

But oh? the blooming Prairie, Here are God's floral bowers. Of all that He made on earth The loveliest are the flowers. This is the Almighty's garden, And the mountains, stars and sca Are naught compared in beauty With God's garden Prarie fice.

A DUEL IN GEORGIA.

ming will bring out a large number of his neighbors In the bar-room of a rude tavern and post-house owill voto for Thompson; otherwise they would not table, ornamented with two or three old newspapers, in the western part of Georgia, around a rough deal , as is also Painter; so that taking all things togeth- were seated nine or ten persons-overseers, book-Min may look for 1200, certain, and may be 1400 keepers, and small planters. As the weather was tre don't give C. M. Reed's first majority, (1600) intensely hot, the party had cause to be thirsty; and Surpon will go in with a larger majority than ever thirsty enough they were, if one might judge from mere eiven him in the district. They are calling meettheir incesant potations of mint-julep, sherry cobbler, sanguree, and diverse other species of those senevery nook and corner of the county, while the American heverages the names of which are as smhigs are lying as dormant as reptiles in January. The gular as their flavor is delicions, They had for some chons are cheering. Old Maine leads on as usual, to time been engaged in a loud and botsterous politistory. Walout her we are defeated-with her, never! cal conversation, when they were suddenly inter-W. rupted by---

P. S .- Before mailing this, I say to you that I attend-"What are you making all this jaw about?" nother meeting, and all is right. We met at Strat-On hearing this gentlemanly query, the assemblage turned their eyes upon the speaker of it with a stare 9), and after the meeting, three cheers were given of astonishment and rage, which, however, was mhompson, Ives and the remainder of the ticket. Mr. stantly converted into an expression of undisguised aghell looks sad since he returned. How have you consternation, as soon as they fully recognised the W. new comer.

In the door-way stood a man at least six feet three Perry of REPUBLIC -- We are aware it is utterly to correct any mis-statement this paper may put to correct any mis-statement this paper may put to the booms a subline of routh and han the but has become so reckless of truth and hone-tys is nons, and so wedded to a system of misrep- solutely fiendish. Every thing about him had a fe grey eyes gleamed with an expression that was abatorsa, that it will neither retract a falschood or cor- recivus aspeet, from the dilapidated white an k-rat an er.or. If we are mistaken in these conclusions, hat that was fiercely cocked on one side of his head, staishes to show that we are, it can cavily do so by to the chimsy and muddy shoes that-protected his while gross and unwarrantible misrepresenta-ing out from the butts of two horse-pistol-, peep-isk was guilty of on the 20th ult, in an article relaalt was guilty of on the 29th ult, in an arnelo rela-to Mr. Smith's visit to this city, and the position of the Thompson on the Extension of Slavery. We ev not who was its informant, nor do we care-it may | Gamble, the bully of So lour and Gomoriah. I have had any information on the subject, for aught This interesting personage lived some fifteen miles e know-but be that as it may, we undertake to say, off, close to the Alabama frontier. The real name s statements are unfounded from beginning to end .- of his place of residence (if a ever had been reguthe first place, we in Pennsylvan's do not understand larly corretened by the Government surveyor) had in the first place, we in Pennsylvanea do not understand be "flash" language of New York politicians, hence we do not recognize any such term as "hunker." Judge Wompson is the Democratic candidate, and will be sup-toriginal elected by Democratic without reference to by most d and elected by Democratic without reference to by the term of term of the term of term of term of the term of the term of term of the term of term of term of the term of term of the term of the term of term o on d and elected by Democrats without reference to his himself. Here Gamble lorded it over a plantation spanoas in regard to me means to be used to prevent the observe op of slavery to the new territies. He believes the cishing to prevent it—we, who have labored as hard and fathfully to secure his re-nomination and election as they are means to be used to prevent the a gang of miscreants, whose doings were the terror integration of the country for fity miles round. Every one of them had in his day murdered at least one white them had here had here had here had their chief had been outlawed a dozen times, for as

and unimpassioned tone: "Did you intend to spit on my boot, sir?"

and rage. "I ask, did you intend to spit on my boot, sir? time!'

