JUSTICE AS SHE IS RUN.

Polander Who Runs Booze Joint in Real Name and Justice Office Under American Name.

The Mt. Carmel Item says: Charles Krieger is a justice of the peace in Coal township. He holds a liquor license under his Polish name, but the commission as justice for the unexpired term of William Lloyd, now county treasurer, was issued under his English name. He has a very neat office, elaborately fitted, having, it is alleged, paid Mr. Lloyd $2,500 for the furniture. Last week a fellow bought a hat in Ludes' store at Shamokin. When he got home he found that the hat was broken, and he attempted to return it to the dealer. But Mr. Ludes was busy, and told him to "come tomorrow." The fellow brought suit before Justice Krieger. The "squire heard the case through-out, and then remarked, "Ludes, you pay $12.40, fine and costs." Ludes yelled, "I won't pay it; I will go to court." Said the "squire: "The h—l you won't; what for you think I work?" All of which indicates that he is on to the job.

GENERAL NEWS.

"Lawyers are a necessary evil," says the Williamsport News, which declaration leads the Altoona Tribune to the defense of barristers with this tribute: "Nowhere else have we found warmer friends or more steadfast allies for the right cause, and if the lawyers were suddenly taken out of the world a very considerable vacancy would be apparent."

Feeling the need of more cash with which to pay schools, Judges' salaries and other current expenses, State Treasurer Sheatz has drafted from 70 non-active depositories of State funds $300,000, representing 20 per cent. of the State deposit. This is the second draft of the year, the other having been made last winter. Almost all of the school districts have been paid for the present school year.

James Dailey, an iron worker at Eanville, Saturday afternoon was arrested and committed to jail for the non-payment of tax. The arrest was made at the instance of the retiring tax receiver, J. P. Bare, of that place. Dailey owes three years' tax. When approached on the subject of tax his attitude was not of the sort to inspire confidence in the tax receiver and the man's arrest followed.

It has developed in a series of records, that former Senator J. Donald Cameron never qualified as a member of the Quay Monument Commission, having neither filed his oath nor lifted the commission, the latter being still held at the State Department.

Commissioners Lane and Moody both lifted their commissions on August 1, 1905. As they were not confirmed by the extra session of the Legislature their commissions expired with that session, and they were not reappointed.

Karl Bitter, the sculptor, did not turn up to take the Quay statue out of hock and put it in the Capitol rotunda, and it remains in cold storage.

An outbreak of diphtheria is causing anxiety in the Second ward of Danville. At present the disease seems to be spreading in spite of the precautions usually employed. Because of new cases it has been found necessary to fumigate school rooms on several occasions. Diphtheria has been lurking in Danville for some months. A member of the school board expressed grave concern and declared that in his opinion the rules and regulations controlling intercourse with the infected families were not rigid enough.

The public will learn with great satisfaction that the Reading railroad has started a campaign against illegal car riders and proposes to arrest and punish every one apprehended, says the Milton Standard. These offenders are a menace to the public in that their presence on trains is responsible for many accidents that occur and the attendant loss of life and property. Criminals of all classes use the freights to get from one point to another. They not only afford them increased opportunity to rob and commit all manner of crimes but to escape after they have been committed. The railroad company is not only doing a good thing for itself but for the public when it set about to break it up.

Hidden Wealth of India.

It is estimated that $1,500,000,000 in gold, and perhaps as much in silver, is hidden away in the Hindu stockpiles. Vast quantities of the precious metals are known to be kept in the form of personal ornaments. From time immemorial India has been a reservoir into which the precious metals have flowed from all quarters of the globe, only to disappear from statistics. Could the idle wealth be drawn upon the effect on the industrial and commercial life of the country would be very great. It is, therefore, a matter of concern to try to turn India's dormant capital to active use. It may be impossible to do it. The Orient mind views everything in a way incomprehensible to westerners. But if only a tithe of the concealed hoards of India were vitalized a new aspect might be given to the conditions of life in England's great eastern empire.

Peculiar Form of Graft.

Edwin F. Marvin, conductor of the national division of the Sons of Temperance, was discussing in Bridgeport, Conn., a flagrant piece of bribery. "Bribery, like a worm in fruit," he said, "spoils all it enters. And what won't it enter? A temperance society in the middle west once had a splendid lecturer, a reformed drunkard. This lecturer, after a year or so, was discharged. An admirer asked why he had been released, and the society's president answered: 'Don't you remember how he continually referred to the irresistible seductions of a certain brand of beer, attributing his downfall to it? Well, it turns out that the brewer paid him a quarter for every time he rang in the beer's name.'"

HOT APPLICATIONS FOR KILLING BORERS.

A York county fruit grower wrote to State Zoologist Surface, Harrisburg, inquiring whether he had any experience in applying boiling water around peach trees to kill the borers. Professor Surface replied:

"I beg to state that I have not used water alone, but I have used a boiling hot solution of caustic soda in water, and I find that this does the work when used in the proportion of about one ounce of caustic soda or washing soda in each gallon of boiling water. A quart of this should be poured around the base of each tree after cleaning away the dirt and gum. A quart of boiling hot water around each tree would not injure it, neither do I think that it would kill the borer. More than this might prove injurious, but I do not know, as I have not tried it. It is my opinion that boiling water alone will not kill borers.

"The best thing I have found is to remove the dirt around the trunks of the trees to a depth of perhaps two inches, doing this from the middle to the latter part of June, and spray or wash the trunk to a height of one to two feet and down to the base of the tree as low as possible, using thick boiled lime-sulphur wash, with a sediment of lime in it, and then replace the soil to its former level. This method in my orchards this year has resulted in less than one per cent. of the trees being infested with borers."

APPLE LEAF RUST.

A box, containing fruit and leaves taken from an apple tree, of the Summer Rambo variety, was sent from Perry county, to Professor H. A. Surface, for an explanation as to the cause of the red rust with which both fruit and leaves were covered.

Professor Surface wrote in reply: "I have received and examined the apple leaves which you sent to us, and find these leaves infested with the Apple Leaf Rust. This disease, in order to come to perfection, must live part of the year on one kind of plant and part of the time on another. The red cedar, which is one species of juniper, is known as the alternating host. Thus, if the red cedar trees be cut down in your neighborhood, it will help to suppress this pest. It sounds at first like nonsense, to say that the destruction of red cedar trees will help to prevent apple pests; but this particular fungus disease, known as Rust or Red Rust of the Apple, cannot exist throughout the year without having a season in which it lives on the red cedar in the form of a little brown or dark ball often seen thereon, and commonly called 'cedar apples.' During a favorable time in summer, little long filaments come out of these cedar balls, or apples, and produce a dust, which consists really of great numbers of spores or microscopical seeds. These are carried by the wind to the leaves and fruit of the apple trees, where they penetrate the tissue and cause the disease you have seen. Spraying apple trees with Bordeaux mixture would also be found efficient in preventing this disease and preserving the health of leaf and fruit."

Work has been begun on the fine new residence of William Lowenberg on West Fourth street. John Gorrey is putting in the foundation.
