MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

St. Louis, Missouri, February 22d, 1849.

DR. W. B. Sloan—sir: About two years ago, while rafting on the Mississippi river, in passing over the rapids, I was plunged in the water, and by the raft dashed against a rock, crusbing my leg and otherwise seriously injuring inc, so much that I lost all sensibility. When consciousness returned I found myself in R. Louis, surrounded by my weeping family. Good nursing and medical aid, enabled me in about two months to hobble around with the assistance of a crute. The wounds only partially healed leaving large cunning sores at the knee, which for many months discharged blood and matter of the most offensive character. My pains were inexpressable, at times my suffering was so great that death would have received a hearty welcome. Fortunately Mr. Wilson, (one of my neighbors) advised me to try your Ointment. I obtained a box and applied it according to direction—the sore soon began to assume a healthy appearance, and in three months I was entirely cured, and able to endure hard labor.

Your Obd't, Servant.

We the undersigned, neighbors of H. W. Thomas, were acquainted with the case above stated and knowing the circumstances, most cheerfully confirm said Thomas' statement.