threat into execution; but if such was his intention, satisfied that New York, even with its countless Schuyler gave him no time to perform it, for on re- | daugers and temptations, was more preferable than ceiving the above response, he instantly planted his | a life in the Georgian forest. fist, with all the emphasis he could command, full in the Georgian's chest. So energetically and skillully was the blow given, that the giant reeled back, the Louisville, (Ky.) Democrat, proposes the use of and, with scarcely an effort to save himself, toppled Bactrian camels for traveling to California, New-the company could not have been more stupilied- they can carry 1,060 lbs, weight 100 miles per day, that the strongest man they had ever, seen' should be for eight or ten days in succession, and subsist on knocked down at one blow by a fellow who seemed a very scanty supply of the coarsest herbage, only hardly a mouthful for him! But they had no long requiring water once in two or three days. space for their wondering cogitations; for Gamble "With the aid of this animal, the United States' space for their wondering cogitations; for Gamble - "With the aid of this animal, the United States' suidenly, sprung from the floor with a tiger-like Mail might be carried from St. Louis, Mo., to Astobound, and, throwing himself headlong on Schuyler, ris, at the mouth of the Columbia River, in twenty bore him down at once. Then followed oaths, and days, or in a shorter time to the harbor of San pantings, and rapidly-interchanged blows, and a Francisco, in California. At a comparatively triprecipitate scatteration of the bystanders right and fling expense, and within two or three years, a left, as the combitants rolled over and over on the monthly, or even a weekly mull might be establish-floor in mortal struggle. There was a pause in the conflict. Both had ri-There was a pause in the conflict. Both had ri-sen to their knees; neither endeavored to regain his feet, or overthrow the other; but Schuyler was evi-A sufficient number would, no doubt, be brought by dently trying to draw his dirk, and Gamble as clear- the Government to insure a permanent stock of ly endeavoring to draw his Bowie-knife. these valuable animals for our great western re-At length the Georgian having freed his right gions. In addition, it may be said, that the Bactriarm, raised it over his head, as it to chop down his an or Asiatic camel would be useful in war in the ntagonist with his clenched fist. Such, however, vast plains of the west. From their great power, was not his intention. In a moment the bright blade quickness of motion, docility and the shape of their of his weapon gleamed in the air, and muttering a backs, they might be useful in carrying light pieces fearful oath, he made a deadly stab at the other. — of artifiers, and be reained to the use of them for Schuyler caught his opponent's wrist, and turned their various purposes. This would be a very ef-the knife aside: its point entered the floor, and it fective arm against the Indians. snupped in two.

Forious at the loss of his weagon, Gamble sud- KEEP IT BEFORE EVERY HONEST WHIG! denly caught his antagonist by the litroat with both hands, and casting his hage weight upon him, hul-ed him back helplessly to the floor. It was a peril-ous time for Schuyler. With one hand on his following one propared by the Ohio Delegation and breast, the savage held him down the other was | offered by Mr. TILDEN, was rejected. " Resolved, That while power is denied to Congress twisted in his flowing black curls, and the long thumbhail was under his eye. "He's gouged!" ex-plaimed the host, when suddrug one when man onder the Constitution to control or in any manner cipilined the nost, when shading the original that the institution of slavery within the price of this Union, it never incluses has the over his head in a complete somerset. A shout of power, and it is the duty of Congress to prohibit the over his nead in a complete somerset. A shoul of power, and it is the duty of Congress to prohibit the approbation broke from all present. The major now inflood oction or oxistance of elavory in any territory thought preper to interfere. "Boys!" he exclaimed now possessed, or which may hereafter be acquired as the combatiants regained their feet and gave signs of renewing the battle. "Part 'cm! part 'cm! and 'Mr. Tilden said he did not desire to make a for Gamble, dead or alive. So Schuyler took leave of the hospitable Major, and proceeded to Milledge-Ga.nble appeared speechless with astonishment | ville-the capital of the State-to claim the reward and rage. "I ask, did you intend to spit on my boot, sir? "Spit on your boot! I'll spit in your face next he invited him to dinner, expressed his admiration me!" Very possible he might have proceeded to put his Guards. But Schuyler declined the honor, fully

