For Purer Food and Drink.

State Department Will Ask for Passage of Laws on This Subject.

Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust will urge upon the next Legislature the adoption of a number of important laws for the better protection of the people against dangerous and fraudulent adulteration of their food and drink.

Some of this proposed legislation will be offered by persons interested in the relief of the retail dealer throughout the State from the embarrassment of present defects in the laws. Others will originate with the department.

Commissioner Foust, in discussing the subject, gave the following outline of legislation likely to be offered:

"The Executive Committee of the Ice Cream Manufacturers in Pennsylvania will co-operate with the Dairy and Food division in preparing an act regulating the sanitary condition of ice cream factories, including cans and all appliances connected with the manufacture of ice cream. The leading manufacturers of ice cream are already at the front so far as sanitary conditions are concerned, but they are not satisfied. They are anxious to secure conditions that will put all factories upon the same level and effectively protect the public health.

"The same committee will prepare an act fixing a standard of butter fat for ice cream and plainly designating what it shall consist of. This is likewise a step of great importance. While the right to manufacture imitation ice cream may be conceded, the right to sell it as a substitute for the genuine article is not conceded and should be everywhere denied.

TO PREVENT "FRESH" EGG FRAUDS

"An act will be prepared and presented regulating the sale of cold storage eggs and poultry. Some things that have come to the surface during recent months indicate the very great need of such a law.

"A bill will be presented regulating the manufacture and sale of all kinds of non-alcoholic drinks.

"There will be a similar bill regulating the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks.

"The Dairy and Food division has already presented such an array of striking facts in connection with the dangerous qualities of many of the so-called summer drinks as to show the need for a law providing for the prompt and severe punishment of anybody putting into any of these drinks ingredients injurious to the human stomach or likely to destroy health or shorten life. In many cases last summer, agents of the department secured samples of cheap soda water, lemonade, pop and other non-alcoholic drinks which contained acids in such quantities as to make them dangerous to the consumer.

WANTS TO INSPECT WINES.

"It is also pretty well known that much of wine sold over the bars these days, not to mention stronger drinks, is badly adulterated. At least it was before the Federal law went into effect, and the State ought to be in a position to inspect all such drinks and to bring to the bar of justice every violator of law.

"Another act will provide for the regulation of the sale of milk and cream, fixing the standard of butter fat for cream at 18 per cent, and prohibiting the sale of milk in this Commonwealth containing any added water or which has any portion of the butter fat abstracted.

60 Years Old and generally played out, when I commenced to use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," writes S. I. Young, of Hiram, Ohio. "For years I have suffered with inflammation and constant pain in the bladder and kidneys, and have gradually grown worse and expected at any time that passing urine by nature's effort would cease. Besides I have had rheumatic pain in every muscle and joint, and have suffered intensely, but I must say I have met in five years' use of it 'I do now. Have improved daily since I began the use of

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY

About a week ago I gave a man afflicted with bladder trouble, some Favorite Remedy, and to-day he said, 'That is a great medicine; I am better already,' and he drove eight miles to get a bottle of it."

How Is Your Blood?

If you lack strength, are nervous, have no appetite, don't sleep well, get tired easily, your blood is in bad condition. You cannot be strong without pure, rich blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes good, rich blood and keeps it good.

Dyspepsia—"For six months my system was out of order with dyspepsia and impure blood. Spent lots of money in vain, but Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. J. S. ZAUBA, Genoa, Neb.

Had No Appetite—"I was troubled with dyspepsia and had no appetite. I had a faint feeling after eating. My constitution was all run down, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has fully relieved me." FLORENCE STOWE, Soudersville, Wisconsin.

Weakness—"I bless the day I heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it cured me of extreme weakness after grip, built my husband up after pneumonia, and cured eczema and blood-poisoning in our children." Mrs. M. A. DELWORTH, Box 4, Embreeville, Pa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere. In the usual liquid, or in tablet form called Sarsatabs. 100 Doses One Dollar. Prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Auxiliary Car Seats.

A Western street car company recently announced that increased accommodations were to be made for riders, and what the improvements materialized, they consisted of an additional number of straps on which riders might hang when the seats were filled. A more acceptable innovation than this is the one covered by a recent patent grant for AUXILIARY CAR SEAT. An auxiliary car seat extending into the aisles which will act as a perch for such passengers as are unable to obtain a full-sized seat.

The new device is quite small and in appearance seems to be a cross between a boat paddle and baker's peel. It is a metal rod with the diminutive seat in one end, while the other end is designed to lock into a metal plate imbedded in the frame of the vehicle at regular intervals with space for a passenger between. The auxiliary seat is supported by a suitable brace, and when in position extends into the aisle, affording a comfortable seat.

Japanese Secret Service.

Undoubtedly the most perfect secret service in the world is that possessed by the Japanese, who devote to it all the patience for which the oriental is famous. The late war in Manchuria offered ample evidence of the value of the work accomplished by it. In Peking, Harbin, Port Arthur, and Seoul the centres of an elaborate system were established, by which secret service men, disguised as barbers, servants, itinerant merchants, and traveling priests, swarmed all over northeast Asia. There was neither a village nor a military post that escaped observation, and many of the earlier successes of the Japanese were due to the excellence of the information supplied by the members of the secret service before hostilities began.—Chicago Journal.

Shorthand Without Hands.

A youth of fifteen named Pessenbeck, who two years ago lost both his hands in a machinery accident at Arnstadt, has accomplished the remarkable feat of gaining a speed certificate for shorthand. After his mishap, by which his hands were cut off at the wrists, he was received into a cripples' home. The Duke of Saxe-Meinigen, one of the patrons, took an active interest in the lad and paid for two artificial hands. The cripple soon became so expert in their use that he is now an excellent penman and can write shorthand at the rate of 115 words per minute.—London Tit-Bits.

Train for the Farm.

"In the first place I trust that more and more our people will see to it that the schools train toward and not away from the farm and the work shop. We have spoken a great deal about the dignity of labor in this country, but we have not acted up to our spoken words, for in our education we have tended to proceed upon the assumption that the educated man must be educated away from and not toward labor. The great nations of mediæval times who left such marvelous works of architecture and art behind them were able to do so because they educated alike the brain and the hand of the craftsman. We, too, in our turn, must show that we understand the law which decrees that a people which loses physical address invariably deteriorates, so that our people shall understand that the good carpenter, the good blacksmith, the good mechanic, the good farmer, really do fill the most important positions in our land, and that it is an evil thing for them and for the nation to have their sons and daughters forsake the work which, if well and efficiently performed means more than any other work for our people as a whole."
