It has just come to light that a negro girl named Lena Rivers, recently died in prison in Montgomery, Alabama, while serving out a term of twenty years imprisonment, when she was only sentenced to a term of twenty months for larceny. A clerk, in making out the commitment, made a mistake, and wrote "years" where he should have written "months." The white man for whom her mother worked recently discovered the mistake, and took steps to have the mistake rectified and the girl released, but she died before the necessary red tape could be unwound. She had served fifteen years and a few months when death released her.

WOMEN MAKE PAPER MONEY. Even Guides at Bureau of Engraving and Printing Are Girls. The Government and the banks, and even the post office, would be in a hole for a time if all the women in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing should drop dead all at once. Why, you can't even go over there and look around without a woman to show you. All the guides to the Bureau for the benefit of tourists and other ignorant people are women. These guides will explain how American money is printed on the back, then put in cold storage, where it goes through a drying process; then sorted and the imperfect sheets thrown out; then printed on the face, and then perforated and put up in packages to be sent to the Treasury for the Government seal.

It is seven days after a bill is printed on its back before it is printed on the face," said this visitor's guide. "It takes thirty days to make a silver dollar bill, and forty to make a gold one. The gold one is printed three times, twice on one side, because it has to have the word 'gold' and a little splash of gold on this side before the face can be printed."—From the Washington Post.

Keeping the House Cool. Of all the rooms in the house it is particularly important to keep the bedrooms cool. Windows should be closed and blinds shut at midday, to keep out the hot, stifling air, and then thrown wide open in the evening, when the air is generally cooler.

Champion Ice Cream Eater. American girls are without doubt the greatest ice cream eaters anywhere in the world. England and France are fond of frozen puddings, ices and the like. Few persons in either country, however, care for ice cream to the same extent that the Americans do. It might be said that like baseball and pie habit, it is distinctly an American failing.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS. When stewing prunes add one or two spoonfuls of red currant jelly to the water in which the prunes are stewed. A tinned saucepan should never be used for cooking spinach. Neither should this vegetable be passed through a wire sieve. To clean an enameled bath tub rub off all the stains with a cloth dipped in paraffin, then wash with soap and water and finally dry with a soft cloth. To recurl a feather box which has become damp from rain or dew rub in a handful of common salt and shake it before a bright fire until it is quite dry. To remove panes of glass thickly cover the putty with soft soap. This will render the putty soft, when it can be easily scraped off and the glass removed. A bed which creaks with every movement of the sleeper may be silenced by removing the slats and wrapping their ends in newspaper before replacing them. To remove tar stains rub the marks with lard and then leave for a few hours that the tar may soften; sponging with spirits of turpentine will then remove the stain. To clean a mirror first sponge over the glass with a little spirit, then dust it over with some powdered blue tied up in muslin. Rub this off with a cloth and give a final polish with a silk handkerchief. Do not use the bathbrick or other gritty substance for cleaning taps, for sooner or later it will get into the joints and cause needless wear and expense. A good polishing oil is all that is necessary and brightness is thus secured without fear of damage. Porridge may be turned out of the saucepan without leaving any adhering to the bottom if, after the pan has been removed from the fire, it is left a few minutes standing on stones.

WISDOM'S WHISPERS. Men miss the sunshine of women's presence more than they care to admit. The woman who can guide a man's conduct is not the one who talks about it. Most men speak of the married state as though it belonged to another world. There always is a woman who can find a kind word for the most undesirable man. Men generally feel flattered when accused of being popular with women. When a woman is really pretty she unconsciously makes enemies among her own sex. A man who understands women the most is rarely a good judge of men. It is natural for a woman to show how well she knows how to dress. The man who abuses others has the most exalted opinion of himself. Some women have the rare gift of making men regard them with respect.

SERVANT QUESTION. How Mrs. Schwab Deals With Those Who Serve Her—Gives Amusement and Theatre Tickets. Mrs. Charles Schwab has her own way of settling the servant girl question. One of her hobbies, in dealing with servants, is the anniversary gift. Each servant, on the first anniversary day of entering Mrs. Schwab's service, receives $50 in gold, and the gift is repeated at each anniversary. Mrs. Schwab has in her service two Scottish girls who have been with her eight years, and they visit their homes, at her expense, at certain intervals. Two Irish girls have been with her for six years. Servants who have been particularly faithful in her employ are also remembered with occasional tickets for the best theatres.

Grow Old Gracefully. You are always as young as you feel. People never grow old until they think themselves old. Never either admit your age or give landmarks which will enable others to guess it rightly. Take plenty of exercise, move briskly, speak firmly. Take a half hour's rest in the middle of the day; nothing conduces more to a good appearance. It renews strength and freshens the complexion. The want of occupation does not conduce to youth or to rest; "a mind quite vacant is a mind distressed." Energy keeps the muscles elastic, and romance is an amulet against wrinkles. Defy time by keeping your heart young. It is envy, loss of heart, and impatience that brings lines to the face.

Clock Medicine Case. A unique contrivance for the tourist appears at first glance to be a traveling clock, with leather casing. The dial, however, is inscribed with the words, "next dose," instead of the regulation numerals. The clock proves to be a box which, when opened shows a medicine glass, with drachms and other druggist's measures, checked off on its surface. The hands of the mock clock can be moved around and the hour for the next dose thus accurately kept in mind.

The Japanese Wife. In Japan a well-bred woman does not go to the theatre until she is old and past. It has not been thought proper for her to understand music. She spends most of her time at home attending to her children. Several writers have said that in Japan a woman does not marry for a husband, but to be an unpaid servant in his family.

Little Girl's Lingerie Hat. Much smarter and newer than straw are the lingerie hats for children, and they harmonize with innumerable frocks. Plaited silk mull or liberty silk, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, are the most popular. Our illustration shows one made of the former material, with a chrysanthemum bow of black velvet ribbon on top and pink roses on either side under brim. Ends of the mull tie in a bow under chin.

In Praise of Knitting. Knitting is declared by specialists in the treatment of rheumatism to be a most helpful exercise for hands liable to become stiff from the complaint, and it is being prescribed by physicians because of its efficacy. For persons liable to cramp, paralysis, or any other affection of the fingers of that character, knitting is regarded as a most beneficial exercise. Besides, the simple work is said to be an excellent diversion for the nerves, and is recommended to women suffering from insomnia and depression.—Exchange.

A Happy Young Woman. Miss Helene Fleury is the first woman musician admitted for the Prix de Rome. It must be understood that the Prix de Rome is awarded after examination conducted on the plan in use at our own Institute of Technology in Boston. And Miss Fleury was locked up in the cloister of the Chateau de Compeigne with six other aspirants for this laurelship of music in Paris.

Effect of Thought on Character. The happiness of your life depends upon the character of your thoughts; therefore, watch well over them, and entertain none that are contrary to purity and truth, so that if your soul were laid open there would appear nothing but what would bear the light and call up no blush. When you see a girl looking suspiciously at the tips of her fingers it is a sign she is wondering if there is any truth in the charge that some smoke cigarettes.
