From our Regular Correspondent,

Washington, D. C. May 16, 1907.

What was about as near a sensational address as a conservative minister often makes, was delivered this week by Bishop Satterlee, the Episcopal Bishop of Washington at the convention of the diocese just held. It is an address likely to gain wide publicity and create talk in the north though in the south the facts are too well understood to cause any comment except from the fact that a bishop uttered them. He devoted the major part of his address to the race problem and said, as everyone in the southern part of the country is keenly aware that it was the most pressing problem before the American people. What he said that will hurt and what is sure to cause a lot of talk in the north was that the negro race was distinctly an inferior race, mentally, morally and physically, that suffrage was a failure, having been tried for forty years and having failed utterly to make equals with the white race out of people who were racially inferior. He said some more true but not all diplomatic things about the childish efforts of the race to grasp social equality through money, land holdnegro race all the advantages in these lines that they could have, nothing that they could do would they were, a race below the standard of the white.

cause adverse comment in the Episcopal church, he said that the population of any city in the world and where anything that could be would be an unmixed blessing.

an Territory are not to come into barments. the Union as a state till after the! next presidential election if then. It is purely a matter of politics. Three or four Democratic representatives and two Democratic Senators are not wanted at the Capitol, and there are plenty of good reasons why they will not get there. Fault is found with the constitution that Oklahoma has adopted. It is said to be too radical and too hard on corporations. This is a remarkable complaint from a "trust-busting" administration. Then it is claimed that the state has been Gerrymandered so that it will never be anything but Democratic. It takes a pretty fair sprinkling of voters to Gerrymander a state in the first place, and if this has been done, which is open to question, it is no more than what was done in the case of Ohio, and other states, but that was in the interests of the other party. Anyhow the fate of Oklahoma is settled for some time to come. The constitution cannot be adopted without executive approval, and it has been settled by the party leaders that this shall not be given.

There are almost as many Democratic possibilities for the Presidential nomination coming forward as there are Republican, and that is useless. It is claimed that there is a large element in the party who would be glad of anything to beat Bryan for the nomination, and these members are putting forward several candidates to feel the party pulse. Of course Senator Daniel of Virginia has been a possibility for has been mentioned before the convention assembles and mentioned in such a way as to compel recogn'tion. This week Judge Gray, of Delaware was at the White House

Coal Dredge Sinks in River.

The Danville Morning News says: Hopewell's monster coal dredge, the "Great Eastern," which left Danville last week for its home port, Northumberland, never reached its destination. At some disa long time and recently his name tance above the town it struck a snag and went to the bottom of the river where it remains at present.

The Great Eastern was famous as the largest coal dredge on the Susquehanna. The big dredge was not considered as paying expenses unless it extracted as a minimum quantity twenty-eight tons of coal from the river bottom daily. It was heavily weighted with engine, Reward for any case of Catarrh boiler and other machinery and it drew nearly two feet of water. On returning to Northumberland Friday, when in about seven feet of water the dredge struck a stump which had sunk in the river. The men were thrown from their feet curred. At the same moment it was discovered that a large hole had been broken in the bottom of the boat and that the water was pouring in. In two minutes' time the dredge sank, the crew having bare ly time to escape to the flat boat, which was being towed in the rear.

FARM NOTES.

Do not wait until the potatoe vines are covered with beetles before applying Paris green, but attend to the work of destruction on the first signs of the appearance of beetles, so as to avoid as much damage to the plants as possible.

The peach borer works from June to September, or rather the moth s always busy attacking the trees. Careful examinations should be made for the borer at least every two weeks, and if the trees show indication of being attacked cut the borers out.

It may not be known that if cow peas are mowed while the pods are very small a new growth occurs, but such is the case, and sheep will prefer the second growth to any other. The roots of cow peas contain nitrogen, and will improve the soil, even when the tops are cut off and used.

No plant will long survive if the leaves are cut off, hence the way to destroy Canada thistles or other keep them cut down. As fast as they appear above the ground cut arrives a time when they can no

Families that keep only one cow it now has the government entirely cow, proportionately, than for a better to have a cow that gives even richer milk, but the majority of family cows are selected without regard to merits in that respect. It is difficult to rear the calves in such cases, hence in purchasing the family cow it will be profitable.

No vegetable is more popular han the Lima bean, and it is suitable for all classes of persons, as well as for all manner of dishes. The difficulty with Lima beans is the poles, which are sometimes expensive; but if strings are used, as is done for the climbing flowers, the vines will grow and thrive equally as well. All that is necessary is to keep them off the ground, and it is not necessary to pole them if inconvenient. The late crop should be a large one, not only for the purpose of supplying the family with a sufficiency of green ones for the table, but also that they may be dried and laid aside for winter. If stored away they are very serviceable at that season, as they may then be soaked and used for the same purposes as when they are green. The dwarf varieties do not require poles. There have been many disputes as to where potatoes originated or were first discovered. Some persons claim that tubers were first grown in America while others declare their home was in Ireland. According to Prof. Samuel Fraser, of the Cornell Experiment Station, the potato sometimes called white potato, Irish potato, English or round potato, is a native of the elevated valleys of Chile, Peru, and Mexico, one formeven being found as far north as Southern Colorado. The potato was introduced into the eastern section of the United States in the latter part of the sixteenth century, and returning colonists probably took them from there to England. The name Irish potatoe has been generally accepted, because it grows so well in Ireland, and is valued so highly by the Irish as a native food.

SUCCESS IN BROHANG.

Requires a Clear Fire and Constant Always grease the gridfron well pinced on it. Fish should be buttered and sprinkled with flour, which will prevent the skin from adhering to the gridfron. Birds and other things which need to be halved should be broiled inside first. Remember that a hot, clear fire is necemember that a hot, clear fire is necessary for cooking all small articles. They should be turned often to be cooked evenly without being burned. Never put your fork in the lean part of meat on the gridiron as it will allow the juice to escape. Cover the gridiron with a tin pan or a baking pan. The sooner the meat is cooked without burning the better, the pan holds the heat and often prevents a stray line of smoke from touching the meat. If the fire should be too hot sprinkle sait over it.

Prisms versus Scat. In the matter of expression the recipe for beauty is easily given, writes Elizabeth Anstruther.

Every prety look counts for prettiness, every uguly look for ugliness. This isn't sentiment; this is simple, physiological fact. Muscles know, are very susceptible of training; after they have done a thing a certain number of times they incline to do it all the time. And skin, though it is very elastic in extreme youth, tends to become less so as the year, go by and to keep the shape into which it is most habitually drawn.

Women of a bygone day used to say "Prunes" or 'Prisms' before entering a parlor, so their mouths would look pretty. But we know perfectly well that if they more habitually said "Scat!" the look of the enarl was unmistakably there.
