"The Voices of the Night,"-A Pos-um BY PROFESSOR SHORTFELLOW.

Tired of reading, tired of writing, tired of copying and inditing, And the bed looked to inviting, as if courting me to sleep, That I folded up my paper, and extinguishing my taper, Without cutting even a caper, softly to my rest did creep.

Soon I fell into a slumber, and had dreamings without number, With no nightmares to encumber the the blessings of my rest, When a sound beneath my 'winders,' burnt my vision into cinders, Knecked my sleep into flinders, so that I got up and dressed. Buch another horrid squalling, and infernal caterwauling.

The Thomes call of a phaling, as to me it seemed that night. And were 'scratching like the nation,' in an everiasting right. Hastily throwing up the sa-hes, I made divers frantic dashes Of shovelsfull of fire and ashes, on the maddened brutes below Quick the fiends began to scatter, and to cease their tarnal clatter Having settled thus the matter, Lagain to bed did go.)

But if I should live forever, it were all a vain endeavor, And I'm certain I could never more forget the horrid fright fashes, Which came o'er me thro' the sashes, when I throw the fire and In some half a dozen dashes, on 'THE VOICES OF THE NIGHT!'

THRILLING ORATORY.

On the 4th of July last, as per the Yaukee Blade, a thrilling speech was made at Lancaster, Wisconsin. The speaker, after stating that Europe was no whar; that she was a more obsolete idea in comparison to us, proceeded in this fashion:

If young America, then in the cradle, strangled the British lion, and afterwards bucked John Bull into the briney Gulf of Mexico, with what case can our country, new in the giant strength of manhood plant its flag on the shore of the Pacific, seize Quebec and Giberalter, blockade the English channel, and plant the stars and stripes upon the Tower of London. [Loud cheering.] Americans! Re-member that your country was born in blood, baptised in gore; cradled in the war hoope, and bred to the rifle and bowe knife. We have fowt our way up. The colonies cut their way out of it, through blood and carnage land thunder. They tore their blanket wide open. Onst or twist it looked like a mighty slim chance; but they cut and seared and tore and slaughtered away like blazes. [Cheering.] They grappled John Bull like a pack of bull tarriers. They took him by the haunches; they grappled his wine pipe, and at least they made him bellow like bloody thunder. Washington sheathed the sword. Gentle olive branch of peace waved her green and luxuriant foliage in majesty over the shores columbia; and foreigners flocked in and built their nests with us among its sheltered boughs .-But a few more years has rolled away down the railroad track of time, when John Bull again came bellowing up the Missippi, pawing up onto his back the rich and luxuriant sile of Louisana; and horning the bank of sayed river and lashing his tail like fury. But just below Orleans he found the great Jackson and he couldn't shake him more than an oxen, he couldnt! [Great applause.] Juckson stood there like a tanietor and met John Bull as he advanced every time. At last he hit him a lick, right back under between the horns that knocked breath out of him, and sent him off realing and blatting and bellowing like he felt dissagreable to the stomache! Soldiers of Winnebago war, and invincible of Saux furse! [Here thirteen men arose.] 'Herous of bad axe! Vetrans of stillman's fight Very nimble men! You have come down to us from a reform of generation. Heaven has bountifully prolongated your lives, that you might see the fruit of your valor. You behold around no longer the torch of the say. age, and the gleaming of the tomahawk and the scalping knife. You no longer watch the Indian trail and the ambush or hear the savage yell and the terriffic war whoop. All is now peace and quiet. Those houses that you ree around you are the abodes of civilized and refined white folks. This spacious edifice that surrounds you, is not a wigwam; but a temple of law and justice. How change are all things! Under the spur of the schoolmaster, the very tail of civilization has adeed beyond what the front cars then was. Glorions freedom! Great and glorious country! Let me die in contemplation of thy sublime destiny, ex-claiming with my dying breath, thear the stars and

Before election it was pretended that Char tacitly assented to the Philadelphia nomination. . Ifter election it appears that in letters suppressed by partisans, he denominated it as "a disgrace to the country."

Before election it was proclaimed that Gen. Tayfor would not "lay the hand of proscription on political opponent." After election it is stated that he is "to open a new set of books" and "cleans the Augean Stables of offence."

EXTRAORDINARY ELOPEMENT .- The Cincinnati papers give an account of an extraordinary elopement, which has just transpired in that city. The Nonparcil says that a young lady living on Race, near Eight, St. and the family's conclinan, a young Irishman, are the parties. The lady is a daughter of the late Judge Miller. The Gazette adds:

"It appears that the young hoiress, who is in sure expecting of some hundred thousand, a few days sinco ordered her coachman, a respectable young Irishman, to "bring out" the carriage, as she was desirous of taking a little exercise. The young coachm in obeyed, and away they went. It is not known what direction was taken, but sure it is that on Wednsday last, the parties who as above described returned man and wife. Humphrys, was drowned in Brunswick on Saturday afternoon. He was shating on a pond with others, when the ice gave way and a lad fell in. While some one went for assistance, young Whitmore remained and assured his companion that he should not be drowned, and laid down on the ice to reach his hand, and save his young friend from sinking until help should come. The lad grasped his hand, and in his struggles, drew in his brave benefactor, to sink and die, while he contrived to keep above water, and was

It curres diseases without vointing, purging, sicacomy of the liating the patient GREAT FALL AND WINTER MEDICINE.

The great beauty and superiority of this Saranparilla over all other medicine is, while it eradicated diseases, it invigorates the body. It is one of the very low Fal and Winter medicines ever known; it not only purifies the whole system, strengthens the person, but it creates new, pure and rich blood; a power possessed by no other medicine. And in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success. It has performed within the past two years, more than 35,000 curves of severe cases of disease; at least 20,000 of these ware considered incurable.

And thousands of cases of diseases of the blood, viz. Utcers, Erysipelas; Salt Rheum, Fimples on the Face, &c., together with interiors cases of First Headache, Paint in the Side and Chest, Spinal Affections, &c., &c.
This, we are aware, must appear incredible, but we have letters from Physicians and our Agents from all parts of the United States, informing us of extraordinary cures. R. Van Buskirk, Esq., one of the most respectable Bruggists in Newark, N. J., informs us that he can refer to more than 150 cases in that place alone. There are thousands of cases in the City of New York, which we will refer to with pleasure and to men of character. It is the best medecine for the preventative of discase known. It undoubtedly saved the lives of more than RHEUMATISM.

This Sarsaparilla is used with the most perfect success in Rheumatic complaints, however severe or chronic. The astonishing cures it has performed are indeed wonderful. Other remediates sometimes give temporary relief, this entirely eradicates it, from the system even when the limbs are dreadfully swollen.

If Hear Mr. Seth Terry, one of the oldest and most respectable lawyers in Hartford, Conn. The following is an extract of a letter received from him:

Please send me two bottles to the care of Dr. Seymour. I have conversed with two of our principal physicians, and they recommend your Sarsaparilla.

My little girll who is three years old; had a very bad cough the whole of last Winter. While using the medicine I gave her some of it; and it soon entirely relieved her, as well as myself, and she is now well and hearty as any child I ever saw. She was also full of little blotches; it took them away and her skin is smooth and fair now; and I am satisfied she recovered her health from using your excellent medicine.

This period may be delayed several years by using this medicine. Nor is it less valuable for those approaching womanbood, as it is calculated to assist nature, by suickening the blood and invigorating the system, indeed this medicine is invaluable for all the diseases to which women are subject.