" Then you are from the country, young ladies," - NEW MAIL CONVEYANCE .- A correspondent of over on the floor. Had this result been brought about by a miracle, in carrying the mail. Good authorities state that cheating a country greenhorn." "I um not from the Jerseys," the young man reed between these points. They could be got in their going to the Battery to see the sogers." Jane said she was not the girl to break up pleas-and now for some fun, Jenny dear." Very pleasantly, and in arm, the party worked its [cheering.] Our troops were actually compelled, in way through the crowd, and had got as far down as some instance, to deny their own government, and Way inrongh the trivid, and had got as far down as some instance, to deny their own government, and Trinity Church, when, with a sudden start, and put themselves under the protection of the British loud exclamation, Susan declared she had lost her glag-so great was the hue and cry in the country purse, containing the money of both herself and against the war, that the Mexicans ceased to res-Jane. Jane looked sorrowfol, while the young pect our flag. This exasperated us the more, and man appeared to be not a little embarras el. (we left if ever a nation deserved a ghod flogging. nan appeared to be not a little embarras-el. we left if ever a nation deserved a good flogging, "I don't care," said Susan after regaining her that nation was Mexico-and if ever a nation got a composure, "it was not much a few cents over good flogging, it was here. (Great applause.) five dollars, and I have a fifty dillar bill pioned in my sheeve, which I was to pay away for father. Our caudidates are Generals Cass and Batle But I'll get that changed, and let father pay it the know them both personally. I regret that some of next time he comes up?

changed. "All the brokers are closed to-day," he said, "and I have not more than fifteen dollars in oity, money by me, Would the balarice in Southern money an-swer. "Is it good ?" asked Susan.

"Gh, perfectly good, was the reply, "although pour must get it exchanged at the brokers. that's more than I want to day—and the rest in bled her unbitious pride. I quote the language of Southern, as you call it."

The exchange was made, the Jersey pocketing ad got their money's worth, they went out, intend-and I un only sorry that the land which gave me had got their money's worth, they went out, interna-ing to make their way to the Battery to see the mil-itary pageant. But they had hardly left tho Muse-um steps, before a good-looking, well-dressed young man quite accidentally stumbled against them, and here to gratify curiosity to see a man who was mor-here to gratify curiosity to see a man who was mor-here to gratify curiosity to see a man who was morman quite accidentally summon against them, and quite as naturally apologized for the unpremediated offence. "There's no harm done," said Susan, "is there, Jane. We are country girls, and don't mind triffes. There's no harm done, and don't mind triffes. There's no harm done, and don't mind triffes. There's no harm done, and don't mind triffes. Besides, you city people always walk with your rectionist; and returning to my country, I find auo-eyes at the tops of the houses. For my part, I ther, and different campaign than the one I have re-don't see how you get along so well." cently been engaged. I ain glad to say, that in our campaign in Mexico, all stood together-Whigs said the strange young gentleman, with a bow and Democrats, and Free Soil men, all fought shoulder mile. "Yes we are," answered Susan, "ain't we Jane. But one opinion pervaded the, whole rights of the We are from the Jerseys, just back of Shrewsbury. American army, as to the merits, justness and neces-Were you ever at Sorewsbury, sir-down at the Beach, I mean? It's a famous place along that different. I find some who say the war was unshore, and people who are born there, have their eye called for; that it was an invasion of a weak and teeth ready cut, and their eyebrows buttoned back inoffensive Republic-I have listened to these arguwhen they're away from home. Catch them nap- ments in Washington; have heard grave Senators ping ! Why, they were all what you call land pi-rates once, and didn't think any more of tolling a Grande, the Nucces, &c. Let me tell you, gentleship ashore, than a city sharper would think of men, that the Mexicons laughed, yea laughed hearti-

I y at such idle stuff; they did not disguise the fact, that they claimed the whole of Pexas as a revolted plied, "but a stranger in town, like yourself and if Province, and that the army which Gen. Taylor you have no objection, I should be pleased to accomment and defeated at Resaca, was an army of inva-pany you round for a few heurs." sion, instructed by the Mexican government to push "I'm agreed," said Susan, "if Jane is. We are their conquests, not only to the Nueces, but to the sing to the Battery to see the sogers." resist Mexican encroachments this side of the Rio ant company, and so the trio started-the girls qui- Grande, did his duty, and Gen. Taylor, in obeying etly exchanging glances, as Susan whispered to his order, did his duty too. (Here the speaker's Janc-"He's one of 'em we've read of in the papers, Fellow citizens-1 regret I have not a voice like your Senator. who talked down a steamboat (Great some instance, to deny their own government, and

