NORMAL SCHOOL.

Regular Monthly Meeting of Board of Trustees.

Science Building Talked Of.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Normal School was held at the residence of A. Z. Schoch, President of the Board, on Tuesday evening. Every resident member was present, fourteen in number, the absent non-resident members being R. C. Neal of Harrisburg, L. E. Waller of Wilkes-Barre and F. P. Billmeyer of New York.

When an additional year was added to the course of study several years ago, the sciences were made a prominent feature in the studies which were then added to the curriculum. While these branches were previously optional studies mostly, they are now compulsory. This has made necessary a great deal of laboratory work, and though some enlargement of the space devoted to this department has been made, the school is still very much in need of more room, and the erection of a new science building has been contemplated for some time. The subject was again discussed at the Board meeting, and the committee on buildings and grounds were authorized to procure plans for such a building. Just what may be done is not yet fully determined upon, but it is likely that the new building will go up in the near future. The proposed site is on the present Athletic field, and this will be located on the land recently purchased of J. L. Dillon, further up the hill. Whether the new building shall be made at once sufficiently large to meet the requirements for years to come, or shall be only large enough for present needs, so built that additions can be made as required, is not yet decided. It is quite certain that there is to be a new Science building of some kind in the near future.

The vacancy in the Board caused by the death of Dr. W. M. Reber, was filled on Tuesday night by the election of F. G. Yorks. The unexpired term of Dr. Reber will end next month, and Mr. Yorks will then undoubtedly be elected for a full term of three years. There were no other nominations, and Mr. Yorks was chosen unanimously. He represents one of Bloomsburg's largest industries, the Silk Mill, and is a director of the First National Bank. His wide experience in financial and business affairs will make a valuable acquisition to the school.

Mr. Frisbie, the new steward, is filling the position very satisfactorily, and the boarding department of the school is in excellent shape.

Normal Wm.

In a game of base ball, on Normal Field Saturday afternoon, between the Normal and a team thrown together for the occasion, the former won by the score 14 to 9. It was anything but a good day for ball playing, the weather being far from the ginger infusing kind, and it was therefore impossible to form any opinion of the capabilities of the men. We can say, however, that the work of the new material on the Normal team was satisfactory to Dr. Aldinger, and he hopes to be able to maintain the high standard set by Normal teams in the past.

Attended Banquet.

Dr. A. P. Stoddard of Orangeville, Dr. F. R. Clark of Berwick and Dr. H. Bierman of town attended a banquet held in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the foundation of the Hahnemann school of medicine at the Westmoreland Club, Wilkes-Barre Monday evening.

FOR SUPERIOR JUDGE.

Prominent Lawyers all Over the State are Mentioned for the Democratic Honor.

As one Democrat is to be chosen to the State Superior Court bench this fall there is no end of candidates for the nomination to be made this summer and almost every county, except Dauphin, has its favorite son for the honor. The term of Judge P. P. Smith, of Lackawanna, will expire and he is a candidate for another term.

Among the men mentioned are R. Scott Ammerman, of Danville, one of the prominent members of the House of Representatives; State Senators Grim, of Bucks, and Dewalt, of Lehigh; Judge Doty and John B. Head, of Westmoreland; William J. Brennan, the Allegheny county Democrat; John W. Wetzel, the Democratic candidate for Judge of Cumberland county last fall; C. LaRue Munson, the Williamsport Democratic lawyer; Judge Calvin Rayburn, of Armstrong, nominated two years ago; ex-Judge D. L. Krebs, of Clearfield; John F. Ward, the Philadelphia attorney, and O. F. Bechtel, of Schuylkill.

The State committee will meet on April 19 and will probably re-elect Senator Hall chairman and will set the date for the State convention. The chances are much in favor of Harrisburg as no other city has been mentioned yet.

A FINE ATTRACTION.

"A Royal Slave" is a most striking production in many ways. It is a new and pleasing departure in the way of the play, and there is nothing similar to it on the stage today. It is unlike any other story, containing an interesting theme and presenting a pretty romance in a manner which holds the interest of the audience throughout the entire play.

Mr. Harry Gordon has selected an entire cast that seems exceptionally well fitted for the parts which they portray. There is not an uninteresting character in the play. The stage settings are admirable and lacking in nothing. An unusually strong company will be seen in the play, and those who attend the performance here will not have cause to regret it.

AUTOMOBILES.

A Pleasure That Has Grown Within a few Years to Enormous Proportions.

THE FRANKLIN.

A few years ago everybody rode bicycles. There were at one time over six hundred wheels in Bloomsburg. The streets were full of them at all hours of the day, and pedestrians on the sidewalks were constantly menaced with collisions until an ordinance was passed making a penalty of five dollars for riding on the pavement. The craze lasted for several years, and then ceased almost suddenly. The wheels disappeared as if by magic, and today a bicycle rider is a very unusual sight.

