ARRIVAL OF THE HIBERNIA... FAVORABLE NEWS FROM FRANCE!... New York, July 21—10 P. M.

The Steamship Hibernia arrived at 6 o'clock. She sailed on the 4th inst.

The Revolution in France has assumed a more promising aspect, the late insurrection having been completely quelled, and tranquility restored.

Gen. Cavaignac is the irascible Dictator of France. He seems to be zealously occupied in consolidating the Government; and for the first time since the monarchy, the hope is raised that France will rescue herself after all her blood and sacrifices, an effective, just and moderate Executive.

Lumattin and Ledru Rollin are constantly watched. It is generally believed in Paris that Cavaignac was at the head of the late insurrection.

There are reports of a Revolution in St. Petersburg, in which 300 lives were lost. The Cholera is making fearful progress. Six new Hospitals have been opened in Moscow.

Chautaubrand died on the 4th of July. M. Carnot has resigned. There are over 100,000 soldiers in Paris.

An armistice of three months has been concluded between Germany and Denmark. Great excitement in Berlin. Arch-Duke John appointed Lt. General of the Germanic Empire. Charles Albert yet inactive.

The Austrians have possessed themselves of nearly all the Venetian provinces. Rome is in a disturbed condition. Carlist risings have commenced in Spain.

Sancti convictions in England for drilling—Warrants issued against the publisher of the Felon. St. Louis, Mo. Kentucky.—As the August election in this State draws nigh, the whigs everywhere, and more particularly in the State, show evident signs of defeat.

Our friends speak with great confidence of their ability to carry the State. Most earnestly do we hope they may, for they have fought so long and so well that they deserve a glorious victory. The Louisville Journal is making a desperate effort to avert the blow that impends over it.

In its ravings it thus abandons the State. "Within the last three or four days we have conversed freely with several high and noble spirits who have just made the tour of a considerable portion of the State. Their reports are indeed discouraging. They say that wherever they have been, they have seen a thousand evidences of the most thorough and stringent Locofoco organization, and that the Locofocoism, both in its practical and its theoretical aspects, is more rampant than ever.

Sarapilla, had regular night sweats; indeed, my friends and myself supposed that I would die with the consumption. But I have recovered, and I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years. You are at liberty to publish this with my name in the Standard. Yours truly, SETH TERRY.

to any other conclusion, who has watched attentively your course of legislation during the last five years. In truth, one of the great differences between parties here, is that the one party—namely the Whigs—is favorable to what they term "liberal" appropriations, while the other is for scrutinizing closely every item in an appropriation bill, and conducting the business of the Government just as economically as its own.

A word or two to my friend from Georgia.—Mr. Tumbler has not needed me, and I have done. He says General Taylor, if elected, will bring back this Government to the purer principles and policy of General Washington; but the most studiously avoids giving us any idea of what those principles or that policy are. He places himself on the Alliance letter, upon which almost any and every construction may be put. From it you cannot tell whether General Taylor be in favor of a battle or against it, for the anti-treasury or against it, for a protective tariff or against it, for internal improvements or against them, for the distribution of the proceeds of the public lands or against it; and for the Wilmot proviso or against it. This is your candidate. Seeing such is your mood, and you are disposed to take General Taylor without pledges, and without any avowal of principles, and without any avowal of a course, would most respectfully recommend to you the perusal of the letter of the Hon. Willoughby Newton—a highly respectable Whig, and recently a member of this House from the Old Dominion—to a Whig committee in Richmond, in February, 1844, who invited him, I believe, to assist in preparing an address from a convention to the Whigs of Virginia. In that letter, speaking of the contest of 1840, Mr. Newton says: "We had a long and arduous contest, and achieved what we supposed a glorious triumph. But what advantages have we reaped from our labors? The fruits of all our toils have turned to ashes on our lips; and we may truly exclaim with Pyrrhus, 'one more such victory, and we are undone.'"

And if your anticipations are realized, that period is approaching. But in your judgment, do the signs of the times point to the Whig party as the party which will be the "embodiment" of its principles, is already broken into fragments. How much more noble it would be for your party, sinking as it is, to be defeated conceding for principles, in pursuance of this most salutary advice of Mr. Newton:

"Let me adjure the convention not to repeat the errors of 1840, which have been the fruitful source of all our woes. Let them remember that honesty is the best policy, both in public and private life. I think I know something of the Virginia character. Our people are liberal and ingenious; they will tolerate an honest difference of opinion, sincerely entertained, and honestly expressed, but they will not tolerate a dishonest simulation. Let the convention, therefore, boldly avow the principles of the party—advocate a national bank, a tariff, and without circumspection, a tariff with proper discrimination for the reasonable protection of our great domestic interests, and the free trade of the world; deem essential to the purity of the Government and the prosperity of the people."

