County Superintendent Evans Has Provided a Course That Will Appeal to All.

Russel Conwell is Coming.

Although the Teachers' Lecture $1.00 $1.00 Course at the Institute last year was generally pronounced a success, it is our opinion that the course this year will meet with still greater popular-ity, owing to the fact that a higher class of lectures and entertainments has been secured. Last year demon-strated the advisability of having $1.00 $1.00 strated the advisability of having thing in this line quite as fine as four evenings instead of three as was this company. They are not strang-$3.00 thought wise to include in these $2.00 two concerts instead of one, which arrangements will give us two lectures also.

The talent secured is the best available; each number was selected early in the year while there was opportunity to obtain the best. The cost of this course will be considerably above the cost last year, while the price of course tickets will be company, we believe that we this the same, viz: $1.50 for course tickets and 50 cents for single admission. County papers will announce board at S. R. Bidleman's store.

We are confident that many when they read that Russel H. Con-well will lecture on Monday night. Mr. Conwell has been here before and many of his great thoughts still live in our hearts as we think of the "Acres of Diamonds" he so effectually presented to our view. His subject this year will be "The Angel's Lily." Your superintend-ent has heard this masterpiece and abroad. which we are enabled to present you with this valuable publication for one year free.
