It was a battle of the people against a "criminal combination masquerading as Republicans," and the people have won. The lid of the treasury will now be lifted.

It will not be long before the machine managers of the various counties through the state will be climbing into the reform bandwagon and going right along with the procession.

The defeat of all the independent candidates in the county is gratifying to all parties except the defeated candidates. Men who are afraid to seek a nomination from their party, or who seek it and then failing to get it, ignore the rules of their party, are not entitled to many votes, and in this county they do not get them.

It is becoming more and more apparent each year that the number of young men who are preparing themselves for teaching is growing less. There are so many other openings for young men nowadays, which offer higher remuneration than teaching in the public schools offers, that large numbers of them are flocking into other means of livelihood.

The development of electrical science has opened up many avenues of employment, and the trolley roads and telephone lines are taking many young men who might otherwise look to teaching as a profession. The time is coming and is not far distant, when larger salaries will have to be paid to induce men to go into the teaching profession at all.

Lincoln J. Carter's latest melodrama, "Too Proud to Beg" will be seen at the Grand Opera House tomorrow evening, Friday, Nov. 10th.

The story is an interesting one, consistent in every respect, with much feeling and pathos blended into its finely constructed plot and running through are explosive bits of comedy, wit and satire that are in the hands of some clever players. Indeed, the cast is more than the average melodrama has in its roster and they play their parts with a dash, vim and energy that does credit to them as well as pleasing the public. An acrobatic turn is the only specialty in the play performed by the wonderful Boylan Children and Mr. Carter has offered anyone a handsome reward to produce their equals. Wonderful does not express their greatness and a large vocabulary of flattering adjectives is required to give a conservative estimate of their rare ability.

HUNTING WITH DOGS.

Under the recent enactments of the legislature the dog in his relation to game is held under a good many restrictions. In pursuing certain kinds of game he may not be used at all. He may even be shot on sight and there are cases in which he may get his owner into trouble. The source of information drawn upon is the "Digest of the Game, Fish and Forestry Laws" by Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, Secretary of the State Game Commission.

Special attention is called to section 8, of the act of April 22, 1905, which provides that no person shall make use of a dog or dogs in hunting deer or fawn within this commonwealth and the fact that a dog of any description shall be taken into the woods or shall be had in the possession or under control or shall be cared for or harbored, or permitted to remain with or in the camp of any person or persons who may go to hunt during the open season for deer or fawn in this state shall render each person in the camp liable to the full penalty prescribed by law for the unlawful taking or killing of deer, upon proof that the dog so taken into the woods, &c., did within a radius of ten miles from said camp run after or follow upon the track of any deer or fawn for a distance of 100 yards.

Any dog pursuing or following upon the track of a deer or fawn within this Commonwealth is declared to be a public nuisance and when caught in the act may be killed by any person, or by an officer of the state whose duty it is to protect game upon affidavit being made that said dog has been seen pursuing deer or fawn within one year.

Any dog off land controlled by the owner of said dog pursuing upon the track of any game, quadruped or game bird protected by law during what is known as the close season is declared by the law to be a public nuisance and may be shot by the owner or lessee of land on which it is found, unless such dog wear a collar and name plate; in the latter event the owner of the dog must first be notified. The owner of the dog then becomes liable to the penalty.

It is provided that dogs when accompanied by their masters may be trained upon any of the living wild game or birds of the state, excepting deer and fawn, from August 1st to January 1st next following, so long as no injury is inflicted upon said game or birds.

Montour's Associate Judge

The Danville Morning News of yesterday says:

There is no end of curiosity among the citizens of Montour County to know who will receive the appointment of Associate Judge to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. S. Y. Thompson. It is believed that the appointment will not be delayed longer than the present week, as court convenes on Monday next when it would seem proper that two Associates should be on hand to sit with Judge Staples of Monroe County, who will preside at our court. It is not exactly known how many aspirants there are for the Associate Judgeship. Some four or five very good men are named in connection with the position and the proceedings at Harrisburg are each day being watched very closely to see upon whom the honor may fall.

A Great Football Event

The greatest football event of the season will be the game between State College and the Dickinson College at Williamsport, November 18. Assurances have been given to the Williamsport Merchants' Association, who are interested in having the game a success, that it will positively be played to a finish. The State College boys are well known to be strong players, and the merits of the Dickinson team are well established. The game is to be called at 2:30 P. M. Excursion rates of one fare for round trip have been granted on the several roads, within a radius of 100 miles. Williamsport will be the center of attraction on November 18, and thousands of visitors will take advantage of the low excursion rates.

Fever Dying Out at Nanticoke.

Typhoid in But 20 Houses Now, There Have Been 42 Deaths.

The typhoid fever epidemic in Nanticoke is slowly but surely dying out. There are five cases at the emergency hospital, all of whom are convalescent, except Mary Czowski, who will also recover from the disease. All of the nurses except five, have been discharged and Miss O'Halleron expects to be able to close the emergency hospital by November 18. Typhoid fever exists in twenty houses in town which need the visits of hospital nurses.

The total number of cases altogether up-to-date are 298, out of which there were forty-two deaths, including the death of Kuckenbecker on Saturday evening. The total cash received by Miss O'Halleron to date amounts to a little over two thousand dollars. Miss O'Halleron is busy making out a full report of the epidemic from the time she arrived in Nanticoke.

SNAKES AND BEARS.

Some time last summer a story was printed of a young woman who went to sleep in her chair, and on waking up found a live snake coiled in her lap. Immediately there followed a perfect avalanche of snake stories from all over the state, to such an extent that it made it appear that the entire commonwealth was infested with snakes of all kinds and sizes from water snakes to anacondas.

Last week a female bear was killed over in Main township, and three cubs escaped, and now the bear stories are circulating freely from other sections. One newspaper had it that a herd of bears swarmed into Mainville and the people there had to send to Bloomsburg for help to drive them away. In another county a bear is reported to have entered a school house and driven the teacher and pupils away, while numerous bruins have been seen roaming over the mountains in other places. If these animals are real, and not the invention of some newspaper reporter's fertile brain, there is going to be lots of work for the bear hunters this winter.

Railroad for Alaska.

Will Run Entire Length and Cost Forty Million Dollars.

Alaska will have a railway its entire length from north to south and giving communication with the outside world if plans which are being formulated in Los Angeles Cal. are carried out. Harry White former mayor of Seattle, is at the head of the enterprise, which includes an application to Congress, during the coming session, for a government subsidy. The idea, as outlined, is for the government to guarantee bonds of the proposed company, the promoters using the credit thus obtained to raise the funds for building the line. It is expected that Senator Piles, of Washington, will father the scheme in Congress. The road will be nearly 5,000 miles long, and if successful will involve an expenditure of $40,000,000.
