OPEN SEASON FOR GAME.

The hunting season opened Tuesday, October 1st, and a large number of our townsmen inclined toward sport started out in quest of pheasants, woodcock, squirrels and other game that may be shot at this time.

The game laws of the State are constantly being modified. The last legislature, like the one preceding, made some important changes. The following table relating to animals, game birds in Pennsylvania, the season in which each kind may be killed, the number, etc., conforms with the law as it now stands and should prove of a great deal of interest:

Grouse (ruffed), commonly called pheasants, October 1st to December 1st, five in one day, twenty in one week and fifty in one season.

Woodcock, October 1st to December 1st, ten in one day, twenty in one week and fifty in one season.

Fox, black or grey squirrel, October 1st to December 1st, six of combined kinds in one day.

English, Mongolian or Chinese pheasant, October 1st, to December 1st, five in one day, twenty in one week and fifty in one season.

Quail, commonly called Virginia partridge, November only, ten in one day, forty in one week and seventy-five in one season.

Wild turkey, October 15th to December 1st, one in a day, four in one season.

Hare or rabbit, October 15th to December 1st, number unlimited.

Deer, male with horns, only, November 15th to December 1st, one each season.

Bear, October 1st to March 1st, unlimited.

Lizzard Swallowing a Pike.

Says an exchange.

One by one the fables of our youth are shattered. All of us remember that gruesome story about the woman or the little boy, or little girl, (it was never a man) who was out berrying, became very warm and thirsty, knelt down and drank from a brook or spring. How the person swallowed a lizzard, and the lizzard lived for ages and ages in that person's stomach, causing them the most intense agony. Eventually some old doctor, generally an unscrupulous old man, who used to doctor horses, would put that person on a diet of pure salt for a week or ten days. Then, he would have them bend over, open their mouth wide, and the old doctor would hold a basin of water under the open mouth. That lizzard would leap eagerly from the open mouth to the basin of water, and the cure (and the story) was complete. Now comes Dr. Surface of Harrisburg, who says that it is utterly impossible for a human being to swallow a lizzard in that manner, and utterly impossible for the lizzard to live any length of time if it was swallowed. He has on several occasions had lizzards sent to him by local doctors, which are alleged to have been swallowed, and an analysis of the stomach of the lizzard would show, instead of sauerkraut and frankfurters, bugs and water flies, and always a confession has followed from the patient that she was shamming to obtain sympathy. Dr. Surface will pay a great deal of money for a lizzard, or any other reptile that has been swallowed by a human being, and expelled either alive or dead, after any lapse of time. If you could possibly swallow a lizzard, or a snake, or a crocodile, it would be digested and disposed of, just as any other food is taken care of by the human system.

Beginning with September 1st all restrictions were removed from the manufacture of alcohol on the farm. Any farmer can set up a still and turn out the alcoholic product, which, denatured will not be interfered with by the government officials. Lest there may be a failure on the part of some temperance advocates to understand this new departure, let it be said that the government will not permit the distillation of pure alcohol designed for use in alcoholic beverages except under the usual restrictions and under heavy tax. Only the denatured article for commercial purposes can be made, and the sole object is to secure a cheap fuel, which should become a valuable adjunct of many a farm. But the benefits will not accrue at once. Only with experience and experiments can the possibilities be arrived at.

The Kidneys

When they are weak, torpid, or stagnant, the whole system suffers. Don't neglect them at this time, but heed the warning of the aching back, the bloated face, the sallow complexion, the urinary disorder, and begin treatment at once with which contains the best and safest curative substances.

In usual liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsatabs, 100 doses $1.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEETING.

The local union of Christian Endeavor is holding two meetings today. A missionary conference is being held this afternoon conducted by Rev. H. E. Harman, Biscuity Superintendent of Missions. In the evening Rev. R. G. Bannon D. D. of Williamsport will give a report of the International C. E. Convention at Seattle. Rev. E. B. Bailey will conduct the singing. The meetings are held in the Presbyterian Church.

Have You an Hour to Spend Each Day?

If so, write to the Circulation Department of The Philadelphia Press, Philadelphia, telling in what paper you read this offer. You will receive a handsome book of advice that will tell you how to make more money for a little work you can perform easier than anything you ever tried before in your life. You can verify this statement for the price of a postal card—DO IT NOW.

Improvements at Jail.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners held at the Court House yesterday it was decided to put new spouting on the jail. The work is to be awarded to the lowest bidder. It was also decided to employ V. B. Moyer to repair the roof of the Court House, repair the slate where it is needed and paint all the tin work on the Court House, and put the same in a first class condition. For this work he is to be paid $30.

Dangers in New York.

New York, Sept. 27.—Through the Public Service Commission the full extent of the danger to life and limb from the traction operations in this city became known. The traction companies, steam, electric and horse, surface, subway, and elevated, kill or seriously injure every month about 200 persons.

The time covered was from Aug. 5 when the board's order became effective, until Aug. 31, twenty-six days, the number of accidents reported in Greater New York reached the enormous total of 5,500.

$100,000 Opera Box.

New York, Oct. 3.—For the first time in nearly five years a box in the famous "diamond horseshoe" in the Metropolitan Opera House has changed owners. For a price in excess of $100,000 Mr. Henry Clay Frick, millionaire iron master and long time friend and associate of Mr. Andrew Carnegie, has purchased a coveted place in the parterre row, box No. 19, which, since the opera house was built, had been owned by the late Henry I. Barber, who died last winter.

Hollow Glass Bricks.

The demand for hollow bricks and building blocks for house construction has induced glass manufacturers to put hollow glass bricks on the market, and they promise to be used extensively for novel and artistic effects. The first glass bricks, being sold, proved a failure on account of their cost, but the hollow glass bricks can be made at much less expense. They are lighter and stronger than clay bricks and are such excellent non-conductors that walls built of them are proof against dampness, sound, heat and cold.

G. A. R. COMMANDER

Jas. S. Dean, Gen. Grant Post, Rondout, N. Y. CURED OF DYSPEPSIA

Commander Dean writes: "As Chief U. S. Mail Agent of the U. & D. R. R., good health is indispensable. I found myself, however all run down with Dyspepsia. I doctored and doctored, but I grew worse. I suffered misery night and day, for fully two years. My case was pronounced incurable. I chanced to meet Dr. David Kennedy about that time, and told him of my condition and he said, try a bottle of take it morning, noon and night, and it will cure you. I took the medicine as directed, but had no confidence in a cure, as my case had been tried by so many. After using it a week I began to feel better, and in a short while after that I was entirely cured. That terrible distress, everything I ate breaking up sour in my throat, had all gone and I have not had a moment's discomfort since. To-day there isn't a healthier man and my appetite is excellent." Write to Dr. David Kennedy's Sons, Rondout, N. Y., for a free sample bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, the great Kidney, Liver and Blood medicine, and free medical booklet. Large bottles $1.00. All druggists.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY
