NW YORK STATE FAIR. - What shall we say of the The Word at Buffalo? That it was a jam? The word pot express it—it was more than a jam! Every or was there, with all his brothers and sisters, nephreand neices, cousins and acquaintances! In short, Rect to again. People were there from almost every arct to again. Agriculture, fruits, flowers, &c., others to purchase, cale to see the crowd, some for pleasure, and many for greaton at all, except to be in the fashion. The fact at there was so large an attendance, speaks well for the Serest felt all over the country, in the progress and imrement of Agriculture. From this section of Ponnrania, the attendance was unusually large, and the ex-MOLOf such an unusually large quantity of superior blooded stock, cannot fail to have a tendency to diat the attention of our farmers to the importance of provement in this particular. The exhibition of fruits. sers, vegelables, &c., was the grandest display we our New York neighbors are certainly ahead dus in this department, as well as in rail roads and ca-But when we come to Iron and coal, we think we sould be some !

Titlorism in Onto .- The whigs have now in nominigen for congress, three candidates who have distinashed themselves as opponents of Gon. Taylor, before ad since the Philadelphia nomination. They are Mr. fiddings in the Ashtabula district; Mr. Campbell, in the Caton and Warren district, and Mr. J. M. Root, in the Haron District. Mr. Campbell's nomination over Mr. Faher (who at first bolted the General, but afterwards hipped into his support) has peculiar significance.ren the whig candidate for Governor, Seabury Ford, a not dured to this day to define his position in regard Gen. Loco Foco Forgenies."-This is the cry under igh the Taylor papers undertake to explain away some Gen. Taplor's recent letters. The Baltimore Ameriadenounced as such the letter published in the Charlesa News, in which Gen. Taylor said he would have acacd a nomination from the Baltimore Convention .the Charleston Mercury in reply, says:-"We can asat the American that in this supposition he is mistaken. we have ourselves seen the letter from which the exract was taken, and have not the slightest doubt of its withenticity." We suspect the Taylor whigs will have as wallow this as they have been obliged to swallow a reat many other things from the General, without malug as Mr. Collier has it, "many wry faces."

Sensible Abvice to Democrats .- The Chicago Demerrat, which has been known as an unwavering Free Soil paper, makes the following suggestions to those lemocrats who think of abandoning their party on the irst blast of a feverish excitement. Such violent impulses subside under the influence of reflection, and a recarrence to the history of the past:

"It is no credit to a man to be a Democrat when every thing goes smoothly, and the party is universally triumthen there are those that are faltering, that man's true character—their real stamina—is known. In the apreaching canvass, men's characters will be put to the e, and it will be for men to pause before they alienate emselves from the old Democratic party.

"Long and bitter have been the regrets of those men the left the Democratic party in Jackson's time, and of the who went for 'Tip and Ty,' in 1840. One act of oliucal instability often curses a man forever-making a brupon his political reputation that is ineffaceable. It things, for it is no small gratifiapen to a man to feel that he has always been true to asparty. Many whigs rejoice that they have never vosyshould it be to a democrat, to feel that he never bolt-this party, never proved faithless to its high and holy TAYLOR PLATFORM .- One of our auctioneers was yeserday disposing of the goods and chattles of a Tailor, cluding his impliments of trade. Holding up his hears, he said, "Gentlemen, here is an article that has aced the map of many a fashionable fit, you should give o a liberal bid for it." It was knocked down to a conamptive, bandy-legged little man. The hero of the number then coming to the shop-board of the man of shreds and patches," said, "Now, gentleman, here is an article, the existance of which some locofoco orators ere told, unblushingly told, there was no Taylor platform. But; gentlemen, this has been a Tailor platform for years; what then, do you bid for the Paylor platform, nhogoes in for the Taylor platform. Is there none of my whig friends who will give me an offer for the Taylor platform?" Our fast man did not remain to see who went in for the Taylor platform .- N. O. Delta.

FROM SANTA FE AND THE PLAINS .- The St. Louis Rcreille, of Aug. 24th, publishes the following news from the West:

Letters from Fort Man state, that in the recent fight between Capt. Griffith's command and a party of Camanches, but one Indian was killed and several wounded, instead of twenty-five or thirty, as first reported. A correspondent of the Era consures Capt. LARE ERIE AND CINCINNATI RAIL ROAD .- The Sanduskian of the 29th Aug. says :- "The cars that loft here this afternoon, ran through directly to Cincinnati."