Our candidates are Generals Cass and Butler-I Saying which, she presented a fifty dollar note, and perconal abuse as they have of these distinguis-and asked the young gentleman where to get it ed men. I hope no Democrat will do this of Gen; Taylor. We can beat whiggery and him too, without slandering either. Gen. Cass liss been a soldier and a bold one.-He has been a diplometist, and a truer American America never had. This unperconduct sin in the eyes of the whigs is, that he dared while minister to France oppose Great Britain and Her Kingly 8]lies in defeating the Quintuple Treaty-that in many me question sider in the hands of Gen. Cass than in those at Gee. Taylor, an extensive slave-holder. As to the election of Martin Van Buren, that is out of the guestion, and if it was not the Democracy of Pennsylva-Frederick Stuyvesant/Schuyler belonged to one of ier hands will not be led by them, and their "angry sions" only serve to build up the operators from the po-banks and colings more strongly in the faith. As Congress, Judge Thompson never was so popular as . His speeches on court week, did wonders for him stoppage of the federal press, and the avowed hosy of the editor to Mr. Campbell, works well for the

get. The press stands a described monument of Ading whigery-a dark, untenanted room-subjected

(al. David B. Long is a volunteer candidate for Sen-

He will be defeated by a large vote, but still his

he file depredations of uncaught rats and moles.

daa ratarre.

taxracy of his district. Pastrace Mr. Smith was invited to address the De-the racy of Eric, and did address them, and no one list-the racy of Eric, and did address them, and no one listing ded not "become very much excited" except in ap- for ever.

Muding the speaker; neither did a "large number," extained by hun" Judge Thompson did not "become ulaubed," and take "the stump contradicting the posiuons taken by Mr. Smith." He did not "subsequently write a letter for publication, avowing himself a free soil than this.

House GREELY .- This gentleman has defined his "suon at last; and avowed his determination to support Gen. Taylor. In a speech at Vauxhill Garden, New lork, he is reported to have said:

"I trast, fellow-citizens, I shall never be afraid nor other preparations as a man usually does who is ashruned to meet a whig assemblage and express my sen-function the political questions of the day. And altho? I have had no mitimation till now that my presence here expected or desired, I am the more ready to answer your call since 4 have heard milinations, even from this stand, "bat there was some mystery in my course to be cleared the some astounding revelation with regard to it to be state of the roads and other contingencies might spected. And our cloquent friend from Kentucky even determine. As we have found him in rather danvolunteered, in his remarks, to see me personally and get gerous company, it may not be amiss to add a word neerght. If there be indeed any mistery in the premis- respecting his qualifications, in case of a row. His all do my heat to dispell it. "But have in with, nothing to reveal. I stated in as when the function of the support it if I saw no other way to built, possessed great strength and greater agility; to de te a the election of Lewis Cass. That pledge I have "herr. garded. I shall faithfully redeem it. And, since

 ¹⁰ Taylot or Gen. Cass can be left ted. I shan nence- Jords support the ticket noninated at Philadelphia, and to what I can for its election, "But I have not changed my opinion of the nomination of General Taylor. I believe it was unwise and unjust. For Gen. Taylor personally, I have ever speken with re- yet that I believe a candidate could and should have ben the believe a candidate could and should have ben the believe a decomposer more candide. more ponuhe a the en more deserving, more capable, more popu-17. I cannot pietend to support him with enthusiasm, on things in general: "or I do not feel any."

