THE MACHINE'S FIGHT.

Attitude of President Roosevelt and His Administration Toward the State Gang.

Every Expression That Has Come From the President and His Advisors is Against the Machine and Its Corrupt Methods.

The Philadelphia Record of recent morning says editorially: Within two weeks of the close of the contest, when all signs indicate an overwhelming defeat of the Machine in both city and state, too much credit cannot be given to the influence of President Roosevelt and his administration in contributing to the promised result. Although the President could not with propriety interfere in a local contest in which no national issues are involved, from the beginning all have known that his sympathies were with the Republican revolution in Pennsylvania. Then followed the trenchant epigram of Mr. Root as he was about to enter upon the office of Secretary of State, describing the Durham-McNichol anditti as "a corrupt and criminal combination masquerading under the name of Republican." Next came the incisive utterances of Secretary Bonaparte of the same purport. Finally we have the honest and manly declaration of Secretary

Taft that if he were in Cincinnati at this election he would vote against the Republican Machine. How much greater reason would he have to vote against the Durham-McNichol ticket if he were a citizen of Philadelphia! As a consequence of the attitude of the president and of the members of his cabinet, as well as of the Republican party throughout the land, the Machine has vainly appealed to prominent Republicans to come into the state and make speeches under its auspices.

Thus the Pennsylvania Machine is excised as a dangerous excrescence from the wholesome body of the Republican party and is left to perish in its iniquity. In the conditions that have been developed a triumph of the Penrose-Durham combination would be a triumph of the forces of evil over the better political elements of all parties. But with the immense encouragement afforded by the Roosevelt administration and the national Republican party so sinister an event is not probable. All signs indicate that the revolution in Pennsylvania is marching on to an assured victory.

Vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Graft in the Schools.

In some counties of the state it is charged that school directors sell the appointments of teachers, compelling the latter to turn over a certain portion of their salaries. In Luzerne county the practice seems to prevail. Speaking on the subject recently, Dr. J. P. Welsh said: "Some time ago, a young woman wrote to me in detail of how positions in schools are bought and sold in Luzerne county. The names of directors who took money and the amounts paid by teachers were given. I immediately sent a communication to the State Superintendent of Schools and requested that he take some steps to investigate. 'Whether or not the proper authorities are now in possession of this evidence for prosecution purposes I do not know.

"Numerous letters reach me from normal graduates regarding the bribery in some of the townships. I have in mind one case where the writer asked my opinion on the advisability of paying a director a certain sum for a school. She said all others had to do so, and unless she complied the position would be given to another.

"Graft in school matters is a terrible thing. It should be stopped, and I cannot see why action has not been taken before. There is plenty of evidence of bribery in Luzerne County and the officials ought to secure it and deal fearlessly with the offenders. 'It has come to such a pass that teachers are beginning to look upon the directors' levies as legitimate compensation. One of the normal school instructors, the late Prof. Detweller, one time asked the catch question, 'Who pays the school directors?'

"A former teacher in Luzerne

County, who had returned to us for a special course, answered in all seriousness, 'The teachers pay the directors.'

"In mining districts, where salaries are large, I find there is much graft-seeking by directors."