Oxizous.-The whig delegates from Alleghany to the State Convention left Pittsburgh in a stage coach named the "Tariff of '46." Rather ominous, that.

New York .- The Democracy of the Empire State have nominated Hon. R. H. WALWORTH, of Saratoga, for Governor, and Charles O'Conner, Esq., of New York, for Lieut. Governor. This is decidedly the strongcet ticket ever presented for the suffrage of the Democtacy of New York-acknowledged so by both whige and paraphthets.

BEGINNING TO FIND IT OUT .- The dreadful suspicion has seized some of the federalists in this region, that the great available is after all unavailable. The late elections have broke the spell-rubbed out spontaneous combustion ideas, and dimmed the light of the camp fires. The acreand neites, and so many people together before, and do n't tive operations in the Taylor humbug will find themselves the most thoroughly bankrupt politicians that have

> WASHINGTON UNION .- It is stated that Mr B. F. French, of Washington City, is to be the successor of Mr. Heiss, of the Union. Mr. French was originally from New Hampshier, and formerly editor of the N. H. Spectator, Representatives for some three or four years, and was universally esteemed by members of both political parties. He is an able writer.

> FORGERY! FORGERY!-Hereafter when the Taylor men receive a letter from the old General they intend to examine it very critically. If it "suits" they will pronounce it genuine, if it is adverse to their interests, they will bawl out forgery! forgery!

Found our Where to Go .- Daniel Webster has found out where to go-he's gone into the embrace of Taylorism, body and breeches. Poor Taylor-this is the beaviest load he has had to carry.

The Union says that availability on the part of the candidate, and gullibility on the part of the people, are the reliances of the whigs in this contest.

The New York Courier and Enquirer makes it a serious objection to Gen. Cass, that he sympathizes so strongly with the struggling of the down trodden people of Ireland for freedom, that he would be likely to get the country into war with Great Brintain, in giving them aid.

TAlthough out of 28,325 mechanics in Paris. 10,167 are idle, and the number of paupers is rapidly increasing, there are fourteen theatres open every evening, besides dancing gardens and other places of amusement.

A Good ONE .- The St. Louis Union admonishes the whigs that while they were crowing over the votes of certain fashionable gentlemen on steamboats on the river, a fow farmers and laborers were voting on both sides of the river, in the glorious Democratic States of Illinois and Missouri. The producing farmers and workers were too much, however, for the peripatetic dandies.

THANKSUIVING .- The Governor and Council of N. Hampshire have appointed Thursday, the 16th day of November next, as a day of public thanksgiving in that state.

The town has been full of people for the last two days on their way to the New York State Fair at Buffalo. A large number from this county and the adjoining have gone down, and if New York turns out in proportion, Buffalo will be crowded to overflowing with people.

On the receipt of Gen. Taylor's Charleston letter the Albany Journal said: "We clung foundly to the belief that General Taylor regarded himself, though wholly independent and unembarrassed, as the representative of the Whig National Convention. But this cherished belief must be relinquished."

Gen. Taylor has written a letter to a committee of whigs in Detroit, in reply to inquiries in regard to harbor and river improvements. It is said by one who heard it read at one of their meetings, to be just exactly one line shorter than the far-famed letter of Gen. Cass, to the Chicago Convention, and as near as can be recollected is in the following words:

"I have received yours enclosing the proceedings of the Chicago forwards in which I am obliged. In return I by leave to enclose a copy of my Allison letter. Circumstances forbid a more extended uply. Yours respectfully." It may be proper to say that the Detroit Free Press, dures the Zacharites to publish the document.

The New Orleans Bulletin says that General Taylor has at length authorized the publication of his letter to the Maryland Independent Taylor Convention. A Free Soil Convention was held in Baltimore last week. Nine persons, including four spectators, composed the whole assemblage. In the afternoon it had welled to twenty.

Will the people of this Union place its destinies in the hands of a man confessedly, inexperienced in politics and ignorant of the great questions of Government?-Gen. Taylor is brave, and he may be honest, but we want a profound and careful statesman in the Executive chair.

Another Case of Seduction-Most Damning Outrage !

