DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION

Democratic State Committee Rooms
 Harrisburg, Pa., April 1, 1908.

As directed by the Democratic State Central Committee at a special meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms, in this city on Wednesday, February 26th, 1908, notice is hereby given that the Democratic State Convention will convene in the Orpheum Theatre, at Harrisburg,

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20th, 1908.

at 11 o'clock a. m. The business for which the convention will meet will be.

To nominate one candidate for Superior Court Judge:

Two candidates for Presidential Electors-at-Large.

To elect in the manner provided by the rules of the party: four Delegates and four Alternates-at-Large to the National Democratic Convention;

To certify the nomination of thirty-two Presidential Electors, as named by the delegates from the respective Congressional Districts of the State.

And to act upon and determine such other matters, relating to the welfare and success of the party within the State, as may be brought before it.

P. GRAY MEEK, Secretary.
 GEORGE M. DIMELING, Chairman.

Ammerman Endorsed by Three Parties

At the recent primary election Montour county registered unmistakable endorsement for local option when Hon. R. Scott Ammerman, capitol prober, Democratic and local option candidate for the Legislature, was not only chosen by his own party, but got a majority of the Republican votes over Charles W. Cook, beside being selected as the Prohibition candidate. The organized liquor forces in the county had selected George Maier, former sheriff, as the Democratic candidate for nomination. They took with them the entire Democratic machine and all the party workers, so that Ammerman did not have even a watcher at any of the polls except in the First ward, where he remained himself. The Republican candidate for the Legislature, Charles W. Cook, had declared against local option, so that the Republican local optionists nominated Ammerman on their ticket with stickers. He defeated Maier by 101 and Cook by 77.

Newspapers as Business Ventures.

Considered as a manufacturing business, newspaper making is enormously hazardous and absurdly unremunerative. With other manufacturing concerns, the rule is that if they don't make profits they quit, but that is not the rule with newspapers. They always have moral and political reasons for clinging to life long, long after there has ceased to be any pecuniary warrant for it. A newspaper in these days is about as likely to declare a dividend as a church is.
 Competition between papers is intense, the price of nearly all of them is too low, the cost of white paper and manufacture too high, and they give a great deal too much for the one meager cent that most of them now sell for.

THE CAPITOL GRAFTERS.

There is a constantly growing impression in the public mind to the effect that the convicted capitol grafters will never be sentenced.
 The other day a hundred or more reasons were filed for new trials and it is said that arguments on this point will not be begun for a month or more. No doubt these arguments when they do come will be prolonged as much as possible and by the time the questions in dispute are disposed of the people will have forgotten the graft and the prisoners will be allowed to disappear into oblivion. There is a good deal of foundation for this gossip.

We own to considerable surprise at the conviction of the grafters. It was never intended by the party managers that they should be convicted. Public sentiment forced that result, however, and it couldn't be checked in time. If the election of last fall had come six months sooner and with the same result, the plan of procedure would have been changed. The election of Sheatz inspired the machine managers with courage and courage is inventive. Some scheme would have been discovered to secure immunity for the grafters if the managers had had courage to think.

Burd Cassell, whose trial is scheduled for next month, is a member of Congress but though the session is nearly over, he has not qualified.
 It is said that he is afraid to take the oath of office because some Democrats have threatened to raise the question of his competency and thus prejudice his case. It may be assumed, however, that the real deterrent influence is the desire to have the incident forgotten. Least said is soonest mended and those yet to be tried as well as those already convicted may escape through oblivion which is the only hope.

Carbondale has a Rod and Gun Club of 120 members, who think it worth while to restock the lakes of Wayne, Lackawanna and Susquehanna counties with the varieties of fish that Nature stocked them with originally. The club has already secured 100 cans of fish from the State, mostly from the hatchery at Pleasant Mount. More than 75,000 fish, including bass, perch, blue gills and cat fish, have been secured. The streams and ponds throughout this entire region, including Wayne and Susquehanna counties, will be stocked and patrolled by the club.

The National Publicity Bill society has petitioned congress to pass a law for publicity both before and after election of campaign contributions made to national committees to be used in influencing the approaching election of November 3, 1908.

ALL FOR KNOX.

WASHINGTON, April 22, (Special) That Senator Knox will have the 68 votes of Pennsylvania solid in the Chicago convention was shown beyond any question when the returns were in from the primaries held on April 11. Sixty-four of these delegates were selected in the districts on that date and every one of them is a strong Knox supporter.
 Wherever an anti-Knox candidate was running for delegate he was beaten by a big majority.

The Pennsylvania Republican state convention will be held at Harrisburg on April 29, when a resolution will be adopted pledging the support of the state to Knox and instructing the delegates at-large to vote for him. Gov. Stuart, James Elverson, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer, and Col.
 Charles A. Rook, publisher of the Pittsburg Dispatch, will be three of the "Big Four" from this state.
 The fourth man has not yet been decided upon. These men will all be enthusiastic Knox boomers who will stand by him to the end.

