Edward Heller has purchased the bus line and outfit of J. W. Wright, and took possession on Monday morning.

Street Commissioner Cadman and a force of men are at work laying a brick crossing over Market street at the intersection of Third.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cook of Danville, died at her home last Thursday. She was the mother of W. H. Cook of this town. The funeral was held on Sunday.

Harry Barkel was taken to the Joseph Ratti Hospital on Monday on account of an injury received by falling out of a window. His arm was badly cut.

James Stackhouse, of Unityville, died last Saturday morning, aged 88 years. He was buried on Tuesday. A number of his relatives reside in Bloomsburg.

Dr. S. B. Arment left on Tuesday morning for Philadelphia whence he will go by steamer to Boston to attend a meeting of the National Board of Health.

The State Editorial Association will meet in Pittsburg from the 26th to the 28th of this month. Extensive arrangements have been made for their entertainment.

The members of St. Margaret's Guild will serve a supper in the Parish House on Saturday, Oct. 7, beginning at 5 o'clock. Supper 15c, ice cream and cake extra.

A freak pumpkin in Townsend's window is a most remarkable growth. The unusual markings are very regular and quite artistic. It was grown by Geo. Moyer.

The next term of Montour County Court will begin on November 13th instead of next Monday. Judge Staples will preside, and he is unable to be present before that time.

The annual communication of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows is in session this week in Philadelphia. Many thousands of members are in attendance from all over the country.

Mrs. Mary A. Bellas died at her home in Benton on Sunday last, aged 47 years, leaving her husband, John W. Bellas, and three sons. The funeral was held on Wednesday.

Wilbur C. Hower has sued the Town of Bloomsburg for damages for injuries sustained by him by a fall on Railroad street. He alleges that the walk was in a dangerous condition because the snow and ice had not been removed. Harry R. Stees represents the plaintiff.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Woodin Hanley of Cumberland, Md., to Miss Edith Rice, in Washington, D. C. on October 19. Mr. Hanley is a son of the late S. P. Hanley of Berwick.

Miss Margaret Casey has resigned her position in R. E. Hartman's store, where she has been for the past fourteen years. She has been a very popular clerk with the customers of that store.

Superintendent W. J. Terwilliger, of the Columbia and Montour Electric Railway, will move into the rooms on the third floor of the First National Bank building, formerly occupied by Mr. Hackett.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Normal School held on Monday night it was decided not to take the land in the Neal addition which was recently sold at public sale and struck down to C. W. Miller.

The M. E. Church may be without a regular pastor until the Conference meets next March. It was expected that Rev. M. E. Swartz of Patton would be allowed to come here by the Bishop but the latter does not favor the disturbing of the appointments in the middle of the year.

Rev. A. J. McCann of Locust Gap, was in town on Wednesday to visit Father Murphy. He was for many years pastor of St. Columba's Church here, and was highly esteemed by all classes.

Father O'Reilly of Danville, another popular former pastor here, was in town at the same time.

The crossing at the alley back of E. B. Tustin's new house on Third street, has been much improved by being raised and rebuilt. It was too low before, and at times was almost impassable. It now has concrete along the gutter and a water way under the pavement. Chas. M. Hower did the work and it looks like a very good job.

Mrs. Thomas Lorow died at her home in Mordansville, last Friday night, aged seventy-three years. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. John Hopper, Mrs. J. B. Ruckle, John Lorow, of Mt. Pleasant; Thomas, who resides at home and Mrs. Ida Clingerman of Bloomsburg. The funeral took place on Monday.

Somebody's boys are liable to be hurt if they continue playing recklessly on the iron girders at F. G. Yorks' new house. A number of them from 7 to 10 years old go there every day and run over the girders. The floor is all open, and it is a fall of 10 or 12 feet to the ground. We are looking daily for a bone-setting job for the Hospital.

The Freshman class at Lafayette had its own troubles in organizing, being compelled to go out in the country five miles to escape the Sophomores. They succeeded in getting together, and Walter S. Brooke was elected treasurer of the class. Joe Demaree writes home that the Lafayette boys from here have settled down to work, and are now leading "a simple life."

Miss Hattie N. Fornwald, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Moyer, was married to Albert C. Shutt in Binghamton, N. Y. last Saturday afternoon. She was visiting in Scranton, and left her friends there saying she was going to Utica to attend school. Instead she met Mr. Shutt and they went to Binghamton and were married. They returned to Bloomsburg on Monday, and will return to Binghamton where the groom is employed.

