The paving of Center street is completed, and it is apparently a good job.

Jas. A. O'Donnell for Mine Inspector, has no opposition and we predict for him a good vote.

Miss Sade Sloan went to Wilkes-Barre Wednesday where she is the guest of Mrs. Russel Andreas.

Dr. G. H. Hemingway attended the session of the Presbyterian Synod at Greensburg last week.

The News-Item says that the river bridge at Catawissa will not be completed before next spring.

The contract for printing the ballots for the coming election has been awarded to THE COLUMBIAN office.

C. M. Terwilliger has made a good official as Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts. Loyal Democrats should stand him.

There are now fifty-three election districts in this county. Center township was recently divided into Center north and south.

The Liberty Fire Company will have a chicken and waffle supper at their house on Leonard street on November 18th and 19th.

Washburn's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company played to a good house on Tuesday night. The performance was very satisfactory.

Michael J. Casey and Miss Maude King of Bloomsburg were married at Allentown on Saturday. Mr. Casey is employed in a silk mill at Kutztown.

The Bloom and Danville foot ball teams played on Normal field last Saturday, score 0-0. The Danville players were accompanied by many of their friends including a number of ladies.

Mrs. John G. Harman last week attended the meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, as a delegate from the Civic and Ivy clubs of this town, at Cambridge Springs, Pa.

E. M. Laubach of Forks announces that his cider press will be in operation on Tuesdays and Fridays. The supply of apples is not sufficient to warrant running the press every day.

The handsome pennant presented to the Bloomsburg Cricket Club for winning a series of games from Williamsport, is displayed in J. R. Townsend's show window, with a photograph of the players.

The Crusade Commandery Quartette is singing at the teachers' institute at Easton, Northampton county this week. The quartette is composed of R. F. Colley, A. N. Yost, E. H. Ent and O. H. Yetter.

It never pays beyond some slight temporary gain to deceive a man in any kind of business transaction. No man can afford to sell his reputation for probity, honesty, truthfulness, or fair dealing, at any price.

The annual banquet of the Luzerne County Alumni of the Bloomsburg Normal School will be held at the Sterling, Wilkes-Barre, tonight. Dr. Welsh and other members of the faculty will be present.

The ladies of the Evangelical church at Lightstreet will give an entertainment in P. O. S. of A. Hall on Saturday evening, the 28th entitled, "The Old Maids Return from the Klondyke." Admission 15 cents.

Rev. R. S. Nichols attended the fall meeting of the Arch-deaconry of Williamsport, held at Wellsboro, Pa. from Monday to Wednesday of this week. He was one of the speakers at the missionary meeting on Tuesday evening.

F. A. Snow, chief engineer of the State Health Department, was in town from Saturday to Monday, in relation to the matter of permitting the town to empty the Fifth street sewer into the river. This has not yet been decided.

C. A. Small denies any allegations to the effect that he has made or tried to make any combinations with any candidate that would in any way injure the straight Democratic ticket. He pronounces such allegations as entirely false.

Frank W. Miller is the regular Democratic nominee for Register and Recorder. He is of the younger element in the party. Vote the straight democratic ticket from top to bottom. Mark a cross in the circle in the Democratic column.

We were mistaken in saying last week that Miss Pardee, recently married, is a grand niece of Capt. J. B. Robison. Her father, Calvin Pardee is a son of Ario Pardee by his first wife. Capt. Robison's sister was the second wife of Mr. Pardee.

Mrs. Sylvanus P. Hanly, and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Oswald have issued invitations for a reception at their home in Berwick, on Saturday evening, October 28th, from eight to eleven o'clock, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodin Hanly.

There were only four wagons at the curbstone market this morning, and they belonged to the old standbys, C. L. and Will Rupert, E. C. Bundy and D. W. Miller. They had a fine variety of vegetables for this time of the year, but no customers.

Barton R. Bisel of the Bloomsburg Daily, and Miss Jessie B. Unangst of Scranton were married in that city last Thursday, at the residence of Burton Freas, brother-in-law of the bride. They have gone to house-keeping on West Fourth street.

No more delightful weather could be wished for than we have been having for the past month. With the exception of a very few days it has been ideal. A change may be looked for soon, however, and dreary winter will be upon us in a very short time.

Hadley's Moving Pictures at the Opera House last Friday night was a first class entertainment in every respect, and compared very probably with any that have ever been here. Because not sufficiently advertised the attendance was not as large as it should have been.

A cow belonging to L. H. Boody of Rupert was struck by the Catawissa trolley car last Thursday evening, and killed. It was raining very hard and Motorman Ut could not see the cow until too late to stop. It happened about 7:15 o'clock near the Rupert station.

Miss May Smith, aged 16, and Walter Billman, aged 19, both of Catawissa, went to Binghamton on Monday and were married. When the girl was missed her father started in search of her. They were found at Pottsville on Tuesday, where the young man had found employment.

The man who ran away with $101,000 in money from the Adams Express Co. in Pittsburg was captured at Bridgeport, Conn., and most of the money has been recovered. He was an agent, and received $55 a month salary. Up to the time of this deed he had borne a good character.

C. A. Small is the regular Democratic nominee for District Attorney, and had no opposition for the nomination. There is not a Republican county in the state that ever elects a Democrat to office. That's the way they have built up such a strong organization. Columbia county should see to it that only Democrats are elected to office here.

M. H. Rhoades, Democratic Candidate for County Treasurer has served on the Town Council of the Town of Bloomsburg for a couple of terms, and has been a Poor Director of the Bloom Poor District, thereby showing what confidence the people of his own election district, have placed in him. Let us give Mr. Rhoades an old time majority in the County.