amonal ground, that without legislation on the subject, many atrocious crimes. At that very moment there dwery cannot exist. In this we coincide with such a was a price of 500 dollars on his head. Several at-"hamburner" as Judge McLane. There are thousands, tempts had been made, both by the legal authorities to, in the district who occupy, this position. But while and by private individuals, to take him dead or alive, to, in the district who occupy, this position. But while its interfunding Thompson avows himself in favor of by they had always failed most signally. On one by these occasions he was said to have killed, or instally wounded, five men, single-handed. Such being his character, it was no wonder that his ap-perance in Major Lawson's bar-room struck terror the dues contend, however, that Gen. Cass will veto en bill establishing slavery in those territorics, and all; for as he looked triumphantly upon the coverheely admiss that without such a bill, slavery cannot ex- | ing assemblage, there was one man who cast back ist. More, by and the democracy of his district, believe on him a gaze as haughty as his own. As this perthe question sider in the hands of Gen. Cass than in son wes, moreover, distinguished by being the only e would not be disposed to trust that, or any other ques- the oldest Dutch families in New York. His father m, with the associate of Adams, Giddings & Co. So was a wealthy merchant, who kept a stylish house richtor the position of Judge Thompson and the Do- in Brondway, an elegant country-seat on the banks of the Hudson. At the age of fifteen he entered the racy of Eric, and did address them, and no one hst-card talum with more pleasure than Judge Thompson vate his classical and his billiards, that, on taking hmelt. It is not true that Mr. Smith "declared the his degree at nineteen, he could almost play the Wilmet proviso a humbug, and denounced the free soil pony even, and was consided one of the first scholactition in unmeasured terms." He donounced Mar- ars in New York. The two years clasped between as Van Buren's agitation for recenge-his ingratitude to Schuyler's graduating and attaining his majority, to democracy-his coalition with such federalists as Ad- were passed without much profit to himself or any one else. He was nominally studying for the law; Mas and Giddings, in "unmeasured terms." Mr. Smith but, like many young men of fortune, only did so di not declaro the Missouri compromise "to be the fa- that he might have the credit of belonging to some some measure of the Baltimore nominee." The meet- profession. This sort of life, however, did not last

At the period of which we are speaking, the copping whigs, "declare their intention of opposing Cass American commercial world was beginning to reif the views imputed to him by Mr. Smith, were entor- cover from the great explosion of 1837; or, indeed, we may say that it had nearly recovered. But during the continuance of the great panic, Mr. Schuvler, had in common with hundreds of his brother merchants, became a bankrupt. He had but one cause of satisfaction-no small men, unalterably opposed to the surrender of a single one, it must be confessed, to an honest man!-not tuble of terntory to the slave power." The only letter one creditor lost a cent by him. Having at length he has written on the subject since his nomination, was wound up his affairs, he found himself, as he would one manswer to inquiries of some friends in Warren have expressed it, with a cupital of half-nothing to "mult, and that was a week or ten day's previous to begin life again. He became a clerk in a house far interior to that of which he had been the head; his M. Sinth's speech. So much for the truth of the R_{e-1} interior to that of which as the son deter-daughters took in needle-work; and his son deterand a special new, one word of advice; when mined to get his living as a teacher. Unwilling to 14 a seeks an occasion to year its spleen upon Mr. remain in his native city, amid scenes of luxury in Suith, it had better hunt for its facts in some other region which he could no longer participate, Schuyler endeavored to obtain a tutorship in the south. Having heard of an excellent in one Alabama, he made instant application for it, and secured it over several compettors, by dint of Professor Anthon's Testimontals. He then made his will, took leave friends, bought a pair of pistols and a dirk, and made such about to leave a civilized for a barbarous country. Thus far, however, he had penetrated in safety to within sixty miles of his destination; and was now waiting at Major Lawson's hotel for the mail-stage, which was expected in a few hours, or days. as the height did not exceed five feet ten, and none of his proportions were large; but he was symmetrically and was moreover, a colerably scientific puglist .-On the whole, notwithstanding their great disparity there is not no chance remaining that any other than in size a worse priogonist might have been found ficulty to a sitting posture, he drew his knife, pre-fen. Taylet or fien. Case can be elected. I shull hence for the redoubted Meriwether Gamble. We left that gentleman standing in the doorway of the bar-room, and looking most rantancorously, as a Kentuckian would say, upon the terified company, Having waited shout two minutes, possibly ing to give him the coup de grace. In another mo-ment a heavy foot came in contact with his wound-ed side, and he once more recognised those fiery HEEDLESS ENTHUSIASM FOR MERE MILI-ed him through life, and was now mocking his heartin the hope of receiving an answer to his first interrogation, he thus delivered himself of his opinions n things in general: "So you're all quict now. You were making grey eyes, as the Georgian stooped over him. Now TARY RENOWN!"