But the American public is ever looking for some new diversion and the bicycle was soon followed by the automobile. Perhaps it was the coming of this new method of locomotion that sounded the death knell of the bicycle; or perhaps it was the fact that the wheels became so cheap that they were classed as common, and we Americans do not care much for what everyone else can have. It is the unattainable that we hanker after.

However this may be, the bicycle has passed and the automobile has come to stay. At first the price was such that only the very wealthy could indulge in them, but now there is scarcely a village in the land where one or more is not owned.

Bloomsburg is well represented, there being quite a number of machines in town. Among the owners of the latest patterns are C. W. Funston of Bloomsburg, and M. I. Low of Lime Ridge, who have recently purchased Franklins, a cut of which appears at the head of this article. These machines are made in Syracuse, N. Y., and range in price from $1400.00 to $3500.00. They have aluminum bodies which make them very strong and of light weight. Those owned here are of 12 horse power, and are very handsome vehicles. They have four seats, and four cylinders, and are air cooled, and are claimed to be the best made. Mr. Funston will cheerfully give any one interested full information concerning the machine.

J. M. Staver is owner of a fine automobile which he purchased last year, and J. E. Roys has one of the smaller kind which he has owned for several years.

GEO. W. STERNER of Bloomsburg, Pa.

Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for County Commissioner.

Married at Bride's Home.

Frank L. Deichler, a former well known young man of Lancaster, but now a resident of Philadelphia, was married at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning of last week to Miss Esther C. Kendig, of Salunga. The wedding took place at the bride's home, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Scheetz, of the Methodist church at Mt. Joy. A number of relatives of the couple from Lancaster were present, and after a fine dinner the couple left on an Eastern wedding tour. They will reside at No. 5319 Belfield avenue, Germantown, Pa.

The bride is well and favorably known in Bloomsburg. She has been a frequent visitor at the home of Miss Lilla Sloan on Market street. Her many friends here extend congratulations.

FEELS THIRTY YEARS YOUNGER.

The New Medicine, Cal-cura Solvent, Warmly Praised by Mrs. Chaffee. Your Money Back if it Does Not Cure.

When Dr. David Kennedy said he regarded Cal-cura Solvent, his new medicine for the kidneys, liver and blood, as the crowning achievement of his life, he made no mistake, as hundreds who have used it testify. Here is one letter short and to the point:

RUTLAND, VT., August 5th, 1902.

"Dear Sir: I have never taken any medicine that did me so much good as Dr. Kennedy's latest medicine, Cal-cura Solvent. I can work hard all day and can do more work than I could even thirty years ago. I am 59 years of age and never felt better in my life." Gratefully yours, MRS. A. P. CHAFFEE.

If your druggist does not have Cal-cura Solvent, write to the Cal-cura Company, Rondout, N.Y.; but ask your druggist first. $1.00 a bottle. Only one size.

Guarantee: Your druggist will return your money if Cal-cura fails to cure, and the Cal-cura Company will pay the druggist. Remember, Cal-cura Solvent cures 88% of all cases of Kidney, Bladder and Liver disorders.

April Lippincott's Magazine.

Lippincott's Magazine for April opens with a novelette of extraordinary attractiveness to both men and women readers. Its title is "A Fool for Love," its author, Francis Lynde. It deals with a railroad fight in the far West and its love interest centres in the chief engineer of the Utah Short Line and a captivating niece of the vice-president of the Colorado and Grand River Railroad. The story ends as it should.

"From the Pedestal," by Elizabeth McCracken, is a sweet and clever tale of psychologic trend. "The Man Who Adopted Asia" is a thrilling adventure story of the Far East, from the pen of Will Levington Comfort, whose recent visit to the seat of war has been productive of some very interesting fiction. Arabella Kenealy contributes a bright society story entitled "Sylvia's Bridegrooms." In it a prospective bride tries her lover's patience to the breaking point. The result is that she is obliged to supply a substitute bridegroom, and, but for a lucky chance, her happiness might have gone under. An unusually successful surprise-at-the-end sort of tale is that by James Drexler Turner, called "A Dreamer."

"Miss Sophy's Matrimonial Step," by Luellen Cass Teters, is a humorous picture of country life and a reluctant soldier swain. Rosa Bonheur's personality possesses such attraction that a reminiscence paper about her under the title, "The Greatest of Women Painters," must meet with much favor. Its author is Theodore Stanton, the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

Contributions in verse are good, and the spring vintage of "Walnuts and Wine" bubbles with fun in various forms.
