SUFFERINGS, AND TRIUMPH OF GENIUS.

There is at present in England an American tho went to that country to endeavor to interest the capitalists in a new bridge which he has constructed. His name is Remington, and he is a native of Virginia. An account of his progress is given by himsell, in a letter to Dixon II. Lewis, and is published in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine. When he arrived in England, in January, 1847, he was without money, and spent the first five months in veinly looking r somebody with enterprise enough to encourage his plun, living all the time on less than three pence per day. He slept upon straw, for which he paid a ha'f penny per night. His limbs became distorted with rheumatism, and he was literally covered with rags and vermin', consorting, as he had to do, with J the lowest beggars in London. Still he did not despair. The incidents of the succeeded three months he oes not relate. His sufferings were so great that his head turned gray .-... He had to pay to usurinto the wot ground, it hung trembling over the fearful ers £10 to obtain a shilling for admittance to the precipice for nearly a minute. It at last settled on the Royal Zoological Gardens, where he succeeded, after much mortification, in getting the ghost of a model mode of the bridge. The model, although a bad one, astonished every body. Every engineer of celebrity in London was called in to decide whether it was practicable to throw it across the lake .--Four or five of them, at the final decision, declared that the model before them was passing strange, but that it could not be carried to a much greater length than the length of the model. This was the point of life or death with the inventor. He says: "I was standing amidst men of the supposed greatest talent as civil enginee a that the world could produce, and the point decided against me. This one time alone were my whole energies ever aroused. I never talked before-I was haggard and faint for want of food-my spirits sunk in sorrow in view of standing over this model, did I battle with those men. Every word I uttered came from my inmost soul, and was big with trath-every argument car-ried conviction. The effect on these men was like magic-inleed, they must have been devils not to have believed under the circumstances. I succeeded. wibroak in Alleghany city a few months since. What My agreemen' with the proprietor was, that I shou'd superinted the construction of the bridge without. only for a presidential candidate who on public matters any pay whatever, but during the time of the building I might sleep in the Gardens, and if the bridge should succeed, it should be called "Remington's Dr'A rich voin of rod oxide, or pipe iron ore, has Bridge." I ludged in an old lion's cage, not strong for a lion, but by putting some straw on the enough floor, held me very well, and indeed was a greater luxury than I had for many months. The curpenters that worked on the bridge sometimes grve me the New Book Store. part of their dinner. On this I lived and was com paratively happy. It was a little novel, however, paratively happy. It was a fittle novel, however, to see a man in rags directing gentlemanly looking head carpenters. The bridge triumphed, and the Cost was L8, and was the greatest hit ever made in cost was £8, and was the greatest hit ever made in London. The money made by it was astonishingly great, thousands and tens of thousands crossing it, paying toll, besides being the great attraction to the Garden's. Not a publication in London but what has written largely opon it, although I have never received a penny, nor ever will for building the bridge.' Mr Remington, after this, succeeded in obtaining credit from a tailor, got a suit of clothes, and ob-tained enough of the needful to obtain a shirt. He then drifted with that tide which taken at the flood leads to fortune, and he is now in the enjoyment of a comfortable living, courted and petted by lords and ladies, and he says he has now more orders for bridges from the aristocracy of Great Britain than SNORING. - A western statesman, in one of his It red.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS. SCARCELY have ten short years elapsed since an humble at Stempt was made to combine, in a suitable medic if prejaration a few of the herbs of the Indjan. All was dark at the time as to the result. The most that could be estimated was, that the principles adopted as the basis to build upon were sound. So much reinnce was placed upon calomel and the lancet, that the ill success of the new experiment would have tended to confirm that relimee, while it shook the purpose of the projector.

Now, however, all doubt and difficulty is at an end. Everywhere this medicine has been greeted with welcome; everywhere has its use been attended with the most gratifying success. Erom small be gunnings, its sales are now counted by millions ! and it is held in igher estimation at the present time than when it was origin ly introduced,

Mr. James Boyd ias a son who has been laid up with Feyer and Ague, and had tried various other remedice, all of which proved of no avail.---He determined to try your Indian Vegetable Pills, and by using one box is now sound and well. Mr. T. Spencer had a daughter. Mr. H. Groves a son, and Mr. C. Nichols and three of his family were all down at the same time, with Faver and Ague, and had also tried the varjous giver reme lies without effect. Your Indian Vegetable Pills soon restored them all to perfect health. I can assure you from what I have seen, your Indian Vegetable Pille may be relied on for a perfect cure of Fever and Ague.

Yours, respectfully, JACOB DURHAM, P- M. Certificate from Col. Tate, editor of the Columbia Democrat, Pa.

Office of the Columbia Democrat, } Bloomsburg, Columbia Co. Pa., March 4, 183%. / Dr. William Wright-Dear Sir: I nm one of the many whose aversion to quack nostrums has deprived them of the 'benefits resulting from the use of good medicines. Acting under this influence, 1 have seldom re-orted to the Pill box. Last March, when you com-menced a lvertising is my paper, I was laduced to give your indian Vegetable Pills a trial, and after having fairly tested their merits for myself and family, gave them a decided preference over every other preparation.

In every manance when afflicted with sick headache, or when the stream of life was encumbered with morbid humors; I found speedy relief from the use of your Pills. By taking from four to six on going to bed, when indusposed, I have always been restored to health, without loss of time, and without the expense of a physician. Wright's Indian Vegetable File possess the distinguished merit of operating effectually without diffurbing the rest of the patient, and in my case without over producing sickness to the tomach. Respectfully your friend, &c.; EEVIL. TATE.

stomach: Respectfully your friend, &c., EUVIL TATE. (From the Delawgre Express, Delhi, N. Y.) WHART'S ISMAN VENTRALE PLASS. Athong in our particular-iyffriendly to patent medicince, we must confess that we have be-come a convert to these pills, having an opportunity on two or intrev occasions to treat their efficiency. For a genile medicine, one or two will be found mild thong effective. Where bile or other imparities have necembated, and more thorough medicine is re-quired, a doseof three or four of these pills taken on going to bel, will be found effection in cleaning the stomach, and restoring the bodyels to a neathy state. We speak from experience; and take pleasure in commending the pills to the public. AGENTS.--(1, D, Spatlord, Eric; W. & P. Judson & Co., War-terford, John Met'lure, Sen.
