

KILLED FATHER THEN HIMSELF.

George E. Sterry, Wealthy Drug Merchant Killed.

New York, May 28.—George E. Sterry, Jr., Secretary of the Weaver & Sterry Company, Limited, one of the oldest drug firms in the country, with offices and warehouses for fifty years at 79 Pine Street, shot and killed his father as the elder man sat at his desk, and then put a bullet into his own head at exactly the same point in the right temple, where he had shot his father. Both died instantly. The father was President of the drug company, was interested in a number of others, and was accounted a millionaire.

The cause of the patricide and suicide was that the father, whose name was also George E. Sterry, had decided to marry on June 3, Miss Rachel Blake, a school teacher of East Orange, N. J. The four sons had known for six months about the intended marriage. They all opposed it and the son left a letter saying that he would not allow his father to disgrace the memory of his sainted mother. He had prayed over the matter sometimes as often as twenty times a day, he said, in the letter, and he felt that God had prompted him to kill his father.

Priest Stabbed at the Altar.

St. Louis, May 26.—The Rev. Father Joseph F. Lubeley, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, at Salisbury, Mo., one hundred and sixty-eight miles west of St. Louis, was stabbed twice while leaving the altar by Joseph Schuette, a wealthy parishioner. Schuette attacked the priest just after he had finished high mass. Father Lubeley fell at the second blow, and Schuette then turned his knife on John Gates and Mrs. Barbara Ginter, who had rushed up to aid the pastor. Mrs. Ginter was cut on the hand and Gates was cut on the hand and on the elbow. Neither is seriously hurt. Father Lubeley was stabbed in the right temple and in the right side of the neck, the knife just missing the jugular vein.

Lampshire Charged With Murder.

Laporte, Ind., May 26.—The Grand Jury which has been probing the mysteries of the Guinness murder farm returned seven indictments against Ray Lampshire, the Guinness farmhand. He is alleged to have set the house after the day Mrs. Belle Guinness and her children were burned to death. Lampshire is charged in the indictments with the murder of Mrs. Guinness and her three children, participation in the murder of Andrew Helgelein, the last victim of the widow, and arson in setting the house on fire. Arraignment probably will take place June 2.

Women Balk at Overalls.

Middletown, May 26.—The orders issued by the Board of Health of New York City, requiring that all persons who milk cows must wear white duck overalls and jackets, otherwise the milk will not be allowed to enter New York, has placed the majority of the milk producers in a predicament. Much of the milking has heretofore been done by the wives and daughters of the farmers, all of whom declare they will never don the overalls. The farmers think they cannot afford to dispense with their female help, and they are at a loss to know what to do.

$20 for Meal He Didn't Eat.

New Haven, May 26.—Phillip M. Thorne, Jr., a negro law student in Yale, brought suit against the owner of a restaurant that caters to students because he was refused a meal on the score of his color, has dropped the suit. The restaurant has compromised by paying $20 damages, all costs and counsel fees.

Wished He'd Die and He Did.

Trenton, N. J., May 28.—Ellis Harris, a Trenton man, and his sister quarreled over the division of $500 left by their mother, who died recently at the age of 100 years. The sister finally exclaimed: "I wish you'd drop dead!" This greatly excited Harris who fell to the floor unconscious, and expired in an ambulance which had been called to move him to a hospital. Heart failure in the excitement due to the quarrel was the cause of the death.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

SPEAKER CANNON AROUSED.

The Congressman Says a Few Things and Evidently is in Earnest.

Washington, D. C., May 28.—"I for one, strongly feel that Congress does not dare adjourn without providing for an emergency currency. Certainly it ought not to think of adjourning without doing so. No man who remembers what we passed through last fall, who knows the condition of the Treasury now, or who understands how sensitive is credit, can regard with complacency the thought of facing the future without some temporary safeguard A plague on schemes for asset and credit currency and central banks! They have no place in this legislation. Let us get together and do what the people expect and what the situation demands. Get to work and see what can be accomplished! There is always time for a great pressing duty like this, and so far as I am concerned adjournment is the last thing I am thinking of."

That's the kind of talk that is coming from the room of Speaker Cannon in these days of stress in the House, when the Senate and a large part of the House are thinking of nothing but getting to their homes and leaving the most important, the paramount bill of the session slaughtered in a disagreement between the two houses.

Imagination Kiss for Snell.

Clinton, Ill., May 26.—Further examples of the ease with which any personable young woman could get money out of Colonel Thomas Snell, railroad millionaire, by pretending to be infatuated with him, were given in the will suit in Judge Philbrick's court when additional letters from one of the women on whom the old man spent $300,000 in ten years were read. One of the letters showed she didn't even have to give real kisses to the dotard to wheedle him. In it she sent him an "imagination kiss," with the command to take it at a certain hour. Evidently the woman, a leader in the younger married set, convinced the Colonel there was satisfaction in telepathic osculation, for he sent her a fur coat for which he paid $500, and in the same missive she asked for an equal amount of cash.

Priest Bars Big Hats.

New York, May 27.—An edict against "Merry Widow" hats, especially when at confession, has been issued by the Rev. Patrick J. Brown, pastor of St. Philip Neri's Catholic Church, Newark. He declared from the pulpit that some hats are unbearable.

