The Wheelmen's big minstrel will be the most pretentious theatrical event of the present month. The date is April 27th.

There are some gossipers who can see more through a keyhole than others can through an open door four blocks away.

Dr. H. W. Champlin is in Philadelphia this week attending some special clinics. His office will be open next week.

Dr. Charles Altmiller, formerly of Hazleton, has fitted up his office in the Grotz building, previously occupied by the New York Life Insurance Company.

Daniel Y. Carr and family are residents of Bloomsburg. They moved here from Shamokin and are occupying a house on Catherine Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Krum, who some time ago left Bloomsburg and moved to Philadelphia, have decided to return to town and make their future home here.

"Don't work for wages any longer than you can help it," says Mr. Carnegie. This is what the walking delegates have been saying all along.

The County Commissioners have re-established the free ferry at Catawissa, and it is serving as a great convenience to the public. The "Mary Ann" is also plying between the two shores.

Keep in mind that Edwin J. Hadley will exhibit his celebrated moving pictures here next week. This is without a doubt the finest attraction of this kind on tour.

Joseph Ratti left town on Monday for New York, from which place he sailed on Tuesday for Italy. Mr. Ratti will be gone a good portion of the summer.

There are two classes of people in every community. One ready to tell every vile thing they hear said about anybody and the other class ready to believe it: Bloomsburg has its full share of both.

C. F. Mann, formerly station agent for the B & S. R. Co., at Benton, but who for some time past has been living at Pittsburg, has accepted a position in the Sentinel and Bloomsburg Daily office.

The death of Mrs. A. S. Crossley occurred on Saturday. Funeral services were held at the home of undertaker G. G. Baker on Tuesday. Dr. W. P. Eveland officiated. A husband and one son, William H. Crossley, survive.

Mrs. Edward Pollock, aged seventy-seven years, died at her home in Shickshinny, Thursday night, last. She is survived by a husband and three daughters, all married. Mrs. William Case, of this town, is one of the latter. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon.

There are three ways to learn the value of a dollar. The first is to spend it, and see what you get for it. The second is to earn it, and see what you give for it. The third is to save it and yearn for all the things it might buy if you were weak enough to spend it.

Chas. P. Elwell desires a few more pupils on pianoforte, violin and harmony. Refers to a large number of pupils already studying the above branches with him as to results and progress during the comparatively short period he has taught here. Terms reasonable. Address or call at 233 West Third Street.

The Harrisburg Churchman is the title of the official paper of the Diocese of Harrisburg. The first number contains an excellent picture of the new Bishop, Dr. Darlington, and much matter of interest to Episcopalians. It is very neatly printed. The price is 50 cents a year, or 35 cents in clubs of twenty or more.

Gilbert Kulp, brother of Monroe H. Kulp of Shamokin, spent Tuesday in town. He had just returned from the South, where he spends considerable time looking after their mining and lumbering interests. Mr. Kulp says the Edgewood Park base ball team, which he and his brother own and control, will be far superior to that of last season. Several new players of known ability have been engaged, and the pitching department will be stronger than that of any team in this section of the state.

Evidence of the growing popularity of the Bloomsburg Wheelmen Club is furnished in the fact that during the past two weeks thirty-six have made application for membership. The Board of Governors held a meeting Tuesday evening, at which time the secretary rendered a statement, showing the receipts and expenditures for March. The balance, after paying all bills, is one of the best the club has ever had.

Among the attractions coming to the Opera House, is the great melodramatic success, "The Factory Girl." As a labor champion it has already won its way into the hearts of the masses. Besides a powerful dramatic story full of genuine heart interest and big sensational features, magnificently and carefully staged, it is imbued with the spirit of wholesome sentiment and exuberantly funny comedy scenes interspersed with delightful specialties and chorus numbers. There is a bevy of pretty girls and a cast of well known players, numbering thirty people. Chief among the big scenes is the great factory of wheels and belts and machines in full operation. A special electric plant is carried for this act, and a great steel plunger, such as may be seen in large steel plants, which weighs over two thousand pounds. At the Opera House Monday evening April 10th.

Trout Will Soon Bite.

The regular season for brook trout opens on April 15th, but despite that it is a month distant many fishermen are getting their rods and reels in shape for a busy season. Black and rock bass cannot be caught before June 15th. Expert fishermen are of the opinion that many trout have been killed during the past winter. Their theory is that the cold weather coming when the water in the streams was very low causing it to freeze almost to the bottom, and it is said a recent examination of some of the brooks substantiates this theory. Of course the real extent of damage will not be known until after the opening of the fish season.
