

WASHINGTON

From our Regular Correspondent. Washington, D. C., April 6, 1908.

A recent interview given to the press by W. B. Hennessy of St. Paul who was sent to New York to promote the boom of Governor Johnson of Minnesota is regarded by the Democratic leaders as typical of the opposition to the great Nebraskan. Mr. Hennessy went to New York filled with Johnson enthusiasm. He returned filled with enthusiasm for Charles A. Towne, who is said to command the united support of Tammany Hall. Mr. Hennessy tells the world that Governor Johnson would welcome the nomination of Mr. Towne as Vice President, but that if Mr. Johnson cannot be nominated for first place, then he believes Mr. Towne will be. Mr. Towne, it will be remembered, was appointed to the Senate vice the late Cushman K. Davis, who had died in office. Towne was then a Republican. He later became a Democrat, however, and served a term in the House as a Representative from New York. Mr. Towne is eminently popular in and out of Tammany Hall, but there are few Democrats who will regard him as in the same class as William J. Bryan or as approaching presidential size. Nor is it at all likely that the great body of the Democracy would care to enter the fight for the presidency with a Tammany candidate. The ease with which Mr. Hennessy has been won over to the Tammany view, however, is regarded here as showing how little real vitality, there is to the opposition to Mr. Bryan and especially to the Johnson boom.

Senator Teller of Colorado made quite a speech in the Senate last week on what he called the tendency of the general government to overrule the powers of the States of the Union and to ignore the restrictions of the Constitution. He contended that the Federal government justified any act on its part by ascribing it to the public interest.

President Roosevelt recently entertained at the White House the well-known British naturalist, R. Keatner, who lectured, in Washington, by request, to a distinguished audience including the President and the British Ambassador. After luncheon at the White House the President took Keatner for a drive into the country and introduced him to many American birds. Together they stalked woodpeckers, phoebes, cardinal birds and tree sparrows, creeping stealthily over muddy, slippery hillsides, and beneath dripping undergrowth. Mr. Keatner afterwards declared that he "had the extreme satisfaction of thanking the ruler of the United States of America for giving me the greatest ornithological treat I have ever enjoyed in my life."

A rumor has been circulated to the effect that Post-master General Meyer is contemplating resigning his position in the Cabinet to accept the control of a large trust company. Mr. Meyer denies absolutely the truth of the story and he is occupied with plans looking to improvements and additions to the service. Mr. Meyer just now is devoting great attention to the postal savings bank and the cheaper parcel post and he is confident that if these measures are adopted great benefit will accrue to the country as a result.

Some of the anti-Bryan-ites have been counting on Texas to help them in their fight against the Peerless Leader but they have counted without their host. It is true that there has been a good deal of anti-Bryan sentiment in the Lone Star state but it has all faded away in the presence of the fight on Senator Bailey. In their desire to elect or defeat Senator Bailey the opposing factions have each come out strong for Bryan and according to Representative Slaydon,

HOW WOMAN WAS MADE.

The Hindu Theory a Pretty Substitute for the Rib Theory

The poor Hindu was sadly put to it to account for woman, but no more so than many wiser ones since his time. According to the legend, Twashti, the Vulcan of Hindu mythology, created the world, but when he arrived at the final object which was to be his chef d'oeuvre he found to his annoyance that he had run out of materials. He had not a single chunk of solid matter left.

With a mental exclamation upon his carelessness he fell into a profound meditation, the result of which was that he took the roundness of the moon, the undulating curves of the serpent, the graceful twist of the creeping plant, the light shivering of the grass blade and the slenderness of the willow, the velvety softness of the flowers, the lightness of the feather, the gentle gaze of the doe, the frolicsomeness of the sunbeam, the tears of the cloud, the inconstancy of the wind, the timidity of the hare the vanity of the peacock, the hardness of the diamond, the cruelty of the tiger, the heat of the fire, the chill of the snow, the cackling of the parrot and the cooling of the turtle dove.

He mixed these together in equal portions and the result was woman. After all, demands the Kansas City Journal, isn't this an advance upon the rib theory?

Tablets for the Auto.

It is for the woman who motors that most time and thought have been expended this season in getting up conveniences as well as luxuries. It seems as if there was scarcely a thing lacking in the equipment of the up to date auto which can contribute to the comfort of the motorist.

One of the new outfits for touring is a medicine case in which many common remedies are put up in tabloid form and which altogether takes up no more space than the smallest make-up box.

In the way of drugs, there are quinine, bismuth, boric acid and other remedies, not to mention a first aid outfit consisting of bandages, boric lint, cotton wool, and plasters; pins, scissors and sponge, oils for burns, castor oil, &c.

More than this, there is a photographic outfit in tabloid form, with all the necessary chemicals for developing, toning and fixing photographs.

About Smart Hats.

The fitting complement of the tailor made gown is the modernized hat following rather closely the lines of the head yet glorified with the curves and graceful lines of the more pretentious models. Floral effects were never more in demand for hat decorations but there are lovely effects in wings and feathered trimmings for millinery adornments. In the upper illustration a serviceable fine braid can be effectively trimmed with two American beauty roses in harmonious shades of red; the trimmings arranged at the back of the hat to lend height.

The crown of the second hat is not as high as some of the newest crowns, but it is a fashionable height. At the base is a bar of blue velvet ribbon finished with a flamingo pink wing dashed with blue.

Investigation Will Be Made.

The appalling loss of life in the coal mines of this country is to be stopped if the government of the United States can accomplish it. Congress voted an appropriation of $105,000 for the purpose of conducting investigations to ascertain the cause of mine explosions, and once the cause is found, the means of preventing them is easy.

Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, insisted that this investigation must not be confined to the territories as was first proposed, but that the government expert in seeking information must have an unlimited field. It was contended that the amendment of the Pennsylvania Senator was an invasion of state rights, but Mr. Knox denies this. He argues that the federal government had a right to gather information anywhere it pleases. Said he:

The loss of life and accidents in the United States far exceeds those of any other country where the mining industry is being conducted. This proposed investigation is for the purpose of allowing the hundreds of thousands of men who toil in the darkness beneath the surface of the earth to get the benefit of all the protection that all the knowledge gathered from all possible sources will furnish.

Senator Knox's proposition was adopted and the result will be a broad, thorough investigation by government experts that will bring about the adoption of safety methods in mining that will save thousands of lives and millions of property.

Telling Character by Laughs.

(Lew Fields in Leslie's Weekly.)

"You can tell people's character by their laughs. Did you ever hear a stingy man laugh? There are two kinds of stingy man laughs. One is the querulous squeak of the miser; the other, the hard, unsympathetic, and unwilling noise, without wrinkles, of the tight-fisted, self-made coin-squeezer. The generous man's laugh is the healthy roar, rising from a chuckle that comes right up out of a good, healthy intellect. He's the fellow who isn't afraid of disturbing the meeting. Then there's the titter of the harmless youth whose fingers are yellow, indicating no special claim on greatness; the giggle of the gushing girlie who sighs at the problem play matinees; the indulgent chuckle of the motherly matron who tells the family all about the show at the supper table; the staccato laugh, coupled with a half-frown, that belongs to the neurotic; the wheezing demonstration of the asthmatic gentleman who has to go to the mountains in hay-fever time; the calculating laugh of the landlady that sounds as though she had made some one take more prunes. Oh, every laugh has its distinct character. I can tell from the first round just what kind of people are in the house, and very nearly how many of each class."
