THE PERFUME AND THE HAT.

The Remarkable Invention of a Parisian Milliner.

To gather the essential odor of flower and imprison it in a glass vial has long been possible, but how to distribute this perfume so that an atmosphere of delicate flowers clings to the folds of one's dresses and lingers in the curls of ore's hair has been more difficult! To scent one handkerchief is crude. The perfume lingers for an hour and evaporates. To hang sachet bags in one's wardrobe is not always successful. The that of the flower from which it takes its name. It has remained for a Parisian milliner to solve the problem. This genius is stocking her showroom wth the most delicate floral toques-tulle triumphs ightly The Best Guaranty of Merit is Upen sewn over with velvet blossoms. The purchaser who unpacks one of these creations from a nest of tissue paper will discover a tiny box in the crown of the hat. On opening it a slender vial with a narrow tube from which the contents may be dropped is disclosed. The contents prove to be the attar of the flower that adorns

Newspapers Warned.

Postoffice Department Will Not Permit Printing of Raffle Numbers.

The penalty for the violation is the withdrawal of the paper from the mails.

Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's worldfamed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class by themselves. the hat. The essential essence is They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities. The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood-purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, brokendown, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

An attempt was made to blow up the New York, New Haven & Hartford's new $750,000 brid; at Baychester Declaring Gov. Hughes is in the Presidential race to the finish, Secretary Humphrey moved the headquarters of the National Hughes League to Chicago.

The Pennsylvania Democratic Convention refused to instruct its delegates-at-large and omitted all mention of Bryan in its platform. Missouri, Michigan and South Carolina, instructed for Bryan.

The Republican party was given a verbal trouncing by Senator Robert L. Taylor, or "Fiddling Bob," as he is known in Tennessee, in the course of his maiden speech in the Senate. He sustained his reputation as a humorist.

FOREIGN.

The British Government has received from Washington an invitation to attend the Internation Tuberculosis Conference to be held in Washington next September.

A Dutch schooner arrived at Curacao from Puerto Cabello, where it had been feared that the bubonic plague had made its appearance. The captain of the schooner declared the sanitary conditions there were good. Japan is making desperate but fruitless efforts to stop the Chinese boycott, says a special cable despatch from Tokio.

Six of the turong of suffragists who raised a disturbance in front of the British Premier's residence in London, were put in jail.

Perslan tribesmen are preparing to make a stern resistance to the Russians, says a special cable from Teheran.

Herr Harden accused the judges of the court which tried him for libel of being prejudiced against him, says a special cable despatch from Berlin. Mme. Gould's attorney announced that she will wed Prince de Sagan a fortnight after the publishing of the banns next Sunday.

dropped on the toque before going out, one drop in the heart of one of the flowers being sufficient. The narcissus toque will bring an atmosphere of Jersey gardens into a London drawing-room. The lily-of-thevalley hat will fill the air with the fresh perfume of early summer. The honeysuckle toque suffers from the disadvantage that it may induce a wandering bee to believe that it is June .--- Town and Country.

Electrocuting Engles.

One of the most annoying difficulties in the operation of high tension electrical transmission in some sections of the west results from the electrocution of the large birds. On the Kern River-Los Angeles line, for instance, the eagles and cranes climb up under the insulators at the top of the high towers to keep warm. "About the time an eagle gives a good-night yawn," says the Electrical World, "his wings come in contact with the wires and the king of the air is a dead one." As many as 43 dead eagles and 18 cranes have been counted lying about the bases of the towers. Wire guards are now being placed about the roosting places in the towers.

Trained Nurses at Sea.

One of the great transatlantic steamship lines has added trained nurses to the medical personnel of its vessels. This opens a sea career for the trained nurse. Undoubtedly other lines will do the same and the nurse will become as indispensible an adjunct to the first class passenger vessel as the ship's doctor .---Journal of Medicine.

"Could you see the spirits that were there?"

"No, sir, but I could smell 'em."

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discover-ed that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicii al plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it pos-esses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.