a show of resistance, and swore ferribly a those been set forth in their State Convention; and the delation in the interest of the state of the stat his own premises felt authorized in assuming a lit- this resolutom and to ask for its adoption by this subject, and ended a short but characteristic speech: darkness by closing the door. To this the combat- were assembled there to carry out the glorious whig with weapons, Gamble kicked off his shies, and the table." Schuyler pulled off his boots, rolled up his trowsers a little way, and cut off his straps, for fear the buttons should make a noise. The Major suggested that they had better take off their coats also, which and keep the balance for your trouble."

"I say Major," growled Gamble, "just fix me a good stiff mint julep, and have it ready in fifteen minutes. Don't forget now." These were the last words that the combatants spoke. Almost every one had left the room except Lawson, who now stationed the parties in opposite corners, asked if they were quite ready, and on receiving an affirmative response, wished them good bye, and locked the door upon them, leaving them together, "to fight it out like gentlemen." The first thing which each did was to change his place five or six feet; after which they remained inactive. The difficulties of their position will be readily appreciated. If one of the duelists advanced upon the other, with the intention of coming to close quarters, he might by some slight hoise expose himself to his antagonist's fire, or might run unaware, upon the point of a knife, or the muzzle of a pistol. If he fired without being sure of his man, the flash of his pistol would guide the enemy in returning the shot. The most natural course was for them to wait, each in the hope of exhausting his opponent's patience, and tempting him to commit some imprudence. In this way they watched each other, or rather, watched for each other, for about ten minutes, when the room. As it struck harmlessly on the rough logs which formed the side walls, he heard a low taunting chuckle. Human nature could not bear it-he fired again, almost at random. Again the fire was returned-the ball piercing his side-and overcome by pain and loss of blood, he fell heavily to the floor, while another fiendish laugh sounded in his ears. But though sorely wounded, Schuvler was not vet hors decombat. Ruising himself with some dif-pared to sell his life as dearly as possible; only ho-ping that his enemy would assail him before he was completely prostrated by loss of blood. Scarce a sary to chastise this people with a rod of vengeance, I go where dat dam flag never come-1 come to minute had elaped when he heard a faint creak of i would humbly prostrate myself before Him, and Tampico, but here is dat dam flag again. I believe the boards pear him-Gamble was evidently approach- implore him in his mercy to visit our favored land if I go to h-1, dat dame flag will follow ne derb."

tle authority, proceeded to explain his views on the Convention, for at was a part of their political faith. "Mr. Brown, of Pennsylvania, was surprised to "Let 'em have a pair of pistols and a Bowie see such a resolution offered to this Convention, and auts were conducted, and immediately commenced principles; and were they to be diverted from their A whig delegate from Georgia gives the follow-ins account of the reception and contemptuous rejection of the resolution: "A resolution was offered by a delegate from they accordingly did; and Schuyler, while giving Ohio, affirming the principle of the Wilmot Proviso. his to the Landlord, made this brief testamentary Mr. Brown, of Pennsylvania, denounced it as FAN-ATICAR and INDIGNANTLY moved to lay it on the disposition: "Major," said be, "i'ts highly probable that one table. The cry was raised to make this a rest vore; of us two will never go dut of this rough till he's agreed was should on all sides, and it was laid of FANATICS and FACTIONISTS."

and abolition papers are filled with reported votes lievel she would go house, and the two girls stepped were contending at home. taken on Steambonts and Railroad cars and the on to the boat, just as they were pulling aboard the What did the National Democracy do? They like. We have heard of a few instances of votes plank. which must have escaped their observation. The steamer Wisconsin, (a new boat out west,) recently voted, Dem. majority, The Indiana, (an older boat) The Illinois, a Western boat; The little lowa of the West, The Missouri, Capt. Benton, The little Arkansas, On the Maine train of cars, just in,

The old line of Battle Ship Pennsylvania is soon to take her vote, and it will not be less than 20,0006 Other crafts will soon be following in the same

13,000

18.000

10,000

5,000

wake, and we shall give the vote as taken. The officers on these boats stand, Governors all Democrats; Congress, 13 democrats to 3 whige; Of the Crews or Legislatures, all have Democratic majorities.

