ONE'S WIFE'S FRIENDS.

The Kind That She, on Her Part, Has to Dinner.

No one can remember when it was that the first woman complained of the friend that her husband brought home to dinner. But it must have been a very long time ago.

And all these years men have gone on suffering from this imputation. It has indeed been a standing joke that no man has a right to bring home a friend to dinner that his wife doesn't know about beforehand.

But how about the other side of the affair? How about the friends that one's wife brings home to dinner? No word of protest has yet been raised by husbands. But is it not time that something was done about it?

There is the old schoolmate your wife hasn't seen for years. She comes on to spend a couple of weeks even a month-in the height of the business season, whee, if there is any thing else you desire, it is quiet, and peace in your home.

The chances are that she is the nicest kind of a person-reeking with culture and, doubtless, enthusiastic about the opera-which you detestand the strain of appearing well before her becomes more and more intense as the days roll by, until at last you throw off the mask and appear as your natural self. This, of course, calls down upon you your wife's condemnation, and when her friend departs at last she declares, with tears in her eyes, that she will "never have her again."

Then there is the silent dressmaker that your wife has at regular intervals. It isn't exactly that she should eat at the same time with you. On the other hand, there is no reason why she shouldn't. She is highly refined and has been used to even much better things than you are able to provide. Then why not? And she does.

Of course, you cannot mind about this. It would stamp you as a narrowminded brute to assume for an instant that she isn't as good or better than you are. As a matter of fact, this thought has never occurred to you. It isn't because you feel any superiority that you wish your privacy. You explain all this to your wife, but she tosses her head in the air and says: "If you think you can afford to have all my gowns made outside, why, very well." Among others whom your wife brings home to dinner without asking your consent is the president of the Woman's Club, the minister's wife, the intimate friend in the next square whose husband is away on important business and with whom you are obliged to walk home afterward. standing meekly on the front porch until she says it's all right. There is the trained nurse your wife had during her last Illness, the teacher of music, who comes of a "fine family," and the nice old lady who used to live next door to your wife's mother. You smirk before them all. when some morning you timidly assert that your old friend Jake Pratt is in town, and if she doesn't mind you county auditor shall be filled, by the court of common pleas of the county in which such vacancy shall occur, by the appointment of an elector of the proper county who shall have voted for the commissioner or auditor whose place is to be filled," so as to read:

Three county commissioners and three county auditors shall be elected in each county where such officers are chosen,

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the electedly feminine organism and are unlitted for motherhood. This can be removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cares the weaknesses and disorders of women. It nots directly on the delicate and important ordans concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" hanishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes haby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its murvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as " just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of glochol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

Lost By Detention.

Wm. Mericle, Hemlock.

While a New York commuter was stalled an hour on a train coming to the city because the electric engine had blown out its fuses he walked through the train and made a calculation. "There are six hundred persons on this train," he said. "An hour lost for each person means a loss of seventy-five working days for one man. If we were all concentrat ed into one man and he had to suffe the loss don't you think he would feel that damage should be paid fo the loss? Why does the distribution of the loss change the responsibil