The report that Congressman John Dalzell had been defeated for national delegate from the Thirtieth district was found, upon a count of the ballots to be incorrect. Instead of being defeated, Mr. Dalzell led the ticket in that district. He says the entire delegation from Pennsylvania will go to Chicago with a determination to secure the nomination of Knox and that there will not be a single vote missing. Some weeks ago Mr. Dalzell made some complimentary remarks at a Yale banquet in this city, concerning Secretary Taft, which were twisted into an endorsement of Taft. Mr.
 Dalzell emphatically denied the statements attributed to him, but the report has been spread by the Taft supporters. Mr. Dalzell will be one of the most prominent Knox boomers at Chicago and doubtless will be the Pennsylvania member of the committee on resolutions.

No Self-Seeking.

Grover Cleveland to General Bragg, March, 1862.

I cannot refrain from declaring to you that my experience in the great office of President of the United States has so impressed me with the solemnity of the trust and its awful responsibilities that I cannot bring myself to regard a candidacy for the place as something to be won by personal strife and active self-assertion. I have also an idea that the Presidency is pre-eminently the people's office, and I have been sincere in my constant advocacy of the effective participation in political affairs on the part of all our citizens. Consequently, I believe the people should be heard in the choice of their party candidates and that they themselves should make nominations as directly as is consistent with open, fair and full party organizations and methods. I speak of these things solely for the purpose of advising you that my conception of the nature of the Presidential office, and my conviction that the voters of our party should be free in their selection of their candidates, preclude the possibility of my leading and pushing a self-seeking canvass for the Presidential nomination, even if I had a desire to be again a candidate.

Better Pay for R. F. D. Men.

Congressman John M. Reynolds, of the Nineteenth Pennsylvania district, has introduced in the House a bill increasing the salaries of rural mail carriers to $1,200 per year as the maximum.

"The rural carriers are not given enough money for the work they perform," said Mr. Reynolds, in discussing the merits of the bill.
 "They are compelled to work at all seasons of the year, in summer, in winter, in rain, snow and under all conditions. The government takes no excuse from them. In addition to this they are compelled to furnish their own horse and wagon and keep both in proper repair.
 The amount allowed them by the government, therefore, hardly enables them to make both ends meet."
 "I think $1,200 a year is little enough when one takes into consideration the duties performed by these servants of Uncle Sam. I am going to do everything in my power to have my bill favorably acted upon by this Congress."

Coal Output.

Over one-third of the anthracite coal mined in the United States was produced in Luzerne county last year, according to the reports of mine inspectors. There was also an increase of 14 per cent. in tonnage over the previous year.

The Rashness of Taft's Boomers.
(From Leslie's Weekly.)

Let Mr. Taft's boomers remember that fate has a feud with the Republican favorite of the moment who fails to carry off the candidacy on the first ballot. Seward in 1860, Blaine in 1876, Grant in 1880, and Sherman in 1888 had long leads at the outset in the conventions in those years, but in each case the nomination went to somebody else.
 Lincoln won the candidacy in 1860, Hayes in 1876, Garfield in 1880, and Harrison in 1888. Harrison and Hayes were far down in the voting on the opening ballots in those conventions, while Garfield was not thought of by anybody in connection with the candidacy until after a long contest between Grant, Blaine, Sherman, Edmunds, and other aspirants. Blaine, in 1884, was the only Republican favorite who, failing to carry the convention on the first ballot, won on a subsequent division. He led from the start, and got the nomination on the fourth ballot, and was beaten at the polls. All the omens, therefore, are against Mr. Taft.
 He is hardly so much of a popular idol as Blaine was, and Blaine's fate when he reached the people was not one that any Presidential aspirant should anticipate with satisfaction.

Always Take a Receipt.

There are occasions when the taking or giving of a receipt for a sum of money paid may seem to be unnecessary, yet it is wise to do so in every case. With the most honest and best meaning of people there is possibility of a failure to make proper credit for an amount paid, and unless memory serves there is likely to be ground for a serious misunderstanding. As soon as one receives a receipt or acknowledgment he should file it away in a place of safe keeping, where it can be found should occasion require. The saving of all receipts may mean the saving of a good many dollars in a period of years.

National Guard Encampment.

Gettysburg has been selected as the site of the next division encampment of the National Guard by a committee of the high officers of the guard who spent a day at the battlefield. The site will be on the scene of the third day's battle on the historic field, the infantry occupying the same sites as in 1904. The date will be selected later, but it is certain that the encampment will be held the latter part of July.

The 1908 Baseball Guide.

John J. McGraw's official baseball guide for 1908 just published is one of the most complete books of the kind ever issued. It contains everything that is of interest to the enthusiasts, and a special feature is a chapter on the famous spit ball, with illustrations showing how that wonderful curve can be mastered.
 The guide has many full page illustrations and contains instructions how to play every position on a nine, and a feature is made of the art of pitching a curved ball. It has all the official rules for the postseason championship game, schedule of the season's games, averages and standing of all the leagues. It is No. 18 of Fox's Athletic Library and will be sent to any address for 10 cents with 4 cents extra to pay postage. Address, Richard K. Fox,
