

PRIMARY ELECTION LAWS.

Parts that Relate to Rights of Voters and to Violations of the Law.

Section 8. The primaries shall be conducted by the regular election boards, duly elected under existing laws, who shall receive one-half compensation for their services that they receive at elections.

The polls shall be open between the hours of two post meridian and eight post meridian: Provided, That all persons licensed to sell liquors, either at wholesale or retail, or as bottlers, shall be compelled to keep their places of business closed, on said days for holding said primary elections, only between the hours of one o'clock post meridian and nine o'clock post meridian.

Primaries shall be conducted in conformity with the laws governing the conduct of general elections, in so far as the same are not modified by the provisions of this act or are not inconsistent with its terms: But, provided, That no elector shall be permitted to receive any assistance in marking his ballot, unless he shall first make an affidavit that he cannot read the names on the ballot, or that by physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot.

Section 10. The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections, within the election district where the primary is held. Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election district in which he offers to vote are, or hereafter may be, required by law to prove their qualifications or identity, on election day.

Each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot of the party for which he asks: Provided, That if he is challenged, he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that, at the next preceding general election at which he voted, he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for whose ballot he asks.

Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called, and to cast his vote according to law.

Section 14. Any person who votes or attempts to vote at a primary, knowing that he does not possess the qualifications of a voter at such primary, as indicated by this act, or who shall vote or attempt to vote more than once at a primary, or who shall have unlawfully in his possession an official ballot, outside the polling-place, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Any election officer who permits a person to vote at any primary, with the knowledge that such person is not entitled to vote, or who refuses to permit him to receive the party ballot for which he asks, after having executed the affidavit herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Any election officer or clerk who shall be guilty of any wilful fraud in the conduct of his duties at a primary, or who shall make a false return of the votes cast at such primary, or who shall deposit fraudulent ballots in the ballot box, or who shall certify as correct a return of ballots in the ballot box which he knows to have been fraudulently deposited therein, or who shall write false names in the lists of voters for the purpose of concealing the deposit of such fraudulent ballots or of aiding in the perpetration of such fraud, or who shall conspire with others to commit any of the offenses herein mentioned, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both in the discretion of the court.

Except as modified by the terms of this act, election officers shall be subject to the pains and penalties for violations or neglect of their duties at a primary as they are or hereafter may be subject to for violation or neglect of such duties at elections. In all other respects, officers officiating at primaries shall be subject to the pains and penalties provided by law for offenses committed at primaries. The existing laws relating to bribery at primaries shall continue in force, and shall apply to bribery at primaries as provided by this act.

Our Manly Training of Girls.

Our training of girls approaches close to the idiotic, claims Katharine Eggleston in Woman's Home Companion for June. The average girl, from the minute she leaves her dolls to go to kindergarten, till she matriculates at college, is told about men and men's work—never about women. The kindergarten songs and tales are about Lincoln and Washington—and even the pictures of animals show the lion and forget the lioness. In older childhood she is taught to build sand forts instead of good old-fashioned mud pies, and even the sums in arithmetic dwell on "Billy's" marbles and "John's" apples, to the total neglect of his sister.

Later still she goes to high school and learns history with all its ideals of brave men—and here again the woman's share of quiet courage is completely overshadowed. She learns carpentering, although she cannot cook an egg or sew a seam. And finally, her education finished, she knows all about the higher mathematics and is short changed by the butcher. She learns political economy, but doesn't know who are the members of her own school board. Miss Eggleston's bright article concludes:

"If your boy wanted to be a lawyer, and a neighbor told you to put him to work in a carpenter's shop by way of preparation, you would think your neighbor crazy. But you do not consider yourself crazy when you train your daughter, who is to be a wife and mother (and nothing can get away from the grim statistics that women do marry, despite economic independ-

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, watery bowels, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

dence, the higher education and all other arguments in favor of co-education), precisely as you train your son, who will enter some profession or trade, there to first earn his own living, and then to provide for a family yet unborn. The one to bear the family and to rear it, the other to provide shelter and comfort for the mother of that family, and yet both trained precisely in the same way."

IN VA DEVILLE LAND.

Osgar und Adolf Have a Breezy Dialogue in the Forest.

"Osgar und Adolf," the unique creations of F. W. Schaefer, now appearing in literary vaudeville, recently indulged in the following dialogue:

"Here, Adolf, we are pignigging in der haunts of nature." "I knew someding was haunting me, Osgar, but I thought id was chiggers."

"Lisden to der voodpecker's lit as he drifes nails in his family tree." "I thought dot was der buffrok's reveille among der daffydowndillies."

"Overhead der trees extend der branches from der main office mit a frientliness to each odder." "Yes, yess; bud id iss a vonder dey don'd knock their heads toggeder when dey bough. Ha, ha, ha!"

"Un der pure breeze blow." "Do you really dink dose zephyrs iss all vool?" "Look how der ivy clings to der oak."

"I vonder who nalled id on? Oh, dere iss a limpid pool." "I vill try for der corner pocked, ha, ha, ha. By der vay, I can see myself in der water."

"Dot is a serious reflection on id. Say, we are nod alone. I see hoof-prints in der mut." "Of course. Diss iss vere der cow-slips und der bullrushes, ha, ha!"

"Led us pull some vild flowers before dey pull their pistols." (Biff!) "I dink I vill pring here some day a chain gang to make daisy chains."

"Dore iss some fir trees. Dey come from Iceland, I hear." "Vot grows on dem?" "Cones."

"Den dot blace muss be der orichinal Coney Island, he, he, he!" (Bing! Biff!)

Then Polly Spoke. Young Simpkins (making a call)—You have had that parrot a long time, Miss Ethel.

Miss Ethel—Yes, we have had him several years. Young Simpkins—Quite intelligent, is he not?

Miss Ethel—Very. He can imitate most anything. Young Simpkins—They have a remarkable parrot over at the Casterlins', Miss Ethel. It can imitate the sound of a kiss to perfection. Is that among the accomplishments of our feathered friend here in the corner?

Miss Ethel (indignantly)—No sir. He does not attempt an imitation of a sound he is not accustomed to hear Mr. Simpkins.

The Parrot (reminiscently)—Wait, George, dear, till I take this bird out of the room.

Absent-Minded Benevolence. A believer in organized charity cites the following as an example of misdirected tender-heartedness:

A very benevolent, but absent-minded old gentleman, riding in his carriage one hot July day, noticed a toad in the dusty road gasping with the heat. In the kindness of his heart he climbed down, tenderly moved the poor toad into the shade of his carriage, and then, thoroughly satisfied with his good deed, climbed up again and drove on.

UNFORTUNATELY PUT.

He—What a beautiful set of teeth she has. She—Yes, he inherited them from her mother.
