FRIDAY. SATURDAY MORNING JULY 22, 1848.

WHAT THE WHIGS SAID OF GEN. TAYLOR.

Since Gen. Taylor has forced the whigs to take him as their candidate against the will of nine-tenths of the party...

"We believe it is well known by this time that we are in favor of the nomination of Gen. Taylor."

"But he is available," it is said. Inconceivable has not frequently been considered as having some thing to do with availability."

"We know there are men of good sense not able to be so grossly deceived as to believe that such a man as Gen. Taylor is available."

"Consistency we know is not an available quality but a necessary one."

"The man who has been so grossly deceived as to believe that such a man as Gen. Taylor is available."

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

FROM GALLIEN'S MESSENGER, JUNE 20.

The sitting of the National Assembly yesterday, was marked by an important event—the presentation of the draft of the constitution for the French Republic.

The Legislative power is to consist of one National Assembly, composed of 750 representatives, elected for three years, by universal suffrage.

The President of the Republic is to be elected for four years by universal suffrage; any person can be elected who has attained the age of 30 years.

The President cannot be re-elected, unless four years have elapsed from having before held the chief office of the republic.

The President is to be lodged at the expense of the republic, with a salary of 600,000 fr. a year.

The Vice-President is to be named by the National Assembly, for four years, out of a list presented by the President.

The President is to be elected by ballot for three years, by the National Assembly, in the first month of each legislature.

Select Poetry and Miscellany.

MAIL, LEWIS CASE, OF MICHIGAN.

Awake, old spirit of the past— Awake and put thy armor on! Nail freedom's ensign to the mast!

The grey-beard soldier leaps for joy, The seaman on the deep is glad, The old frontiersman, when a boy,

Who thenceforth Buena Vista frowned With cannon grin and glittering files, There was a host in battle crowned;

Firm in the principles of right, By Democratic ages taught, He keeps his sword and honor bright,

He stands, o'er now, our forest oak— The gallant Cass of Michigan.

In princely Halls, by gilded thrones, He stood the champion of the free; He heard the fettered seaman's groan,

The starry flag no longer bowed To banners borne in Europe's van, And freedom on their hills were proud

THE SAGAMORE OF SACO.

A Legend of Maine.

Never was country more fruitful than our own with rich materials of romantic and tragic interest.

The Sagamore of Saco was a man of a noble and heroic nature, who lived in the time of the Pilgrims.