We desire the community, far and near, to become acquainted with the character of a man named DUNLAP. who, until recently, was employed as a clerk in the store | 800 bbls. changed hands at $11 75. About 300 do prime of Dr. Olds, at Circleville. Some months since, this in- at $9. dividual found himself engaged to marry two young ladies of that town, both of whose affections he had won by the strongest professions of love and regard. One of them was an orphan girl who had been brought from Virginia when a child, and raised by an old lady of Circleville. Dunlap finally married the other, telling Miss B.,..., (the orphan,) that he did so against his will—that cortain circumstances forced him into the measure—and that he still loved her as dearly as ever.

unt he sun toyed her as dearly as ever.

After practising various devices to convince her of the truth of all this, he finally succeeded; and about two wishes since obtained a promise from hor to elope with him. It was planned that she should start for Columbus where he would join her at a time agreed upon. Having full confidence that he would prove faithful to all his promises, and marry her when they were once out of the reach of his wife and the laws of Ohio, she made the journey to Columbus, where he joined her the next day. He then proposed to go to St. Louis, where he said he

Upon reaching Cincinnati, the poor deluded creature was prevailed upon to pass for his wife without going through the requisite forms of the law. They started for St. Louis, and the next day after their arrival there, he made some remarks about business being dull, and proposed to go to Pittsburgh. She did not know or did not think, that this would be returning almost to the point from which they started, and so she assented.

On this trip, between here and St. Louis, he by means of fraud, obtained all the letters from her trunk that he had ever written her, and threw them overboard.

for Circleville. According to his request, the stage called for him at the steamboat landing, where he went for his baggage, which he left on the boat in the morning, and an hour before his victim mistrusted anything wrong he was on his way to Circleville, leaving her behind, among strangers, ruined in character, and without a cent among strangers, ruined in character, and without a cent of money. He also neglected to pay his bill at the hotel. She is deeply sympathized with by the Messrs. Tuttle and their families, and in fact by every person about the Hotel, and will be well cared for as long as she desires to remain. But what is sympathy and kindness to a woman of high moral feeling and sense of honor, who thus finds herself ruined by the basest devices ever hatched in hell! She is now almost a maniac, crying and sobbing incessantly and raffusing to eat or sleep.

incessantly, and refusing to eat or sleep.

We trust the press everywhere will aid us in giving publicity to the name and acts of this black-hearted vilain. Let him be held up as an outlaw and a murderer of innocence. Let no place nor community harbor him, but let all drive him forth with the brand of Seducer up-on his forchead, broader and deeper than the mark of the Almighty upon the brow of Cain. We forgot to mention in the proper place, that he used the cloak of Religion to help accomplish his hellish purpose, having been heretofore a member in good standing of the Methodist Episcopal Church. This only makes his offence the more heinous.—Cin. Eye. Dispatch.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGET ABLE PLAS.

CCARCELY have ten short years classed since an humble attempt was made to combine in a suitable me fical preparation, a few of the herbs of the Indian. All was dark at the time as to the result. The most that could be estimated was, that the principles adopted as the basis to build upon were sound. So much resliance was placed upon calonied and the lance, that the fill success of the new experiment would have tended to confirm that reliance, while it shook the purpose of the placetor.

Now, however, all doubt and difficulty, is at an end. Everywhere this medicine has been greeful with welcome; every where has its use been attended with the most gratif, ing success. Erom small beginnings, its sales are now counsed by millions! and it is held in togher estimation at the present time, than when it was originally introduced.

Curo of Fever and Ague.

Rasselt ille, Patoani Co. Ia., July 17, 1817.

Dr. Wright—Some time since, your agent left men supply of your Indian Vegetable Pills. I have found said pills to be in great denand lately for the cure of Fever and Ague. Mr. James Boyd has a son who has been India up with Pever and Ague, and had tried various other remedies, all of which proved of no avail.—He determined to try your Indian Vegetable Pills, and by using one box is now sound and well. Mr. T. Spencer had a daughter, Mr. H. Groves a son; and Mr. C. Nichols and three of his family were all down at the same time with Fever and Ague, and had also gried the various other remedies without effect. Your Indian Vegetable Pills on restored them all to perfect health. I can assure you from what I have seen, your Indian Vegetable Pills may be relied on for a perfect cure of Ever and Ague.