Your glasses may be partly right, and proportionately helpful; but if they are not entirely right you are not getting all of the benefit you should. ONLY medical eye specialists can determine exactly what lenses are needed. Henry W. Champlin, M. D., OCUList.

STATE HAPPENINGS.

Governor Pennypacker has appointed Senators William C. Sproul, of Delaware; John W. Fox, of Dauphin, and Speaker Henry F. Walton, of the House of Representatives, members of the Commission created by the last Legislature to arrange for the dedication of the New Capitol.

Giuseppe Bianco, a wealthy merchant of Pittston, who shot and killed his wife on July 5 last, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree at Wilkes Barre and was at once sentenced by Judge Wheaton to serve 18 years in the Eastern penitentiary.

C. J. Callahan, representing the trolley interests of Sunbury, has purchased the land on which the celebrated lithia springs are located, about two miles from Northumberland, and known as Tuckahoe. The intention is to enclose the grounds and bottle and ship the water to all parts of the world. It will likely be made a health resort of some importance.

Bloomsburg Fair.

The Columbia County Agricultural Society will hold its 51st annual exhibition on October 10-11-12 and 13. From all indications the coming Fair will eclipse all former ones. An attractive speed program has been arranged as follows: Wednesday October 11, 2:18 Pacing, 2:27 Trotting and 2:40 class for County horses. Thursday Oct 12, 2:15 Pacing, 2:17 Trotting, 2:21 Pacing and free for all county horses. Friday Oct. 13, 2:10 Class, 2:22 Trotting and 2:25 Pacing.

Free attractions will consist of Parkers Trained Dogs, White and Lamart Aerobats, and Tessier on Wire and Trapeze, making six acts, daily in front of grand stand. The poultry department will be a show in itself. All are most cordially invited to continue contributing to the success of the Fair by exhibiting the products of the Farm and Household.

Wenner Reunion

A reunion of the Wenner family was held in St. James Church, near Bendertown last Saturday, the first one ever held. The Wenners were among the pioneers of Fishingcreek township. The reunion idea was originated by John C. Wenner of Benton township, and the result was the gathering of a hundred people. An interesting program was carried out, which included an address by John C. Wenner on "The necessity of preserving the family history." The next meeting will be held next August.

FARM FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers at private sale a farm in Center township, Columbia county, above Stonytown, containing 95 acres more or less. There is a good two story brick dwelling house, a good bank barn, and necessary out-buildings. The Columbia & Montour trolley line passes the door. Columbia Park is a part of this farm. For further particulars and terms, write to S. Gemberling, Selinsgrove, Pa., or L. B. Hughes on the premises. 9-14 4t

Boy Wanted.

A boy sixteen years old with fair common school education is wanted at this office to learn the printing trade. Full particulars as to work and pay will be given on application.

Checks No Good.

Joyce, the man who pleaded guilty to the charge of selling oleomargarine at the recent session of court, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and the costs. He did it easy. The whole bill amounted to $290.21 and Joyce offered Prothonotary Terwilliger his check for that sum, but it was declined, until Simmers, the officer who prosecuted Joyce, and Judge Herring endorsed the check. Now Joyce is gone, and the check is no good. A bench warrant is out for Joyce, and he will hear something if he gets within reach of Columbia county court again. Since then one of Joyce's attorneys has received a good check to cover the amount of his fee, for which a worthless check was first given. Simmers returned here Tuesday, and says he will get Joyce before he quits. Joyce is supposed to be in Canada.

A Pert Youngster.

During the hearing in the Rubenstein case on Tuesday, one of the boys was being questioned and had his fingers in his mouth, biting his nails, and could not be heard distinctly. Judge Staples told him to stop biting his nails and to speak louder, but the boy did not heed the request so the Judge repeated his remark more emphatically. Thereupon the boy said "Whose finger nails are these I'm bitin? I guess it's none of your business." It was quite evident that the boy's training had been neglected.

NORMAL MAY BUILD

The increasing patronage of the Normal School, as well as the lengthened course of study, has made it necessary that some steps be taken to provide more class rooms, especially for the science departments. Whether an addition will be built to the Auditorium, or a new building erected on the Athletic field, is not yet determined but it is quite sure that something will be done soon to afford the required room.

CONFIRMATION CLASS

A class of forty persons will be confirmed at St. Columba's Church on Sunday. Mass will be celebrated at 8:00 and 10:30 o'clock A. M. Bishop Shanahan of the Diocese of Harrisburg will officiate.