Th's suits, us/quite as well as other kinds of voting .- Maysville Sentinel.

CAUSES OF CONSUMPTION .- Milliners and dressat length Schuyler thought he detected the cat- makers generally die of the consumption-partly like glance of his antagonist's grey eyes at the from indulging in certain little fashionable vanities opposite side of the garret. Turning his left side of dress, and partly from the contraction of the in that direction, and bringing his right arm across chest by bending over their work, which they are his breast, he peered more eargerly than before in- not careful to remedy by deep inhulations and propto the darkness. His suspicion was increased to er exercise. It is certain that nine-tenths of the cerainty-he fired. Instantly the fire was return- cases of consumption might be prevented, if people ed, and his left arm, which he had involuntarily were only intelligent. As long as doctors take fees

.

Opp FELLOWS .- The Grand Lodge of the United States, in session at Baltimore, decided on Saturday evening the question in reference to the new and co, where it occured: old Constitution of this State. The decision was 47 to 24, in favor, of the old Constitution. The from both parties oppeared, but like a previous po-lish he exclaimed. I was de Spanish consul in de than all the LETTERS long and short, that was piled litical precedent, the influence of both was excluded.-N. Y. Sun.

felt misery."

de, the Jersey pocketing man could have defeated the allied powers to that in-money and thirty-five in famous treaty but Gen. Cass.—As a diplomatist, fifteen dollars in g worthless bills, and the three resumed their walk to every American ought to feel a just pride in him, to battery. The sharper was very polite and attentive, and cabinet adviser in the councils of that great man, the battery.

Susan and Jane as cordial as if they had known him Gen. Jackson, who never made a mistake in his ne-from childhood. But we have not time to follow lections and none stood higher in his estimation than this interesting party in their sight-seeing on the 4th. Gen. Cass. As a senator, in that learned and most They went down to one of the eating houses in dignified body-a body which has not its equals for Fulton Market, to dine, about two o'clock; and then talent on the face of the carth-I quote you the lanthe girls began to talk of moving for the boat which | guage of Daniel Webster in saying that Gen. Cass having no window, was reduced to a state of total that patrice inght ceake to be a virtue. They the goal to an inclusion insisted that they grade of Daniel weeker in saying that dent case to de a virtue. They the goal darkness by closing the door. To this the combat-were assembled there to carry out the glorious whigh the dark of a comparison insisted that they for sound and varied learning had not his equal should stay and see the fireworks in the evening, there. They the glorious will be door. To this the combat-were assembled there to carry out the glorious whigh the dark of a comparison insisted that they for sound and varied learning had not his equal should stay and see the fireworks in the evening, there. They the glorious will be door. To this the combat-were assisted by all present. After being provided hisses.] He moved that the resolution be laid on with weapons, Gamble kicked off his shoes, and the table." they must go back that inght, but, Susan, with a takes sides with its country. (Loud cheers.) Geo, sly wink, said they might as well lie over, but they must go down to the boat, and send word by the He stood by us while in Mexico, when it seemed. Captain to her father, who would be waiting for them at the landing. Jane, with much seeming reluctance consented, and away the three started for the boat. They were obliged to wait, because Susan could for our country. That is the secret, We never not find the Captain, and it would not do to send the secret way or principles and cater to factors.

me a silver watch, a silver pencil-case, and thirty ern whigs are ALL we could ask of them-shoulder =then half-past three-then a quarter to four-still Americans. The empire State, or a faction of the dollars in York bills. See that I'm deceptly buried, to shoulder, sustaining us in opposing the schemes Susan could not see the Captain. They were stand- Democracy there, came into our national Convenof FANATICS and FACTIONISTS." STEAMBOAT AND RAILBOAD VOTING.—The whig with a wink at Jane, said that on the whole, she be told them, "No, gentlemen: we choose to stand by "Much obliged for your politeness," said Susan, our ancient and well-tried principles are principles with a merry laugh, speaking to the sharper-gallant; of Jeffierson, Madison and Jackson we, as a great who stool on the pict-" remember me to your national party, are not to beleft ' y the doctrine 5.000 gunt ?" 8,000 "And me too," said Jane, laughing also, "and if 13,000 ever you come down on way, tell us how you en-whole of the Democratic creed." I never felt so whole of the Democratic creed." I never felt so be ever you come down on will never for-be ever you come down on which he down on the d had made in this matter, (Thundering applause.) get us"

