place he followed her, and upon being refused admission, broke open the door and threatened to shoot her. She escaped to a neighbor's house and later told her husband wife has been here for a week or

COUNTY OLDEST RESIDENT DEAD.

Mrs. Betsy Lowe, claimed to be months ago she met with an accident, falling down stairs, sustaining injuries of a painful nature, to the effects of which, her death is attributed. Previous to that time she was very sprightly, and would visit with friends miles distant from her home, always making the journey on foot. She was aged ninety-eight years, and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Katharine Reese of Catawissa and a grand daughter, Mrs. Mary Yost, of Rupert.

The superstructure of the new Mainville bridge which is being built by the state, the former bridge having been carried away by the flood of 1902, has now arrived at Mainville as have also the bridge builders who will begin the work of construction at once. The bridge is of one span, but that span is a very long one. The bridge will span the Catawissa creek at that place.

Ladies' Bazaar of Reformed Church-

The ladies of this congregation are making extensive preparations for holding a bazaar beginning on the 8th, of Dec. They have se-cured some very handsome rugs from the Denwarth Rug Co. of Philadelphia, which will be on sale at that time in connection with various other articles which are in preparation.

E woman recently asserted that the fine appearance of her hair was entirely due to a persistent and thorough treatment with the familiar kerosene of the corner grocery commerce. It was applied regularly once a fortnight in the following way: A little was poured into a saucer and rubbed with the fingers into the roots of the hair. The application was slow and thorough, the gentle massage of the roots with the finger tips being needed to open the pores for the absorption of the oil. The treatment was usually made at night, and the hair afterward tied up in a silk handkerchief. The silk handkerchief is recommended by hair dressers as useful in retaining the natural electricity of the hair. By noon of the following day the odor of the kerosene had disappeared. and in another 12 hours the olliness that followed its use had also gone. The effect of this treatment on the hair was promptly noticeable, the falling out stopped, and some new short hairs were found all over the head. As the kerosene application was continued the hair became thick and smooth. When, after several months, it was finally discontinued, abundant glossy locks replaced the dry and lusterless hair-the former condition existing, though no kerosene had been used for several years .- N. SHYNESS AND BLUSHING.

Two Trying Defects Which Have Their Origin in a Lack of Self-Possession.

There is probably no defect which causes so much anguish of spirit and discomfort as shyness and blushing. Nobody who has not personally suffered from it can even begin to conceive what torture it may cause.

Shyness may proceed from one of two causes-the one physical, the other mental. It is often an affair of health. The nerves are out of order, and the will becomes weak. People shrink from their fellow-creatures, and are filled with an unreasonable horror of meeting or speaking to them. This is often the case after an illness, or when one has been overworking, and strained the physical powers too much. The best cure for this kind of shyness is fresh air, exercise and cheerful society.

But there is another shyness, and one harder to cure, which comes from mental causes. Its afflicted possessor may be in robust health and yet so tormented by this inward enemy that she finds all intercourse with other people positively alarming. To meet strangers causes her a severe struggle.

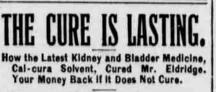

In either case, the root of the matter is self-consciousness, and it is only by losing that self-consciousness that selfpossession and confidence can be gained. As long as one thinks about oneself at all, one will be liable to shyness. The only cure is to thrust all recollection of oneself into the background as much as possible, when one will gradually become natural, happy and at ease.

To overcome shyness and blushing there is nothing on earth like going a great deal into society, and every effort possible should be made to achieve this. This does not merely mean social life, but intercourse with one's fellow creatures. Force yourself to speak to every one you come in contact with, no matter what it costs you at first. Go on bravely; never mind how much you may blush and stammer. Persist in it, and it will grow easier and easier. Never shrink from putting yourself into positions which may draw attention upon you .- N. Y. Journal.

more and it seems has been active in trying to prevent her husband from seeking Mrs. Krebs. J. F. Schaffer, Esq., has been retained by Hite, who, it is said, confessed to Chief of Police Waltz that he did shoot the women but that he was sorry for it."

Another Small Pox Victim at Centralia-

Another case of small pox was discovered in Centralia on Sunday, the victim being Patrick Campbell, a fifteen year old son of Mrs. John Welsh who keeps a candy store in that town. The case has been under suspicion for some days and was finally pronounced small pox on Sunday by Dr. Groff of Lewisburg, a member of the State Board of Health. The case is mild and Campbell is now in the hospital. It developed that he had been selling candy over the counter and Dr. Groff confiscated the store's stock and destroyed it. He also took occasion to compliment the authorities on the rigid quarantine established and expressed his approval of the work being done.

This is what Mr. H. W. Eldridge, of Cherry Valley, N. Y., writes to the manufacturer of Cal-cura Solvent :