Here the chairman's hammer fell, and further remarks were precluded.

THE SOLDIER'S FIRST VIEW OF AN AMERICAN LADY.—We were much amused and interested yesterday, at the capers and remarks of a soldier who had just returned from the war, and coming up Canal street had encountered, at the corner of Charles, one of our beautiful, graceful and elegantly dressed ladies. "Oh, boys! just stop," he exclaimed to his companions, and let us take one good look at a real Yankee girl. I didn't want to come home for anything but that. I could stand the Greasers, their country, their climate, their houses, their eating and drinking, barring the pork, but O Lord! the women, with their tawny skins, bare feet, their slipshod ways, their cigars, I couldn't stand them, no how you can fix it. I only wanted once more to fix my peepers on a genuine American girl, and then I could be happy in the balance of my days. And now I can't get a girl like that one! See how finely and gracefully she picks her way across the street; see how high she carries her head; look at her face, isn't it a charmer! that's the lily and the rose for you; and look how modestly she hangs that nice little pink shawl! Just at this point, the lady observing the excited manner of her enthusiastic admirer, interposed her gay little parasol between him and the object of his admiration, and remarked, "Well, I suppose that's about as much of paradise as a poor private ought to have."—N. O. Delta.

A CONTRAST.—While the North American, Intelligencer, and the News, that camp, are imparting to the friends of Gov. Shunk, all manner of selfish and heartless motives in connexion with his resignation, the New York Commercial, a paper of the same party predilections, looks at it in the single light in which it is proper to view the great and unprompted act. That paper of the 11th, says:

THE MONDAY SEMBLANCE.—Republican institutions often afford illustrations of the truly great and sublime, unsurpassed in the annals of the world's history. Few more affecting instances of this kind are on record than the resignation of Governor Shunk, with its attendant circumstances. Intelligence was forwarded by telegraph, yesterday, of the simple facts that he had resigned, and that heretofore of the lungs had supervened upon his long affliction. To us the whole circumstances present an affecting and impressive scene, most elevated by the courage of his neighbors and fellow-citizens to the high honor of the Executive chair of the State, smitten with mortal sickness, lying on a bed from which he is conscious that "in all human probability he will never rise," calmly resigning to his fellow-men the office which they have clothed him, and breathing the solemn prayer that "peace, virtue, intelligence and religion" may dwell among them. "The concluding paragraph of our act of resignation gives the crowning sublimity to the scene.

THE INDIANS OF MEXICO.—THEIR AFFECTION FOR THE AMERICANS.—On the departure of our army from Mexico, the Indians who constitute nearly the whole laboring population, are to be seen in the streets and in the fields, striking an affecting manner. The sojourn of our army in Mexico has relieved these poor and interesting people of many oppressions, and taxes to which they have been subjected. They are the producers and industrial of the country, and hitherto have contributed through the Alcabala, and other taxes, to support the extravagant Government of Mexico. As our army passed over their towns, crowds of these poor people surrounded our troops, and begged for alms, and to the soldiers, and many of them wept most piteously, crying out that they had lost their only friends.—This feeling will inevitably arouse the Indians who compose six-eighths of the population of Mexico to resistance and rebellion against the authorities of that country.—N. O. Delta, June 3 7th.

LYNO STREWART.—Mr. McClelland, of Michigan, entered in a lengthy and searching review of the speech made a few days ago by Mr. Stewart, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Stewart had made up his speech by reference to certain charges for extra services that had been made by Gen. Cass, while governor of the Michigan Territory. His speech was of the Oglio stamp.

Mr. McClelland took up the book from which Mr. Stewart had got his statistics, and proved from the documents that Mr. Stewart had most grossly falsified the record. In some instances he had left out parts of sentences—in others added up figures wrongly—and in other cases had manufactured his alleged facts.—Correspondent Cin. Enquirer.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We learn by a passenger in the stage from the west, that on Thursday morning about half past six, a stage from Detroit, en route for New York, was run over a stump and upset. The Rev. Mr. Knapp, the Baptist clergyman who was being preached here some time past was severely injured, having his collar bone broken, and a gash cut on his head. The other passengers were more or less hurt.—Chicago Advertiser of July 13.

GEN. TAYLOR'S PROVISIONS.—Gov Jones was unable to define Gen. Taylor's position on the proviso. He did not know what it was. He believed the general was inclined to leave the matter to Congress—at least he thought so. But Gov. Jones did not hesitate to say that he was against it, and to speak in this objectionable manner of the great General Taylor! This is about the upshot of the General Taylor's speech on the proviso.

FAMILY GROCERIES.—The following is a list of the family groceries, as they are called, which are sold at the lowest prices in the city. They are sold at the lowest prices in the city. They are sold at the lowest prices in the city.