When the boat was under way the girls broke A party that eschews all such factions and plants

When the boat was made way the give toole (A party that contains a real Jersey laugh. (You didn't lose your purse?" asked Jane. (Here it is," said Susan, "to speak for itself, and A word of Martin Van Baren: Who is this man? A word of Martin Van Baren: Who is this man? ome of the rogue's money in it, too. Only think, where has he been, and where is he now? Who.elthat fifty dollar counterfeit, marked counterfeit in evated him to the chief magistracy of this nation? hig letters on the back bi it, that father got when Was it the barnburners? Is he their property exhe was a grand-juryman, and "indicted the counter- | clusively? And what is the object now? Certainfeiters-to pass that off for fifteen dollars good mon- by not to make these territories free! That is the ey, (I know it's good.) and have a handsome brau greatest humong in the world. Those Territories in the bargain." "But suppose," said Jane, carnestly, "that we it is sought to introduce slavery there, I would vote in the bargain. should be mistaken, and he not be the sharper we against it myself. We want nothing to do with suspect?" "Nota sharper? Why, didu't he want us to go to his aunt's?" "Bot the chop u ade a mistake-the's same terms the Whigs have had him; that is, by not had much acquaintance with Jersey girls, but whistling all our principles down the wind. But he'll know'em again, when he sees them." And no-we have done better. We have pominated Gen. Susan put up her money in a way which expressed Cass, our favorite-a northern man; yes, a north-the satisfaction she felt at the result of her Fourth western man. He is of us, has grown up with us, of July adventure in New York .- N. Y. Dis. and will be for us. The most about thing I have OUR FLAG IS STILL THERE.- A writer in the noticed in this campaign is the attempt of the Whigs ments.)

ed, and his left arm, which he had involuntarily were only intengent. As long a construction of the bas given a series of interest. In the agony of and live by sickness, they will take no pain to teach Nashville Union, who has given a series of interest. Harbor Improvements. They publish a little letter the moment he harled the discharged pistol across people the laws of life. the Tenness control in the passed, relates the of his to the Chicago Convention, declining an in-the following anecdote. The beauty of it is, that it is to these measures. The only objection to his tollowing anecdote. The beauty of it is, that it is a positive fact, and frequently spoken of in Tampi-letter is that it is too short. Well, I have seen "When our flag was first unfurled from its staff, more Generals ruined by writing LONG letters than aged Spaniard was heard inveighing, with hum. short ones. General Case, in the Cabinet and in the an aged Spaniard was heard inveighing, with lugu- | Senate, has always sustained Harbor Improvements, Lodges in this city, with one or two exceptions, an aged Spaniard was heard inveighing, with lugu-have supported the old Constitution. Delegations that flar had nursued his fortunes. In broken Eng. and I had rather have one of his voras (of which he that flag had pursued his fortunes. In broken Eag-bad given many) in favor of these improvements, Louiseane when dat dam flag was raised dere. I go up before the Chicago Convention. (Shouts of ap-Louiseane when dat dam mag was raised ucte. to de Pensacola, but soon dat dam fing wave over plause.) Gentlemen, I have detained you too long. (Go Gentlemen, I have detained you too long. (Go HENRY CLAY'S PRAYER.-"If, indeed, we have me dere. I live den in Texas and quick dat dam Gentlemen, I have detained you too long. (Go incurred the divino displeasure, and if it be neces- flag still follow me dere; says I, by de Holy Virgin, on, go on!) longer than it is pleasant for you, or prudent for me. Please accept my thanks, for your cordial and kind reception of me to-day. (Cheers, loud and long ran through the Hall for some mo-

> A cargo of live hogs is on its way from New-York to Liverpool, A wag calls them emi-grunts.