"The hats are so large," said the priest, "that in some cases persons wearing them must stand outside the confessional. In others the brims make the penitent kneel far from the confessional that secrecy is partly destroyed, priest and penitent speaking so loudly that those outside can hear them."

In Soft Blue Batiste.

Most enchanting to the eye is this lovely gown, with the skirt showing an artistic border effect. The bottom is finished with a deep hem set in with Valenciennes insertion. Fine hand-stitched tucks appear above the hem and still rising above the tucks is another dainty decoration in insertion and embroidery appliques in rose design. Little medallions in wreath design form the heading for a simulated Spanish flounce completing the unique decorative scheme of the skirt. Lingerie modes show nothing more elaborate than the bodice of this frock. The round yoke is of Valenciennes insertion dotted with medallions of embroidery. These caps are divided, falling gracefully away each side of the mass of lace forming the sleeves proper.

Deep bands of bebe and filet lace set into the bottoms of batiste, mull and chiffon skirts, are unusually handsome. Above these there may be borders of embroidery or insets of Dresden ribbon, which have the appearance of real embroideries and are much cheaper. There is really no end to the novel ways in which one may duplicate this very fashionable form of trimming for spring and summer gowns.

When the Woman Envis Man.

When she remembers that he doesn't have to twist his arm to hook his bodice up the back.

When he can wear his best hat in the rain without getting the curl out of the feathers.

When he gives his hair a neat little sleek with the comb and presto his coiffure is complete.

When the children cry, and he can whistle a tune, get his hat, bang the door and go out.

When he stows things away in his multitudinous pockets and saunters on with unencumbered hands.

When he trips up the street on a rainy day with his trousers jauntily turned up, no skirts to kick.

When he swings easily out of a moving car without danger of tangling his heels in his petticoats.—London Scraps.

HYDROPHOBIA VICTIM DIES.

Opiates Save W. H. Marsh, the Manufacturer, From Much Pain.

New York, May 28.—With nervous twitching of the hands and facial contortions that horrified the distressed members of his family, but probably unconscious of the frightful agony of it all because of the merciful use of opiates, William H. Marsh, Flatbush inventor, died from hydrophobia in his home, 74 Ocean avenue. He was told by Dr. William L. Wheeler, director of the Pasteur Institute that he had come too late and that the Pasteur treatment would not avail. Calmly the condemned man asked how many days he had to live, and on being told not more than four days were between him and death Marsh said he could meet his fate without fear, having his business in good shape, and that in another day he could take up the loose ends of his affairs and await death.

There were no traces of nervousness beyond the contortions of his mouth and the convulsive tightening of his jaws as Marsh drove away in his carriage from the Pasteur Institute to wait a far worse fate than the State decrees to the slayer of his fellow man. Having made his business affairs straight, the inventor went to his home and to bed. The fearful convulsions had seized him. He exacted the promise from his private physician, Dr. Cullinan, that he would be kept under the influence of opiates, that his physical torture might be lessened. He was only partly conscious when the final convulsions preceding death came upon him and he died as peacefully as it was possible for medical science to devise in such harrowing conditions.

Thaw's Wife to Withdraw Suit.

New York, May 24.—Unless she is induced by members of the Thaw family to change her mind, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will withdraw her suit for the annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw. The suit will be withdrawn formally when the case is called before the referee appointed by the Supreme Court. Following the withdrawal of her annulment action, Evelyn Thaw, it is said, will ask to be appointed a committee of her husband's person and estate. It is said that Mrs. Thaw decided to withdraw her annulment suit because she felt that as the wife of Harry K. Thaw she was assured of a substantial income. Once her marriage was annulled she would be in a position of never having been married to Thaw legally, and unless she was assured of an income before the annulment of the marriage she would be compelled to support herself.

Hundreds Re-employed.

St. Louis, Mo., May 27.—The National Prosperity Association's "re-employment day" has been anticipated by St. Louis manufacturers and corporations and hundreds of idle workmen are being put to work. Seventy-five industrial corporations have signified their willingness to get in line. Of these seventy-five, about half have already started re-employment, and are putting additional forces to work each day. It is intended in each of the establishments in question to have its full force at work as soon after June 1 as possible.

Town Treasurer a Suicide.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 28.—Charles H. Northrop, for eight years Treasurer of the Town of Newton, committed suicide at his home in that place by hanging. The body was discovered by his ten-year old son hanging from the bannister in the front hall on the second floor. The suicide was the outcome of an investigation last Fall, which reported that Northrop was an embezzler of $4,000 of the town funds.

Nevada's Governor Dead.

Reno, Nev., May 26.—John Sparks who had been ill from Bright's disease, died at his ranch near this place. He was born in Mississippi in 1843 and had been Governor of this State since 1902. His term would have run until 1910. Don S. Dickerson now becomes Governor, the youngest this State has ever had, as he is only thirty-four years old.

$1,000,000 Lost in Corn.

Chicago, May 24.—A new record price for May corn, 76 cents, is the highest ever known and the highest price that that grain has commanded since 1902. The price was forced up on the Chicago Board of Trade when James A. Patten in a spectacular deal squeezed J. Ogden Armour. A million or more is said to have been lost by Armour and others in an effort to break the Patten corner and cover shortage. The shorts, of whom Armour and Walker are the leaders, with thousands of others caught in the corner tried to find grain to make up their delinquencies. Patten not only held the market firm at the opening, but as the scramble to buy grain came forced the price up.