C. H. Dildine, of Rohrsburg, representing the State Grange, together with members of that agricultural organization from several counties, met recently at the Neff House, Sunbury, with the Merchants' Association of that place to make arrangements for the meeting of the State Grange Convention to be held there on the 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th of December.

The largest amount of pay ever distributed to the employees of the Pittsburg division of the Pennsylvania railroad was given them last week. Exclusive of the office forces there are about 14,000 names on the September payroll of the division. The amount of money being distributed approximates $725,000. The employees include conductors, shopmen and section hands.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. has been mapped out for the winter, and includes a series of Sunday afternoon meetings, a number of Bible classes for men and boys, and meetings at the several factories at the noon hour. W. D. Laumaster of Danville will speak next Sunday, the meeting to be held in the Lutheran church. Some excellent speakers are expected to be present through the course.

The Democratic organization is doing its part and the County Chairman is endeavoring to get out the full vote. Don't let your district be shy a single vote. Take some pride in it and see to it that all are out. New poll books have been prepared in every district and the Committeemen can easily determine in the election what voters have not voted. Make an effort to see that they vote straight.

It was demonstrated in court in Scranton recently that the law upholds the school teacher in enforcing discipline. A teacher was brought to trial on the charge of assault and battery because he used the rod. In his charge to the jury Judge Newcomb said that the law gave the teacher the same authority as a parent has in the punishment of a child. The jury found that the chastisement was justified and not too severe.

Lots have been purchased and a dozen new cottages are to be erected at Eagles Mere Park before the opening of next season. The reason for building them is that the present cottages available for that purpose are all rented for the next season, the system of cottages having their pleasant homes and dining at the Forest Inn being exceedingly popular. The new buildings will be handsome ones, modern in every appointment.

Lumbermen on the west branch of the Susquehanna are hoping for more rain, so that the 6,000,000 feet of logs back can be driven into the Williamsport boom before the winter closes in. The remaining logs, with the 4,000,000 feet still in the boom, will make a total of about 50,000,000 feet handled by the boom company this year. It is interesting to know that about 50,000,000 feet are expected next year, and probably the same amount the year following.

William H. Berry can be elected State Treasurer if the Democrats will all vote on election day. He is supported by the Prohibitionists and a very large number of Republicans who want reform in state politics. These with the Democrats can elect him. The danger is in the stay-at-home vote. There is more at stake in this election in Pennsylvania than in a Presidential year, and every man should feel that it is his duty to go to the polls on election day and vote.

Hanging to a chandelier 35 feet from the floor of his church, the presence of mind of Rev. F. T. Cady, pastor of the church of the Redeemer of Towanda, saved him from serious injury and perhaps death. While adjusting the chandelier, the high stepladder upon which he was working slipped from under him, and he clung to the chandelier. No one was near the building, and his cries for help went unheeded. Mr. Cady finally discovered a rope hanging from the upper arch of the church, and reaching it with difficulty tied it with his teeth and one hand. Exhausted, he slid to the floor on the rope.

General William Montgomery was the founder of Danville. His great-grandson, I. X. Grier Esq., has a number of interesting letters and documents concerning him, among them an invitation from Washington to dine at the White House on January 6th, 1794. General Montgomery held a number of important positions, among them being a commissioner on the Connecticut claims, and President Judge of Northumberland county. A letter to him from Benjamin Franklin, dated May 27, 1786, deals with the troubles in the Wyoming Valley. The old stone house at the corner of Bloom and Mill streets in Danville was General Montgomery's home.

Representative Charles B. Landis declares that about $8,000,000 is being wasted on government printing. As he is chairman of the committee on printing of the house of representatives and head of the joint committee of both branches of congress appointed to make an official inquiry into the subject, he ought to speak by the book. Now it would be in order for some one to look into the matter of state printing and see how much money is wasted. It costs the state many thousands of dollars at every session of the legislature to publish the Legislative Record, an almost entirely useless expenditure. This publication furnishes jobs for a large number of folders, pasters, &c., who draw big pay and hire the work done for much less than they get. So long as the people of Pennsylvania keep in power the present machine bosses, so long they will have to endure the squandering of the public money.

In the Woman's Home Companion for November the Japanese Minister sends a Thanksgiving greeting to the women of America; "Shall Our Boys Play Football?" is discussed from opposite standpoints by President Eliot, of Harvard, and Coach Sandford, of the Yale Eleven and "Around the World with Alice Roosevelt," illustrated with photographs, describes the delightful experiences of an American girl. Included in the list of fiction are "The Battle of Roncesvalles," a story of boy life, "That Other Girl," "The Heart Bowed Down," "The Clearing of Polly Jump's Vision," "The Baby's Grandfather," and a third installment of the interesting serial, "The Silver Pin." In addition to her other fashion notes Miss Grace Margaret Gould tells of "Styles on the Stage." Home-made gifts, cookery and table decorations for the holidays are treated in several timely articles. Mrs. Sangster writes feelingly of "Thanksgiving Joy," Anna S. Richardson of "Home-making for Business Girls," and Sam Loyd's puzzles and Aunt Janet's pages provide plenty of entertainment for the young people. Published by the Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

For Thanksgiving.

The members of the Women's auxiliary of St. Paul's Church will have a sale of cakes and pies &c. in the Parish House basement, on Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

Boy Wanted.

A boy sixteen years old with fair common school education is wanted at this office to learn the printing trade. Full particulars as to work and pay will be given on application.
