THE OBSERVER. "The World is Governed too Much." ERIE, PA. Saturday Morning, April 34, 1817. DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS. FOR GOVERNOR FR'S. R. SHUNK. FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, MORRIS LONGSTRETH. IFA beautiful little sketch by that inimitable writer, "Grace Greenwood," will be found on our first page. Appointments by the President

We find the following excellent appointments by the President in the Washington Union:

Brigadier General Gideon J. Pillow, to be major general in the army of the United States, in the place of Thomas II, Benton, who declined to accept Brigadier General John A. Quitman, to be "Brigadier General John A. Quitmon, to be panded into patriotism-self defence expand-major general in the army of the United States, ed into national defence." But, in any other in the place of William Cumming, who de-place of John A. Quitman, promoted.

The Hypoc isy of Whigery.

The more we see the twistings and turnings of the leaders of federal whigery, tholless we are surprised that their principles have met with so little favor at the hands of the plain, honest straight forward voters of this country. During our brief editorial experience we have seen them assume more shakes than the fabled ghosts of old, and more heres than chameleon.; But among all their somersets, fives, colors or hues, this last one in regard to the war-from violent opposers and denouncers of all engaged in it, from the Administration down even to the common solliers, to the most servile admirers and eulogists of every thing they had heretofore denounced, save the Administration-caps the climax of their htpucracy. We well remember one year ago when the news of the march of the Army of Occupation under Genreal Taylor to the Rio Granle was first received, with what virulence the presses that are now so loud in shouting hosannas to that same army and General, greeted it. The whole country was in an opear with their clamor. The Administration and its supporters were as ailed as "murderers," "cobbers," invaders" and "plundeters of a weak sister republic;", and heaven's dire-t vengeance invoked from the pulpit and the press against all who should lend a hand in supporting the cause of the country. We find the following free comparison be-"Who is this Taylor" said they in derision. tween the sentiments of the Federalists of "that Polk has sent to invade the Ferritory of Mexicol" This was before the battles of 1812 and the Whigs of 1846-'47, in an ex-Palo Alto, and Resaca de la Palma, and when change; We commard it, to the special atit was supposed the hosts of Ampudia and tention of the editors of the Gazette, not for-Vega would defeat and destroy the little band | getting the quotation we have taken the under Taylor. The Whigs and the Presidency.

Those Whig presses that have rushed with such zeal to the available nomination of Gen. Taylor for the Presidency, find themselves nallyr somewhat embarrassed. The Democratic press, and the Democratic meetings have never failed to bear testimany to the great services and high character, of the General. But the Whig presses which have put him arge and convenient Stable for the uso of Boatforward without his knowledge, are already men and o hers having horses.
